President Backs Stevens In His Row With M'Carthy

Chief Executive Believes In Army Chief's Integrity

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower today declared his confidence in the honesty and integrity of Secretary of the Army Stevens. He said he believes Stevens, and believes in him, in the secretary's blazing row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Sharply calling for an end to what he termed petty quarrels and hysterical reaction to such things as "unwise investigators," Eisenhower said it's possible Stevens may be mistaken or misinformed on some points.

But he asserted with vigor that if he didn't believe Stevens, the Army secretary wouldn't be where he is. He underlined it by saying he stands by Stevens so far as his integrity and honor are concerned.

McCarthy, off for Chicago for a speech, said only that forthcoming public hearings "will demonstrate who is telling the truth."

Ike Shows Irritation

Eisenhower, with red-faced irritation he made no apparent effort to conceal, made it plain he is sick and tired of controversies such as the one in which Stevens accused McCarthy of putting pressure on the Army and McCarthy accuses the Army of trying to "blackmail" him.

The trouble is, said Eisenhower, the world is suffering from "a multiplicity of fears"—of the men in the Kremlin and of "unwise investigators" here at home, among other things. What's needed, he snapped, is to stop the name-calling and get ahead with something that is good for the United States —with "a faith in the destiny of America."

The White House allowed part of the President's admonishment to be quoted directly.

Demos Wrong About Tax Plan

Turning up at his news conference in a top-o'-the-mornin' mood, sporting a green St. Patrick's Day tie, Eisenhower swiftly waxed emphatic and often indignant as he declared:

1. The Democrats are in error—he paused as if he'd rather use a stronger word — when they charge his tax program is loaded in favor of rich people. And he said the people who want to cut income taxes now are the same ones who wouldn't let him raise the national debt limit a few months back.

2. A president should be impeached or even hanged if he failed to take instant action to repel any aggression against the United States. It's up to Congress to declare war, Eisenhower said, but you can't wait for a declaration when an attack is imminent.

Inter-American Nations Ask End To Colonialism

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 17 (AP)—The 10th Inter-American Conference today overrode United States opposition and adopted a resolution calling for an end to enforced colonialism in the western hemisphere.

The vote in the Political-Juridical Committee was 19-0 with the United States abstaining.

The United States maintained the proper place for debate on the issue was the U.N. General Assembly, where her NATO partners, Britain, France and the Netherlands, would be present to defend their rights to the American colonies.

Sponsored By Argentina

The resolution, sponsored by Argentina which is trying to get the Falkland Islands away from Britain, originally called for an end to all colonialism.

At Uruguay's insistence, the resolution was modified to call for an end to colonialism in those lands where the people want the ruling power to get out.

The majority of delegates apparently agreed that the conference could not impose independence on any people who preferred to maintain their ties with another.

Guatemala, however, insisted there could not be any people who would not prefer independence.

Distinction Is Made

The Argentine resolution also distinguished between European colonies — such as the Netherlands West Indies, French Guiana and British Jamaica — and what it called European occupied territories.

It defined those occupied territories as places held by European powers but claimed by American states. Two of them are the Falkland Islands in the South Atlantic, now British but claimed by Argentina; British Honduras in Central America which is claimed by both Guatemala and Mexico.

Heads Smashed, Knives Flashed In Docker Fight

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—Rival longshoremen by the hundreds fought brief, bloody pitched battles today along the strikebound New York waterfront. Heads were smashed and knives flashed.

In Newark, N. J., 350 pickets massed beneath an American flag to do battle with non-strikers. Car windows were smashed in the melee.

At least five men were injured seriously enough to require treatment in Newark and New York. There were nine arrests.

Cops Break Up Battle

For the second day in a row, pickets of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind) fought rival non-striking AFL dockers trying to get onto Brooklyn docks to work. Police reserves and ambulances were rushed to the piers. It took cops about 10 minutes to break up the battle.

As tenseness mounted along 350 miles of piers in the world's greatest port, there was a renewed plea by shippers for an end to the 13-day strike. It is costing them about one million dollars a day.

The New York Shipping Assn. distributed handbills along the docks. They read in part:

"Nothing can be gained by staying off the job. The work stoppage has paralyzed the port. This is the time we must stand together shoulder to shoulder.

Ike Asked To Intervene

"We repeat our plea once more. Let's get back to work immediately."

The council of American Master Mariners — a handful of elder statesmen in the shipping business who hold master's licenses — wired President Eisenhower, asking his intervention to end the strike.

The council said "all marine cargo movements are stopped as effectively as if an enemy fleet were blockading the port."

Arab Gang Kills 11 Jews In Attack On Civilian Bus

TEL AVIV, Israel, March 17 (AP)—An Israeli spokesman said a gang of Arabs attacked a bus at Scorpion's Pass in the Negev desert today and massacred 11 Jews, including women and children. He said only four aboard survived.

The reported killings came in the wake of increasing Arab-Israeli tension. It was the worst incident of its kind since a raid by Israelis killed 53 Arabs in the Jordan village of Kibya last Oct. 14. Israel was formally censured in the United Nations for the violence.

An official Israeli spokesman declared the civilian bus was attacked by the Arabs while it was traveling from Elath, a seaport on the Gulf of Agaba to Beersheba. He said the attack occurred 60 miles north of Elath and gave these details:

The gang fired a burst from a submachine gun at the bus and killed its driver instantly. The bus plunged into a ditch. Then the Arabs boarded the bus and sprayed the riders with slugs from the submachine, killing 10 passengers.

Geneva Conference Plans Get Soviet OK

MOSCOW, March 17 (AP)—The Soviet government has agreed with Western proposals that the conference on Korea and Indochina should take place in the Palace of Nations in Geneva April 26, as planned, the news agency Tass said today.

The announcement came when U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen asked the Soviet Foreign Office for a reply to his suggestions on "housekeeping" arrangements for the conference.

The lengthy delay in answering had led U. S. Secretary of State Dulles to say in Washington that the conference might have to be postponed owing to what he called Soviet stalling tactics.

Taxpayer Sends Shirt To Tax Man

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) — L. A. Chamberlin, director of internal revenue for the Baltimore district, got a package in the mail with a note attached.

Said the note: "I have filed my return. I have paid my tax. You've got everything else, you might as well have this."

In the package was a shirt.

Comedy Of Errors

Bandits Get Lost In Huge Store, Give Up In Despair

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—Two bewildered young toy gun bandits held up Hearn's before it opened today, then got hopelessly lost in the block square department store. They finally surrendered in confused despair with $11,452 in loot.

It was a comedy of errors from start to finish. Alarm bells jangled when they shouldn't, cops popped up where they weren't expected, and the woebegone bandits turned blindly amid a sea of showcases like little boys in a carnival maze of mirrors.

The pair overlooked $19,000 in cash. And they forgot how to reach the service entrance where they had come in—the only unlocked door in the Bronx department store at that time in the morning.

In the end the two bandits wandered forlornly along a main aisle until they were spotted by special policeman Edward Willett, who shouted at them:

"You better give yourselves up. You can't get out of here."

"Okay," replied the completely flustered holdup men.

They identified themselves as Jerry Feller, 21, and William Filner, 19, both of the Bronx.

Police Sgt. John Jennings recalled from his days as a cop in a beat that the pair used to pal around with Murray Schuster, 20, a rookie guard at Hearn's. Schuster was arrested.

The bandits' chore was made no easier by a clumsy cleaning woman, who accidentaly touched off a burglar alarm minutes before the holdup. The false alarm brought Willett to the store in time to join in the capture.

Demo Tax-Cut Drive Is Seen Losing Steam

House Republican Leaders See Defeat Of Proposal Today

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Republicans appeared to be gaining ground steadily late today in a House floor battle against a Democratic drive to give everybody a new income tax cut.

After five hours of bitter partisan debate, GOP leaders expressed strong and growing optimism that a showdown vote tomorrow would defeat a Democratic proposal to increase individual income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent by $100.

Several Democratic leaders, who earlier had predicted victory for their side, conceded privately that the odds appeared to be against them now in the critical tax fight of this congressional election year.

Opposition To Move Grows

Republican leaders said a half dozen or more GOP lawmakers heretofore considered "doubtful" on the issue had swung over today in opposition to the exemption increase, which is strongly opposed by President Eisenhower.

They predicted that 10 or fewer of the House's 219 Republicans would join the Democrats.

One top Democratic leader said it looked as if 15 or more of the House's 215 Democrats would break ranks on the issue. Another Democratic count showed 13 Democrats opposing the exemption increase.

Untruths Are Charged

The long debate—to be renewed tomorrow — was studded with charges by each side that the other was dealing in untruths and misleading statistics.

Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the Ways and Means Committee said Democrats were using "dangerously misleading" figures to support their contention that corporations and wealthy individuals would benefit most from the general tax revision bill.

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) echoed that such Democratic claims "simply are not true."

Girl Aids Man's Fight To Escape Firing Squad

SALT LAKE CITY, March 17 (AP) — An attractive 22-year-old blonde met today — with a prison screen between them — the man she hopes to save from a Utah firing squad.

Constance Keehn came here from her home at Sherman Oaks, Calif., to aid the legal fight Don Jesse Neal is making to overturn his conviction of first degree murder. The Utah Supreme Court has upheld the death sentence but his attorneys are appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Neal, 24, was convicted of killing police Sgt. Owen T. Farley here on May 23, 1951. Miss Keehn said she became interested in the case after reading a newspaper classified advertisement in Los Angeles, in which Neal asked for help in escaping the firing squad. She said her interest is "to see justice is done." She said she has raised several hundred dollars to finance Neal's appeal and has received letters offering "new facts" in the case.

Warden Marcell Graham called the girl's trip here a "publicity stunt."

Neal and the girl talked for 30 minutes in the visitors' room at the Utah prison.

Afterward Miss Keehn said Neal looked "just like I expected." The two had exchanged pictures but had not met previously.

Neal said last week the California girl "says she loves me" but Miss Keehn said after arriving here there was no romance connected with her visit.

Stronger Check Asked

DAMASCUS, Syria, March 17 (AP)—Syria asked the United Nations truce team yesterday to strengthen its organization checking on the troublesome Syrian-Israeli border.

Defense Minister Maarourf Dawalbi told the truce team's chief, Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, that weakness in the checking "indirectly encouraged Jewish aggressiveness."

Family Held Prisoner By Gunmen

Mrs. Isabel King, a bank clerk, and her husband, Reginald (right), 47, and son, Robert, 16, were subjected to a frightful night by two sleepless gunmen who obtained a bank key from Mrs. King and robbed the Durham Trust Co., Durham, N. H., of $34,377 yesterday. The gunmen bound and gagged the trio and kept them under guard in their home until shortly before 8 a. m. They gained entrance to the bank with the key and pounced on bank treasurer John Skelton who they forced at gunpoint to open two vaults.

French Victory Seen In Struggle To Hold Fortress

HANOI, Indochina, March 17 (AP)—The French slashed the attackers of Dien Bien Phu today with murderous artillery and air assault renewed under sunny skies. A big victory over the Communist-led rebels appeared shaping up in the fierce struggle for the French fortress in northwest Indochina.

It was still too early to say that victory had been won. But French army sources estimated that 12,000 Vietminh—the strength of an entire division—had been put out of action thus far in five days of battle.

36,000 Reds Ring Fortress

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the Vietminh commander-in-chief, still has an estimated 36,000 men in the hills around Dien Bien Phu. The question was whether he would send all of his forces into one gigantic attempt to smash the defenses of the French fortress.

Late today the Vietminh was bombarding French positions in the fortress with 75 and 105 millimeter guns from hill emplacements five to six miles away, possibly presaging a mass infantry attack.

The French replied with a powerful counterbarrage from American supplied 105 millimeter guns and full scale air assault.

French Planes Busy

Taking advantage of clearing skies, French fighters and bombers ranged over the hills and plains around Dien Bien Phu, hammering Viteminh gun positions and masses of rebel troops. The planes smashed also at long lines of coolies, trucks and other vehicles bringing up war supplies to the Vietminh. Poor weather had hampered the air arm yesterday, but did not prevent the parachute drop of additional troop reinforcements.

NLRB Rules Against "Hit-And-Run" Strikes

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled 3 to 1 today that "hit-and-run" strikes — a series of quick, intermittent walk-outs—go beyond the pale of proper strike activities.

This means that workers engaging in such strikes can be fired. Other workers observing picket lines put out by the strikers can also be discharged.

Strikes ordinarily are regarded under the Taft-Hartley Act as "protected concerted activity" of employes. Workers engaging in them cannot be discharged.

New Trial Hearing Set In Regina Murder Case

CAMBRIDGE, Md., March 17 (AP)—A hearing on a motion for a new trial in the Russell Regina murder case has been set for April 7 at Snow Hill, it was announced today by Calvin L. Brinsfield, state's attorney for Worcester County.

Regina was convicted Nov. 21, 1953, of the murder of Daniel H. Bier, Cambridge police officer, on May 3, 1953, at Regina's home. The jury asked that capital punishment be set aside.

Awesome Power Of New H-Bomb Blast Described

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Shattering power hundreds of times greater than any previous man-made explosion was unleashed when the United States set off its H-bomb No. 2.

That detonation in the mid-Pacific proving grounds two weeks ago also:

1. Left scientific measuring instruments unable to record the full effects of the unpredicted force.

2. Apparently pushed radioactive debris and moisture out beyond the safety zone boundary of the test area.

This information came today from a variety of sources—including direct statements by congressional committee members and comments by other well qualified sources who could not be named.

Of high significance was the fact that all described the March 1 explosion as that of an actual weapon, capable of being dropped on an enemy.

Rep. Durham (D-NC), ranking Democrat on the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, told reporters, conservatively, that the explosion was many times greater than the other thermonuclear blast detonated at the Pacific proving grounds in November, 1952.

Another equally informed source said it was three or four times mightier than the atomic weaponeers conducting the test had expected; at least 600 times more powerful that the wartime nuclear fission bomb dropped on Hiroshima—which released energy equivalent to 20,000 tons of tnt.

Some estimates, still to be evaluated on the basis of whatever scientific recordings could be made, ran the power of the March 1 shot to a thousand times or more that of the 1952 test of a hydrogen gadget.

Out of the welter of preliminary estimates and guesses, there emerged one certain fact:

President Eisenhower made an understatement when he said last Feb. 17 that the thermoculear weapon "dwarfs in destructive power all atomic weapons."

Irishman Is 100 On St. Pat's Day

LOCUST VALLEY, N. Y., March 17 (AP)—If there's anything greater than being an Irishman on St. Patrick's Day, it surely must be the glorious good fortune of an Irishman whose birthday is today.

Such a man is Patrick Burke, whose good luck is even greater—he is celebrating his 100th St. Patrick's Day.

Burke is a retired railroad brakeman who came from County Cork.

He delights in his 28 grandchildren, 28 great grandchildren, gardening, walking, talking baseball and a "wee drap" now and then. He dislikes tobacco and TV.

Fugitive's Stay Short On 'Most Wanted' List

MORGAN CITY, La., March 17 (INS)—James William Lofton, 43, was captured late today, less than 24 hours after he had been placed on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "ten most wanted" fugitives list.

Federal agents and Morgan City police arrested Lofton as he prepared to leave work at a small crushing mill where he had been employed the past several months under the name of "Fred Moore."

Lofton participated in a mass escape of 11 prisoners from the Atmore state prison farm at Atmore, Ala., on Aug. 27, 1952. He had been sought for unlawful flight to avoid confinement for robbery.

Price Not Disclosed

Washington Times-Herald Sold, Combined With Post

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The Washington Post purchased the Times-Herald from Col. Robert R. McCormick for an undisclosed sum today and the first edition of the combined newspapers hit the streets of the capital this afternoon.

The new "Washington Post and Times-Herald" will carry most of the features of both publications, it was announced by Eugene Meyer, chairman of the board of the Post, and Philip L. Graham, president and publisher.

Although announcements of the sale did not mention the purchase price, Mrs. Garvin E. Tankersley, a member of the Times-Herald board, said it was announced at a board meeting Monday that an offer of 8½ million dollars had been made.

The Chicago Tribune, of which Col. McCormick is editor and publisher, bought the Times-Herald for 4½ million in 1949.

McCormick became its editor and publisher and put out what the Times-Herald masthead described as "an independent Republican journal."

The Post, which celebrated its 75th anniversary last year, describes itself "an independent newspaper" — and this label was retained in the first edition of the combined papers.

On political questions, the editorial policies of the two papers often have been at variance.

A boxed statement by Meyer and Graham on page one of the first edition said in part:

"The conclusion of these negotiations presents this newspaper with its greatest opportunity for public service to this community."

Wis. Senator Defends His Probe Tactics

Reports Communists Working For Fights Between Himself, Ike

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said tonight he didn't give "a tinker's dam how high or how low people in the Republican or Democratic parties are who are unhappy" about the methods he has used in what he called his fight to root out Communists and traitors.

Both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon, without mentioning McCarthy directly, have recently called for fairer procedures in the work of congressional investigating committees, saying that the fight against communism would be harmed by improper tactics.

McCarthy flung down his challenge in a fighting speech before a gathering of some 1,200 members of the Chicago Irish Fellowship Club celebrating St. Patrick's Day.

Refers To Fight With Stevens

Referring to his fight with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, McCarthy said, "I didn't start the fight but I think maybe I'll have to finish it."

The Senate Investigations subcommittee which McCarthy heads already has ordered a full public probe into charges and countercharges hurled by McCarthy and top Army officials.

An Army report last week charged that McCarthy and Roy Cohn, chief counsel of his subcommittee, had tried to pressure the Army into giving favored treatment to G. David Schine, a former staff aide who was drafted as a private last fall.

McCarthy, in denying the charge, accused Stevens and other Army officials of attempting to "blackmail" him into giving up his probe into what he has called Army "coddling' ' of Communists.

In his speech, broadcast over the national MBS radio network, McCarthy also contended that the Communist party is trying to promote fights between Eisenhower and himself, with the objective of destroying them both.

He said that a report made at a secret convention of the Communist party last fall instructed Reds to pursue these tactics.

"Fantastic" Army Charge

In turning to his controversy with Stevens, McCarthy recalled that he had made public memoranda from his files which quoted the Army secretary as suggesting the subcommittee lay off the Army and go after the Air Force and the Navy instead.

McCarthy said he did not make public these and other memoranda until the Army had made "their fantastic charges public against the subcommittee's chief counsel."

McCarthy also reviewed the case of Maj. Irving Peress, whom he has described as a "Fifth Amendment Communist." Peress, a dentist, was promoted and given an honorable discharge, McCarthy said, even after the Army knew he had refused to fill out loyalty forms.

He said it was out of this "ridiculous" case that the whole fight between the Army and his subcommittee developed.

Mitchell Says McCarthy Runs 'Hate Campaign'

TROY, N. Y., March 17 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell tonight accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his supporters of running a "hate campaign" designed to "convert the fear and hatred that Americans feel for communism into fear and hatred of other Americans."

In a speech prepared for delivery before a St. Patrick's Day dinner here, Mitchell said one of the results was a "revival of religious prejudice" against the Catholic Church.

Mitchell said that "a group of political extremists" was deliberately over-emphasizing the internal Communist menace, to their political and business advantage.

"What these extremists are trying to do," he declared, "is to convert the fear and hatred that Americans feel for communism into a fear and hatred of other Americans."

He spoke at a dinner meeting of the Society of the Friends of St. Patrick.

"You better give yourselves up. You can't get out of here."

"Okay," replied the completely flustered holdup men.

They identified themselves as Jerry Feller, 21, and William Filner, 19, both of the Bronx.

Police Sgt. John Jennings recalled from his days as a cop in a beat that the pair used to pal around with Murray Schuster, 20, a rookie guard at Hearn's. Schuster was arrested.

The bandits' chore was made no easier by a clumsy cleaning woman, who accidentaly touched off a burglar alarm minutes before the holdup. The false alarm brought Willett to the store in time to join in the capture.

Demo Tax-Cut Drive Is Seen Losing Steam

House Republican Leaders See Defeat Of Proposal Today

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Republicans appeared to be gaining ground steadily late today in a House floor battle against a Democratic drive to give everybody a new income tax cut.

After five hours of bitter partisan debate, GOP leaders expressed strong and growing optimism that a showdown vote tomorrow would defeat a Democratic proposal to increase individual income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent by $100.

Several Democratic leaders, who earlier had predicted victory for their side, conceded privately that the odds appeared to be against them now in the critical tax fight of this congressional election year.

Opposition To Move Grows

Republican leaders said a half dozen or more GOP lawmakers heretofore considered "doubtful" on the issue had swung over today in opposition to the exemption increase, which is strongly opposed by President Eisenhower.

They predicted that 10 or fewer of the House's 219 Republicans would join the Democrats.

One top Democratic leader said it looked as if 15 or more of the House's 215 Democrats would break ranks on the issue. Another Democratic count showed 13 Democrats opposing the exemption increase.

Untruths Are Charged

The long debate—to be renewed tomorrow — was studded with charges by each side that the other was dealing in untruths and misleading statistics.

Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the Ways and Means Committee said Democrats were using "dangerously misleading" figures to support their contention that corporations and wealthy individuals would benefit most from the general tax revision bill.

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) echoed that such Democratic claims "simply are not true."

Girl Aids Man's Fight To Escape Firing Squad

SALT LAKE CITY, March 17 (AP) — An attractive 22-year-old blonde met today — with a prison screen between them — the man she hopes to save from a Utah firing squad.

Constance Keehn came here from her home at Sherman Oaks, Calif., to aid the legal fight Don Jesse Neal is making to overturn his conviction of first degree murder. The Utah Supreme Court has upheld the death sentence but his attorneys are appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Neal, 24, was convicted of killing police Sgt. Owen T. Farley here on May 23, 1951. Miss Keehn said she became interested in the case after reading a newspaper classified advertisement in Los Angeles, in which Neal asked for help in escaping the firing squad. She said her interest is "to see justice is done." She said she has raised several hundred dollars to finance Neal's appeal and has received letters offering "new facts" in the case.

Warden Marcell Graham called the girl's trip here a "publicity stunt."

Neal and the girl talked for 30 minutes in the visitors' room at the Utah prison.

Afterward Miss Keehn said Neal looked "just like I expected." The two had exchanged pictures but had not met previously.

Neal said last week the California girl "says she loves me" but Miss Keehn said after arriving here there was no romance connected with her visit.

Stronger Check Asked

DAMASCUS, Syria, March 17 (AP)—Syria asked the United Nations truce team yesterday to strengthen its organization checking on the troublesome Syrian-Israeli border.

Defense Minister Maarourf Dawalbi told the truce team's chief, Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, that weakness in the checking "indirectly encouraged Jewish aggressiveness."

Family Held Prisoner By Gunmen

Mrs. Isabel King, a bank clerk, and her husband, Reginald (right), 47, and son, Robert, 16, were subjected to a frightful night by two sleepless gunmen who obtained a bank key from Mrs. King and robbed the Durham Trust Co., Durham, N. H., of $34,377 yesterday. The gunmen bound and gagged the trio and kept them under guard in their home until shortly before 8 a. m. They gained entrance to the bank with the key and pounced on bank treasurer John Skelton who they forced at gunpoint to open two vaults.

French Victory Seen In Struggle To Hold Fortress

HANOI, Indochina, March 17 (AP)—The French slashed the attackers of Dien Bien Phu today with murderous artillery and air assault renewed under sunny skies. A big victory over the Communist-led rebels appeared shaping up in the fierce struggle for the French fortress in northwest Indochina.

It was still too early to say that victory had been won. But French army sources estimated that 12,000 Vietminh—the strength of an entire division—had been put out of action thus far in five days of battle.

36,000 Reds Ring Fortress

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the Vietminh commander-in-chief, still has an estimated 36,000 men in the hills around Dien Bien Phu. The question was whether he would send all of his forces into one gigantic attempt to smash the defenses of the French fortress.

Late today the Vietminh was bombarding French positions in the fortress with 75 and 105 millimeter guns from hill emplacements five to six miles away, possibly presaging a mass infantry attack.

The French replied with a powerful counterbarrage from American supplied 105 millimeter guns and full scale air assault.

French Planes Busy

Taking advantage of clearing skies, French fighters and bombers ranged over the hills and plains around Dien Bien Phu, hammering Viteminh gun positions and masses of rebel troops. The planes smashed also at long lines of coolies, trucks and other vehicles bringing up war supplies to the Vietminh. Poor weather had hampered the air arm yesterday, but did not prevent the parachute drop of additional troop reinforcements.

NLRB Rules Against "Hit-And-Run" Strikes

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled 3 to 1 today that "hit-and-run" strikes — a series of quick, intermittent walk-outs—go beyond the pale of proper strike activities.

This means that workers engaging in such strikes can be fired. Other workers observing picket lines put out by the strikers can also be discharged.

Strikes ordinarily are regarded under the Taft-Hartley Act as "protected concerted activity" of employes. Workers engaging in them cannot be discharged.

New Trial Hearing Set In Regina Murder Case

CAMBRIDGE, Md., March 17 (AP)—A hearing on a motion for a new trial in the Russell Regina murder case has been set for April 7 at Snow Hill, it was announced today by Calvin L. Brinsfield, state's attorney for Worcester County.

Regina was convicted Nov. 21, 1953, of the murder of Daniel H. Bier, Cambridge police officer, on May 3, 1953, at Regina's home. The jury asked that capital punishment be set aside.

Awesome Power Of New H-Bomb Blast Described

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Shattering power hundreds of times greater than any previous man-made explosion was unleashed when the United States set off its H-bomb No. 2.

That detonation in the mid-Pacific proving grounds two weeks ago also:

1. Left scientific measuring instruments unable to record the full effects of the unpredicted force.

2. Apparently pushed radioactive debris and moisture out beyond the safety zone boundary of the test area.

This information came today from a variety of sources—including direct statements by congressional committee members and comments by other well qualified sources who could not be named.

Of high significance was the fact that all described the March 1 explosion as that of an actual weapon, capable of being dropped on an enemy.

Rep. Durham (D-NC), ranking Democrat on the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, told reporters, conservatively, that the explosion was many times greater than the other thermonuclear blast detonated at the Pacific proving grounds in November, 1952.

Another equally informed source said it was three or four times mightier than the atomic weaponeers conducting the test had expected; at least 600 times more powerful that the wartime nuclear fission bomb dropped on Hiroshima—which released energy equivalent to 20,000 tons of tnt.

Some estimates, still to be evaluated on the basis of whatever scientific recordings could be made, ran the power of the March 1 shot to a thousand times or more that of the 1952 test of a hydrogen gadget.

Out of the welter of preliminary estimates and guesses, there emerged one certain fact:

President Eisenhower made an understatement when he said last Feb. 17 that the thermoculear weapon "dwarfs in destructive power all atomic weapons."

Irishman Is 100 On St. Pat's Day

LOCUST VALLEY, N. Y., March 17 (AP)—If there's anything greater than being an Irishman on St. Patrick's Day, it surely must be the glorious good fortune of an Irishman whose birthday is today.

Such a man is Patrick Burke, whose good luck is even greater—he is celebrating his 100th St. Patrick's Day.

Burke is a retired railroad brakeman who came from County Cork.

He delights in his 28 grandchildren, 28 great grandchildren, gardening, walking, talking baseball and a "wee drap" now and then. He dislikes tobacco and TV.

Fugitive's Stay Short On 'Most Wanted' List

MORGAN CITY, La., March 17 (INS)—James William Lofton, 43, was captured late today, less than 24 hours after he had been placed on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "ten most wanted" fugitives list.

Federal agents and Morgan City police arrested Lofton as he prepared to leave work at a small crushing mill where he had been employed the past several months under the name of "Fred Moore."

Lofton participated in a mass escape of 11 prisoners from the Atmore state prison farm at Atmore, Ala., on Aug. 27, 1952. He had been sought for unlawful flight to avoid confinement for robbery.

Price Not Disclosed

Washington Times-Herald Sold, Combined With Post

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The Washington Post purchased the Times-Herald from Col. Robert R. McCormick for an undisclosed sum today and the first edition of the combined newspapers hit the streets of the capital this afternoon.

The new "Washington Post and Times-Herald" will carry most of the features of both publications, it was announced by Eugene Meyer, chairman of the board of the Post, and Philip L. Graham, president and publisher.

Although announcements of the sale did not mention the purchase price, Mrs. Garvin E. Tankersley, a member of the Times-Herald board, said it was announced at a board meeting Monday that an offer of 8½ million dollars had been made.

The Chicago Tribune, of which Col. McCormick is editor and publisher, bought the Times-Herald for 4½ million in 1949.

McCormick became its editor and publisher and put out what the Times-Herald masthead described as "an independent Republican journal."

The Post, which celebrated its 75th anniversary last year, describes itself "an independent newspaper" — and this label was retained in the first edition of the combined papers.

On political questions, the editorial policies of the two papers often have been at variance.

A boxed statement by Meyer and Graham on page one of the first edition said in part:

"The conclusion of these negotiations presents this newspaper with its greatest opportunity for public service to this community,'

Wis. Senator Defends His Probe Tactics

Reports Communists Working For Fights Between Himself, Ike

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said tonight he didn't give "a tinker's dam how high or how low people in the Republican or Democratic parties are who are unhappy" about the methods he has used in what he called his fight to root out Communists and traitors.

Both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon, without mentioning McCarthy directly, have recently called for fairer procedures in the work of congressional investigating committees, saying that the fight against communism would be harmed by improper tactics.

McCarthy flung down his challenge in a fighting speech before a gathering of some 1,200 members of the Chicago Irish Fellowship Club celebrating St. Patrick's Day.

Refers To Fight With Stevens

Referring to his fight with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, McCarthy said, "I didn't start the fight but I think maybe I'll have to finish it."

The Senate Investigations subcommittee which McCarthy heads already has ordered a full public probe into charges and countercharges hurled by McCarthy and top Army officials.

An Army report last week charged that McCarthy and Roy Cohn, chief counsel of his subcommittee, had tried to pressure the Army into giving favored treatment to G. David Schine, a former staff aide who was drafted as a private last fall.

McCarthy, in denying the charge, accused Stevens and other Army officials of attempting to "blackmail" him into giving up his probe into what he has called Army "coddling' ' of Communists.

In his speech, broadcast over the national MBS radio network, McCarthy also contended that the Communist party is trying to promote fights between Eisenhower and himself, with the objective of destroying them both.

He said that a report made at a secret convention of the Communist party last fall instructed Reds to pursue these tactics.

"Fantastic" Army Charge

In turning to his controversy with Stevens, McCarthy recalled that he had made public memoranda from his files which quoted the Army secretary as suggesting the subcommittee lay off the Army and go after the Air Force and the Navy instead.

McCarthy said he did not make public these and other memoranda until the Army had made "their fantastic charges public against the subcommittee's chief counsel."

McCarthy also reviewed the case of Maj. Irving Peress, whom he has described as a "Fifth Amendment Communist." Peress, a dentist, was promoted and given an honorable discharge, McCarthy said, even after the Army knew he had refused to fill out loyalty forms.

He said it was out of this "ridiculous" case that the whole fight between the Army and his subcommittee developed.

Mitchell Says McCarthy Runs 'Hate Campaign'

TROY, N. Y., March 17 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell tonight accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his supporters of running a "hate campaign" designed to "convert the fear and hatred that Americans feel for communism into fear and hatred of other Americans."

In a speech prepared for delivery before a St. Patrick's Day dinner here, Mitchell said one of the results was a "revival of religious prejudice" against the Catholic Church.

Mitchell said that "a group of political extremists" was deliberately over-emphasizing the internal Communist menace, to their political and business advantage.

"What these extremists are trying to do," he declared, "is to convert the fear and hatred that Americans feel for communism into a fear and hatred of other Americans."

He spoke at a dinner meeting of the Society of the Friends of St. Patrick.

Ike Says President Who Doesn't Act If U.S. Attacked Should Be Hanged

Takes Position He Can Order Troops To Meet Assault

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that hanging ought to be the fate of any president who failed to act instantly to protect the American people against a sudden attack in this atomic age.

The chief executive thus took the position that he can send American forces into action in defense of the United States without waiting for Congress to act.

He told his news conference that any president who delayed in case an aggressor should strike should be more than impeached—he should be hanged.

In a fast moving, and not always precise, discussion of the "new look" military strategy and the President's power to strike back at aggression, Eisenhower made these main points:

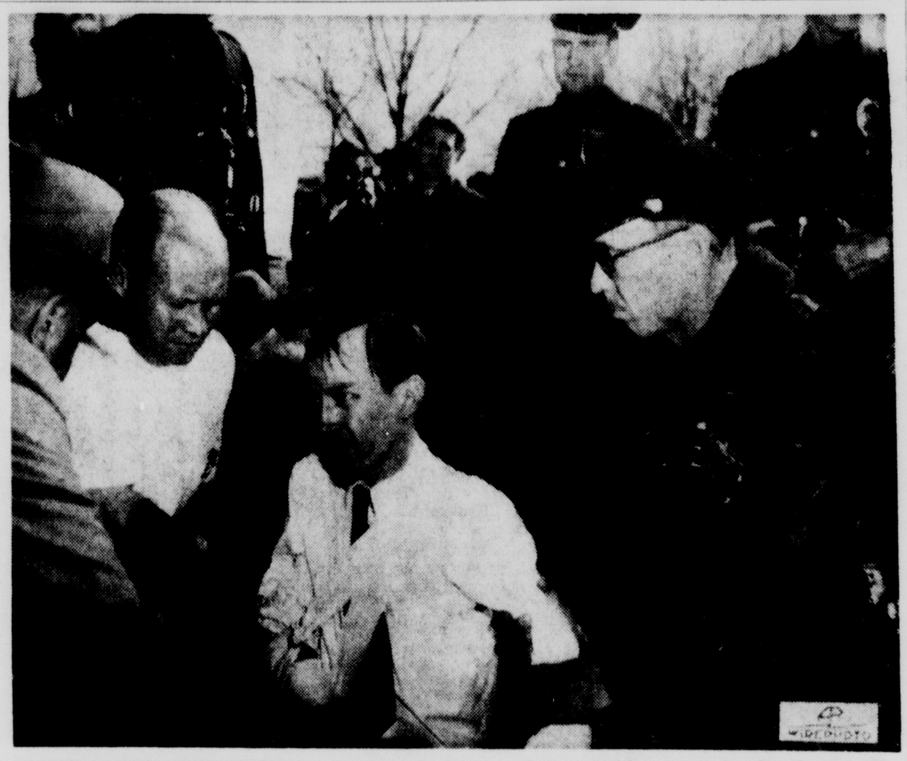
1. He agrees with Secretary of State Dulles on the strategy of massive retaliation against aggression. He implied agreement with Dulles' view that the President can strike back not only against an attack on the United States, but also against an assault on any one of 33 Allied countries in Europe, the Middle East or the Americas.

2. There is actually nothing revolutionary or even new in the new look defense policies. They are an attempt by intelligent people to keep abreast of the times, he said.

3. There is a great difference between a declaration of war—which only Congress can make—and an act of war such as the President might order to meet a Pearl Harbor type aggression. He said that no President can carry on war without Congress, which must appropriate money and enact necessary legislation. But no President faced with another Pearl Habor could fail to exercise what Eisenhower called the obvious right of self protection.

4. A rule of reason ought to apply. The conduct of a complete war involves a great many things but Eisenhower distinguished between this kind of problem and the problems of initial defensive action. And he warned against hysteria about what the Russians might do.

5. No war ever turns out to be exactly what it was expected to be and great flexibility is required in dealing with it. Eisenhower said he was certain that Dulles, in recent public comments on the strategy of massive retaliation, had not sought to say precisely how any particular aggression would be dealt with but had tried to express a generalization.



TRADES SHOTS WITH POLICE — A man identified as Robert Smith (center, bandaged arm), 25, Casper, Wyo., exchanged shots with police yesterday in the Civic Center near the Colorado statehouse in Denver, and was wounded in the arm by a police bullet. Officers said the man began shooting at them after they caught him firing at light globes.

Knight Insists He Is Innocent

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) — Henry Lloyd Knight, 48-year-old Washington attorney and exporter of airplane parts, was on the witness stand all day today, insisting steadfastly he did not know some parts he shipped to France were to go through the Iron Curtain to Poland.

It was the seventh day of his trial on charges of conspiracy to violate the U. S. Neutrality Law in the latter half of 1949. His firm, Air Union, Inc., of Bethesda, Md., is co-defendant.

Most of the day Knight was under searching cross-exmination by the government and at one point federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut put in this question:

"On the basis of your own investigation into this matter, who did you conclude was responsible for re-shipment of the material from France to Poland—De Bourbon or Balkany or both?

"De Bourbon and another party," Knight said.

Philippe Louis Marine Charles de Bourbon, native of White Plains, N. Y., Royal Canadian Air Force flier in World War II, and now a businessman in Montevideo, Uruguay, was Knight's sales agent in Paris during 1949. De Bourbon has been the main government witness against Knight.

Knight did not name the other party.

'Magistrate Erin' Frees Irishmen

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) — Run-of-the-mill drunkenness or disorderly conduct cases involving Irishmen were dismissed in Magistrate Howard L. Aaron's court today.

The policy was set forth in a ruling issued under a name he adopted just for this day—"Magistrate Erin."

"If an Irishman can't get drunk on St. Patrick's Day," challenged the magistrate, "what can he do?"

Bandits Hold Family Prisoner, Rob Bank

DURHAM, N. H., March 17 (AP)—Two sleepless gunmen, who subjected a woman bank clerk and her family to a frightful night in obtaining a bank key, robbed the Durham Trust Co. of $34,377 today.

The bandits set the first act of their scheme by binding and gagging Isabel King, a bank clerk; her husband, Reginald, and their son, Robert, 16, in their home. They got the key from Mrs. King and then waited in the house until shortly before 8 a.m.

Gaining entrance to the bank with the key, they pounced on bank Treasurer John Skelton, 36, when he opened the front door shortly afterward.

With a pistol at his head, Skelton was forced to open two vaults. The gunmen scooped up the money, tied Skelton with clothesline, gagged him with sheeting and fled by a rear door.

Demos Question TV 'Impartiality'

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee today questioned the "fairness and impartiality" of the television industry "in its treatment of the two major political parties."

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said in a statement the TV networks provided a "virtual dimout" of last night's Democratic reply to President Eisenhower's tax speech Monday night.

Mitchell said all four TV networks carried the Eisenhower speech defending the administration's tax program and his "partisan attacks on the Democratic position" as a live telecast Monday night. He added Eisenhower was heard over an estimated hundred odd TV stations.

"In contrast," Mitchell said, "only the Dumont network carried the Democratic broadcast by House leader Rayburn, Sen. George and Rep. Cooper as a live telecast the following night. Only five stations accepted the Dumont program.

"The only other television time given to the Democratic party was provided by NBC, which carried a delayed kinescope of the program but only over its New York and Washington stations.

"Thus the Democratic story was heard over seven stations in five cities as against the hundred odd stations in scores of cities which carried the political talk by Mr. Eisenhower."

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 17 (AP)—The sealing vessel Newfoundlander sank today without loss of life beneath crushing ice in 100 fathoms of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Industry Outlay Will Be Slightly Less This Year

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Businessmen expect to spend about 4 per cent less for new plants and equipment this year than their record outlays of 1953, and producers expect their 1954 sales as a whole to come close to last year's, the Commerce Department said today.

The predicted fall in business spending for plant and equipment would be the first such downturn since 1949. It would clip a little over one billion dollars from last year's outlay, but would leave the total at the near-record level of $27,230,000,000.

The Commerce Department report gave no detailed figures on sales expectations, but said heads of business production enterprises made estimates of their 1954 sales including the following:

Manufacturers foresaw a sales dip of about 3 per cent during the year. Utilities expect their sales revenues to increase about 10 per cent.

Every major durable goods manufacturing industry expects its 1954 sales to decline from 1953. Altogether, durable goods producers foresaw a sales decline of about 8 per cent during the year.

The railways reported the heaviest expected cut in business investment, a reduction of 28 per cent, from $1,312,000,000 to $940,000,000.

Manufacturing, the biggest business group, said it expected outlays for new plant and equipment to go down this year by 7 per cent, from $12,276,000,000 to $11,410,000,000.

The mining industry said it expected to increase capital outlays this year by 3 per cent, from $1,011,000000 ,to $1,040,000,000.

M'Carthy To 'Sit Out' Ill. Primary Campaign

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he would take no part in the Illinois primary election campaign.

Asked at a news conference if he would speak in the home district of Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill), who is seeking renomination, McCarthy replied: "No." Velde is chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"I am sure that Velde won't ask me to help him in the primary," McCarthy said. "He knows—as does almost everyone else—that I don't take an active part in primary fights outside of Wisconsin."

Lewis Faces New Charges

LEONARDTOWN, Md., March 17 (AP)—A St. Mary's County grand jury today returned two new indictments against radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. charging perjury and criminal libel.

A previous grand jury had indicted Lewis on two counts of criminal libel against St. Mary's County officials.

CLOSE TRIM AGAIN — Young William Bernard Beam, Jr., is only 3½ months old but is back in the barber chair at Portland, Ore., for his fifth haircut. Barber Carl Josal, doing the job, said little William thinks it's fun. Hair makes him look older. His mother said he had the first trim at one month.

New York's Irish, 125,000 Strong, March In Parade

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—A breeze as saucy as a colleen's wink. A sun as bright as a wee one's smile. A sky as blue as Galway's waters.

All these—and laughter, too—blessed New York's Irish today as they marched 125,000 strong up Fifth Ave. in their traditional St. Patrick's Day parade.

Police, a bit on the exuberant side, perhaps, estimated that 2½ million persons jammed the great man-made canyon to look, applaud and marvel. And, in truth, the crowd did seem greater and gayer than ever before.

The parade began at 44th St. at 12:07 p.m. It took the average marcher one hour and three minutes to follow a green center line along the avenue to 96th St. where the parade ended.

For the first time since Jimmy Walker 22 years ago, the mayor of New York led the parade. He is Robert F. Wagner, a McTague on his mother's side.

"The luck of the Irish is with us—we have a wonderful day," he exulted as he took off in measured stride, his top hat planted firmly against the prankish breeze. "I feel like I'm back in the Army."

Francis Cardinal Spellman and high Roman Catholic dignitaries, their clerical robes billowing in the breeze, reviewed the parade from the wide steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral at 51st St.

Young Fires Back At President Of AAR

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP) — Robert R. Young, financier who is seeking control of the New York Central Railroad, today issued a long and angry reply to a statement by William T. Faricy yesterday that Young is "not a railroad man" but "just a stock market operator."

Faricy, who predicted Young's defeat, is president of the Association of American Railroads. While board chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, Young withdrew his road from the A. A. R. and set up the rival Federation for Railroad Progress.

Young said today that had he been "a Faricy type 'railroad man'" he would not have withdrawn the C&O from the A. A. R. in 1946 "when we became thoroughly sickened with the organization's destructive stand on important issues."

Humphrey Urges Senate To Defeat Excise Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Talking of "financial suicide" as the alternative, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey urged the Senate today to wipe out cuts in excise taxes already voted by the House.

"We have to have the money to pay our bills," he told the Senate Finance Committee.

The House-approved measure, on which the Senate group will start work tomorrow, would reduce revenues an estimated 912 million dollars a year by cutting to 10 per cent the excise tax rates on everything except liquor and tobacco. Some rates now range up to 25 per cent.

The bill also would continue at their present rates the levies on liquor, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles and some other items raised after the start of the Korean War. Unless Congress acts, these levies will automatically be reduced more than a billion dollars April 1.

Humphrey said he would not object to cuts for distressed industries, and named motion pictures and furs as two that might be worthy of consideration. But he said if those two are cut, Congress should find some alternative source of revenue. Excises on furs and movie admissions would be reduced from 20 to 10 per cent under the house bill.

Kidnaped Bolivian Child Found Unharmed

LA PAZ, Bolivia, March 17 (AP)—Arturo Taus, 2, sought for three weeks as a kidnap victim, was found unharmed last night in a residential section of La Paz. He apparently had been abandoned by the kidnapers.

The lad was spotted crouching in a doorway by a tailor and his wife who were returning home from a movie. The couple stands to collect rewards totaling 1,900,000 bolivianos ($10,070) offered for Arturo's safe return.

The boy's father, Felix Taus, was jailed by police recently after authorities said they suspected the kidnaping was an attempt on his part to gain the custody of the child from the mother. Taus, a merchant, and his wife are separated.

Mathieson Strike Ends At Morgantown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17 (AP)—The end of a 20-day strike by 235 workers at the Mathieson Chemical Corp. plant here was announced unexpectedly today.

Thurmon Radford, business agent for the three striking AFL unions, issued a statement saying he had asked the strikers to return to work immediately. The statement added:

"We will forego our basic American freedom, the right to strike, for a temporary period in order to again demonstrate our good faith and sincere desire to resolve the issues between the employer and our union."

C. & O. Income Rises For 4th Straight Year

CLEVELAND, March 17 (AP) — The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway reported today its net income in 1953 — increasing for the fourth straight year—rose to 48.1 million dollars, equal to $6.04 a share, compared with 45 million and $5.66 in 1952.

The period covered by the report marked the end of Robert R. Young's 12 years as C&O board chairman. Young resigned in January to wage a battle for control of the New York Central and was succeeded by Cyrus S. Eaton.

Holds "No Malice," Rep. Bentley Says

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich), seriously wounded when four Puerto Rican fanatics shot up the House on March 1, said tonight he held "no malice" towards the group.

Bentley made the comment in a filmed television program.

Propped up in his bed in Casualty Hospital, the congressman smilingly said "I am looking forward to getting out" but had no estimate when he would be released from the hospital.

'Loud, Loose Tongues' Hurt U. S., Adlai Says

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 17 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said tonight that "political bad manners and billingsgate" and "loud and loose tongues" do us irreparable injury abroad.

"And in these days when moderation and reason are so often equated with appeasement or even disloyalty," he said in a speech at Harvard University, "we must be careful lest unreason and extremism not only frighten and alienate our friends and fan the flames or neutralism in the world, but also mislead the American people."

The 1952 Democratic candidate for president delivered the first of three Godkin lectures at Sanders Theater.

Takes Position He Can Order Troops To Meet Assault

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that hanging ought to be the fate of any president who failed to act instantly to protect the American people against a sudden attack in this atomic age.

The chief executive thus took the position that he can send American forces into action in defense of the United States without waiting for Congress to act.

He told his news conference that any president who delayed in case an aggressor should strike should be more than impeached—he should be hanged.

In a fast moving, and not always precise, discussion of the "new look" military strategy and the President's power to strike back at aggression, Eisenhower made these main points:

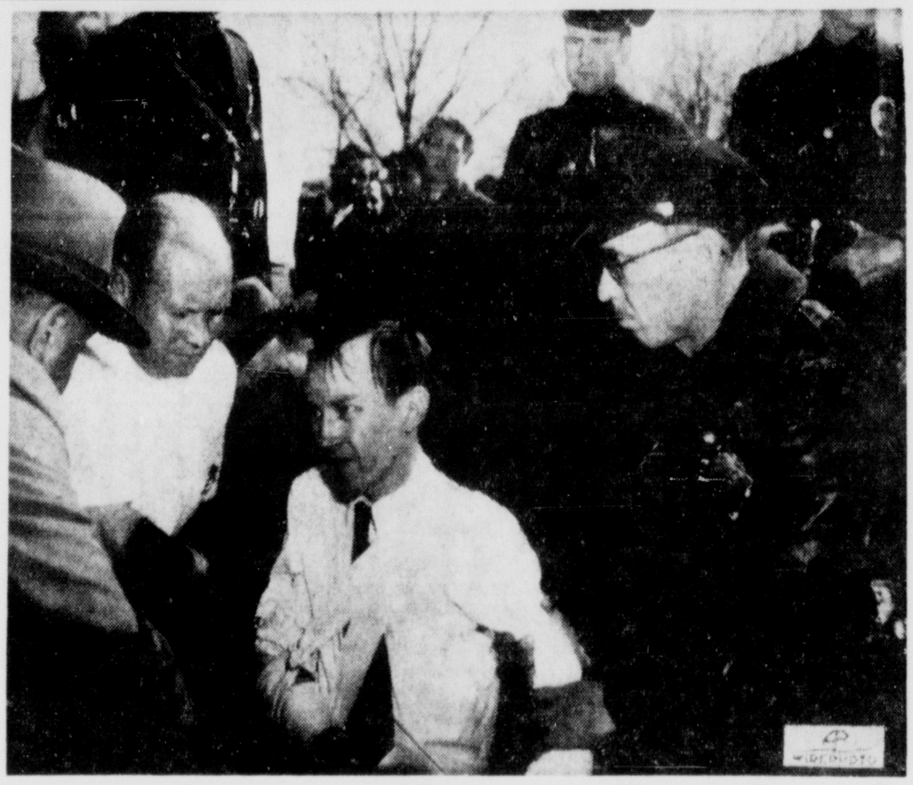
1. He agrees with Secretary of State Dulles on the strategy of massive retaliation against aggression. He implied agreement with Dulles' view that the President can strike back not only against an attack on the United States, but also against an assault on any one of 33 Allied countries in Europe, the Middle East or the Americas.

2. There is actually nothing revolutionary or even new in the new look defense policies. They are an attempt by intelligent people to keep abreast of the times, he said.

3. There is a great difference between a declaration of war—which only Congress can make—and an act of war such as the President might order to meet a Pearl Harbor type aggression. He said that no President can carry on war without Congress, which must appropriate money and enact necessary legislation. But no President faced with another Pearl Habor could fail to exercise what Eisenhower called the obvious right of self protection.

4. A rule of reason ought to apply. The conduct of a complete war involves a great many things but Eisenhower distinguished between this kind of problem and the problems of initial defensive action. And he warned against hysteria about what the Russians might do.

5. No war ever turns out to be exactly what it was expected to be and great flexibility is required in dealing with it. Eisenhower said he was certain that Dulles, in recent public comments on the strategy of massive retaliation, had not sought to say precisely how any particular aggression would be dealt with but had tried to express a generalization.



TRADES SHOTS WITH POLICE — A man identified as Robert Smith (center, bandaged arm), 25, Casper, Wyo., exchanged shots with police yesterday in the Civic Center near the Colorado statehouse in Denver, and was wounded in the arm by a police bullet. Officers said the man began shooting at them after they caught him firing at light globes.

Knight Insists He Is Innocent

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) — Henry Lloyd Knight, 48-year-old Washington attorney and exporter of airplane parts, was on the witness stand all day today, insisting steadfastly he did not know some parts he shipped to France were to go through the Iron Curtain to Poland.

It was the seventh day of his trial on charges of conspiracy to violate the U. S. Neutrality Law in the latter half of 1949. His firm, Air Union, Inc., of Bethesda, Md., is co-defendant.

Most of the day Knight was under searching cross-exmination by the government and at one point federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut put in this question:

"On the basis of your own investigation into this matter, who did you conclude was responsible for re-shipment of the material from France to Poland—De Bourbon or Balkany or both?

"De Bourbon and another party," Knight said.

Philippe Louis Marine Charles de Bourbon, native of White Plains, N. Y., Royal Canadian Air Force flier in World War II, and now a businessman in Montevideo, Uruguay, was Knight's sales agent in Paris during 1949. De Bourbon has been the main government witness against Knight.

Knight did not name the other party.

'Magistrate Erin' Frees Irishmen

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) — Run-of-the-mill drunkenness or disorderly conduct cases involving Irishmen were dismissed in Magistrate Howard L. Aaron's court today.

The policy was set forth in a ruling issued under a name he adopted just for this day—"Magistrate Erin."

"If an Irishman can't get drunk on St. Patrick's Day," challenged the magistrate, "what can he do?"

Bandits Hold Family Prisoner, Rob Bank

DURHAM, N. H., March 17 (AP)—Two sleepless gunmen, who subjected a woman bank clerk and her family to a frightful night in obtaining a bank key, robbed the Durham Trust Co. of $34,377 today.

The bandits set the first act of their scheme by binding and gagging Isabel King, a bank clerk; her husband, Reginald, and their son, Robert, 16, in their home. They got the key from Mrs. King and then waited in the house until shortly before 8 a.m.

Gaining entrance to the bank with the key, they pounced on bank Treasurer John Skelton, 36, when he opened the front door shortly afterward.

With a pistol at his head, Skelton was forced to open two vaults. The gunmen scooped up the money, tied Skelton with clothesline, gagged him with sheeting and fled by a rear door.

Demos Question TV 'Impartiality'

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee today questioned the "fairness and impartiality" of the television industry "in its treatment of the two major political parties."

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said in a statement the TV networks provided a "virtual dimout" of last night's Democratic reply to President Eisenhower's tax speech Monday night.

Mitchell said all four TV networks carried the Eisenhower speech defending the administration's tax program and his "partisan attacks on the Democratic position" as a live telecast Monday night. He added Eisenhower was heard over an estimated hundred odd TV stations.

"In contrast," Mitchell said, "only the Dumont network carried the Democratic broadcast by House leader Rayburn, Sen. George and Rep. Cooper as a live telecast the following night. Only five stations accepted the Dumont program.

"The only other television time given to the Democratic party was provided by NBC, which carried a delayed kinescope of the program but only over its New York and Washington stations.

"Thus the Democratic story was heard over seven stations in five cities as against the hundred odd stations in scores of cities which carried the political talk by Mr. Eisenhower."

St. Pat's Day Repeat

PASADENA, Calif., March 17 (AP)—For the second St. Patrick's Day in a row, Mrs. Jeanne O'Sullivan gave birth to a daughter.

Today it was Kathleen. A year ago it was Patricia.

Sealing Vessel Sinks

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 17 (AP)—The sealing vessel Newfoundlander sank today without loss of life beneath crushing ice in 100 fathoms of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Mathieson Strike Ends At Morgantown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17 (AP)—The end of a 20-day strike by 235 workers at the Mathieson Chemical Corp. plant here was announced unexpectedly today.

Thurmon Radford, business agent for the three striking AFL unions, issued a statement saying he had asked the strikers to return to work immediately. The statement added:

"We will forego our basic American freedom, the right to strike, for a temporary period in order to again demonstrate our good faith and sincere desire to resolve the issues between the employer and our union."

C. & O. Income Rises For 4th Straight Year

CLEVELAND, March 17 (AP) — The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway reported today its net income in 1953 — increasing for the fourth straight year—rose to 48.1 million dollars, equal to $6.04 a share, compared with 45 million and $5.66 in 1952.

The period covered by the report marked the end of Robert R. Young's 12 years as C&O board chairman. Young resigned in January to wage a battle for control of the New York Central and was succeeded by Cyrus S. Eaton.

Holds "No Malice," Rep. Bentley Says

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich), seriously wounded when four Puerto Rican fanatics shot up the House on March 1, said tonight he held "no malice" towards the group.

Bentley made the comment in a filmed television program.

Propped up in his bed in Casualty Hospital, the congressman smilingly said "I am looking forward to getting out" but had no estimate when he would be released from the hospital.

'Loud, Loose Tongues' Hurt U. S., Adlai Says

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 17 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said tonight that "political bad manners and billingsgate" and "loud and loose tongues" do us irreparable injury abroad.

"And in these days when moderation and reason are so often equated with appeasement or even disloyalty," he said in a speech at Harvard University, "we must be careful lest unreason and extremism not only frighten and alienate our friends and fan the flames or neutralism in the world, but also mislead the American people."

The 1952 Democratic candidate for president delivered the first of three Godkin lectures at Sanders Theater.

Industry Outlay Will Be Slightly Less This Year

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Businessmen expect to spend about 4 per cent less for new plants and equipment this year than their record outlays of 1953, and producers expect their 1954 sales as a whole to come close to last year's, the Commerce Department said today.

The predicted fall in business spending for plant and equipment would be the first such downturn since 1949. It would clip a little over one billion dollars from last year's outlay, but would leave the total at the near-record level of $27,230,000,000.

The Commerce Department report gave no detailed figures on sales expectations, but said heads of business production enterprises made estimates of their 1954 sales including the following:

Manufacturers foresaw a sales dip of about 3 per cent during the year. Utilities expect their sales revenues to increase about 10 per cent.

Every major durable goods manufacturing industry expects its 1954 sales to decline from 1953. Altogether, durable goods producers foresaw a sales decline of about 8 per cent during the year.

The railways reported the heaviest expected cut in business investment, a reduction of 28 per cent, from $1,312,000,000 to $940,000,000.

Manufacturing, the biggest business group, said it expected outlays for new plant and equipment to go down this year by 7 per cent, from $12,276,000,000 to $11,410,000,000.

The mining industry said it expected to increase capital outlays this year by 3 per cent, from $1,011,000000 ,to $1,040,000,000.

M'Carthy To 'Sit Out' Ill. Primary Campaign

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he would take no part in the Illinois primary election campaign.

Asked at a news conference if he would speak in the home district of Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill), who is seeking renomination, McCarthy replied: "No." Velde is chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"I am sure that Velde won't ask me to help him in the primary," McCarthy said. "He knows—as does almost everyone else—that I don't take an active part in primary fights outside of Wisconsin."

Lewis Faces New Charges

LEONARDTOWN, Md., March 17 (AP)—A St. Mary's County grand jury today returned two new indictments against radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. charging perjury and criminal libel.

A previous grand jury had indicted Lewis on two counts of criminal libel against St. Mary's County officials.

CLOSE TRIM AGAIN — Young William Bernard Beam, Jr., is only 3½ months old but is back in the barber chair at Portland, Ore., for his fifth haircut. Barber Carl Josal, doing the job, said little William thinks it's fun. Hair makes him look older. His mother said he had the first trim at one month.

New York's Irish, 125,000 Strong, March In Parade

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—A breeze as saucy as a colleen's wink. A sun as bright as a wee one's smile. A sky as blue as Galway's waters.

All these—and laughter, too—blessed New York's Irish today as they marched 125,000 strong up Fifth Ave. in their traditional St. Patrick's Day parade.

Police, a bit on the exuberant side, perhaps, estimated that 2½ million persons jammed the great man-made canyon to look, applaud and marvel. And, in truth, the crowd did seem greater and gayer than ever before.

The parade began at 44th St. at 12:07 p.m. It took the average marcher one hour and three minutes to follow a green center line along the avenue to 96th St. where the parade ended.

For the first time since Jimmy Walker 22 years ago, the mayor of New York led the parade. He is Robert F. Wagner, a McTague on his mother's side.

"The luck of the Irish is with us—we have a wonderful day," he exulted as he took off in measured stride, his top hat planted firmly against the prankish breeze. "I feel like I'm back in the Army."

Francis Cardinal Spellman and high Roman Catholic dignitaries, their clerical robes billowing in the breeze, reviewed the parade from the wide steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral at 51st St.

Young Fires Back At President Of AAR

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP) — Robert R. Young, financier who is seeking control of the New York Central Railroad, today issued a long and angry reply to a statement by William T. Faricy yesterday that Young is "not a railroad man" but "just a stock market operator."

Faricy, who predicted Young's defeat, is president of the Association of American Railroads. While board chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, Young withdrew his road from the A. A. R. and set up the rival Federation for Railroad Progress.

Young said today that had he been "a Faricy type 'railroad man'" he would not have withdrawn the C&O from the A. A. R. in 1946 "when we became thoroughly sickened with the organization's destructive stand on important issues."

Humphrey Urges Senate To Defeat Excise Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Talking of "financial suicide" as the alternative, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey urged the Senate today to wipe out cuts in excise taxes already voted by the House.

"We have to have the money to pay our bills," he told the Senate Finance Committee.

The House-approved measure, on which the Senate group will start work tomorrow, would reduce revenues an estimated 912 million dollars a year by cutting to 10 per cent the excise tax rates on everything except liquor and tobacco. Some rates now range up to 25 per cent.

The bill also would continue at their present rates the levies on liquor, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles and some other items raised after the start of the Korean War. Unless Congress acts, these levies will automatically be reduced more than a billion dollars April 1.

Humphrey said he would not object to cuts for distressed industries, and named motion pictures and furs as two that might be worthy of consideration. But he said if those two are cut, Congress should find some alternative source of revenue. Excises on furs and movie admissions would be reduced from 20 to 10 per cent under the house bill.

Kidnaped Bolivian Child Found Unharmed

LA PAZ, Bolivia, March 17 (AP)—Arturo Taus, 2, sought for three weeks as a kidnap victim, was found unharmed last night in a residential section of La Paz. He apparently had been abandoned by the kidnapers.

The lad was spotted crouching in a doorway by a tailor and his wife who were returning home from a movie. The couple stands to collect rewards totaling 1,900,000 bolivianos ($10,070) offered for Arturo's safe return.

The boy's father, Felix Taus, was jailed by police recently after authorities said they suspected the kidnaping was an attempt on his part to gain the custody of the child from the mother. Taus, a merchant, and his wife are separated.

Navy Captain-Dentist Takes Time Out To Write Sentimental Song About St. Pat

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Sure, and 'tis the blessed St. Patrick's Day, and therefore time to turn to the only songwriter-dentist-U. S. Navy captain in the whole blooming country.

This triplethreater is Capt. Clay Boland, as Irish as a shillelagh fresh from County Kildare. He's written a new song, and its title is "Patty."

That's no girl he's a-dreaming of. That's Patty, as in St. Pat. The captain's chorus goes like this:

"Patty was a patron saint—
The year four twenty-three—
He licked his weight in wildcats
From old Galway to the sea."

Professional Irishmen claim "Patty" may take its place alongside "Molly Malone" and "McNamara's Band" at annual March 17th jollifications.

Boland began his professional life as a Philadelphia dentist. But whereas other dentists went golfing or trapshooting, Boland had a different twist. He wrote songs.

"I've been a member of ASCAP" —(American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers)— "for years," he said. "In my spare time I'd sneak off to New York to talk with publishers and other song writers.

"I've written a lot of songs, some of them on the hit parade. Such as 'Stop It's Wonderful,' 'The Gypsy in My Soul,' 'Stop Beatin' Round the Mulberry Bush,' 'When I Go A-Dreamin'.'

"Everybody has to have a hobby. That's been mine."

Boland knocked off working on Philadelphia teeth to serve in the Navy during World War II, and was back again for the Korean troubles. His job: Getting Dentists into the Navy.

What with dentists able to make more in private practice than in the Navy, recruiting has been a rough job. Even though there's a truce in Korea Boland says there's still a shortage of Navy dentists.

Boland says he can understand a dentist's reluctance to join the Navy. It has created problems for him, too. Such as not leaving him with enough time to push his songs.

"You've got to be in there pitching," Boland said. "I've missed the boat on 'Patty.' I should have been working on it from every angle for six months.

"Well, it takes time to sell a seasonal song. Maybe I can get it going by this time next year."

An oddity about St. Patrick's Day: Not only do the sons of old Erin come out a-whooping and a-hollering, but also there's wearing o' the green by citizens whose ancestors came from Salzburg, Hamburg or even Johannesburg.

Even "Patty" had non-Irish help. Fellow from Boland's old home town, Olyphant, Pa., had been an idea man for popular music. For instance, he produced the title, "Powder Your Face with Sunshine."

Boland talked with him and it was he who thought of the title, "Patty."

"Fine fellow, full of ideas, Boland said. "His name is Stanley Rochinsky."

But, faith, on this day he's a loyal son of Erin, too.

Ike Wears Green Tie

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower got into the spirit of St. Patrick's Day today with a green necktie and a sprig of shamrock on his lapel.

The necktie was the President's own contribution to the "Wearin' of the Green" while the shamrock was a gift.

Michigan passed the first pure food law in the United States.

Big Decision On Taxes

The administration and Republican leaders in Congress appear to be prepared to go all-out to stave off a Democratic campaign to raise the personal income tax exemptions for individuals and dependents. House Speaker Martin on March 13 predicted that President Eisenhower would veto the general tax revision bill if Congress approves the exemption increase. "I base that on the belief that the bill would not be satisfactory to the administration because of the added loss of revenue," Martin said.

The tax revision bill as submitted to the House would cost the Treasury about $1.4 billion in revenue, a loss allowed for in the Eisenhower budget. The move the Democrats are proposing, undoubtedly with some Republican support, would cost up to $2.5 billion in lost revenue. Chairman Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee on March 13 said that acceptance of the Democratic proposal "may well mean no tax relief this year."

It has been estimated that if the personal exemption is raised by $100, some four million income taxpayers will go off the rolls, leaving 43 million. If the exemption were raised to $1,000, as some senators are proposing for 1955, almost 15 million taxpayers would be eliminated, or almost one in three.

The position of the administration is that any reduction in personal income taxes should come, when and if possible, by reduction of the tax rates. This position is paralleled by that of the non-partisan Committee for Economic Development. A policy statement for 1954 of that group proposes: "a rate reduction rather than increase of exemptions because a rate reduction will contribute more to stimulating incentives, and within the limited tax reduction likely to be possible in the next few years it will probably not be feasible both to raise exemptions and reduce rates."

When the first income tax was enacted in 1913, the exemption for a single person was $3,000; for married, $4,000. From 1917 to 1926, the exemption for a single person was $1,000; for the married it was $2,000 until 1921, when it was raised to $2,500.

Since 1916 the exemption for the married has always been at least double that for a single person; from 1928 to 1931 the ratio was $3,500 to $1,500. Credits for each dependent were first allowed in 1916; not until 1944 were these credits made equal to the personal exemptions.

A peculiar provision of the law for 1944-45 made the normal tax exemption for the married lower than double that of the single, but only when the adjusted gross income of one spouse was less than $500, the personal exemption. In that case the normal tax exemption for the married was "$500 plus the adjusted gross income of such spouse."

The lowest personal exemption for the single was set at $500 in 1940, when the exemption for the married was $1,200. The exemption for the married was lowered to $1,000 (except as provided above, in 1944. The exemption for single was raised to $600 in 1948; for married to $1,200.

Only 337,000 persons were required to file income tax returns in 1915. Of these returns, some were not taxable. As recently as 1928 a married person, with no dependent, with a net income of $5,000 had only a $6 income tax liability.

New Twist To Party Line

The Communist party line in the United States has just undergone another of its periodic changes. As always, a change in tactics, not in ultimate goals.

Any party member who carelessly continues to parrot the old line is now in danger of being labeled a "left devationist" or a "right devationist" and treated accordingly.

The new policy represents an attempt to return, at least in part, to the popular-front tactics of the period preceding the 1939 Hitler-Stalin pact. Communists are once again to be represented as earnest foes of fascism and leading foes of communism in the United States are to be branded as "fascists."

Fascism, the gullible will be asked to believe, is the real menace, not communism.

The new line calls for an attempt to infiltrate both Democrat and Republican parties, and to identify all anti-communism as fascism. Communists are to advocate all inflationary policies and support candidates of both parties who do likewise.

On the foreign front they are to promote disarmament on Russia's terms and deny that Russia menaces anybody.

Allergies Not Funny

Allergies, most persons are beginning to understand, are not as funny as they formerly were widely thought to be. Those who do not suffer from it may still have a tendency to think that hay fever has its comic aspects, and it's true that a number of allergic troubles are more annoying than serious.

Allergic diseases can be serious, nevertheless, and even dangerous. For millions of persons in this country they are not a joke.

It's estimated that 60 out of every 100 persons show symptoms of allergic diseases at some time or other. Ten out of 100 are affected seriously. In the U. S. there are estimated to be 4,000,000 persons with asthma and hay fever, and 3,000,000 sufferers from chronic bronchitis and sinusitis who are troubled with allergies.

This is enough to indicate the dimensions of this new field of medical science. Much has been done, and much is being done, to cure, relieve and prevent allergic diseases.

Tornado Time

This is the time of year when tornadoes usually make their annual appearance, and several of catastrophic proportions may be expected between now and July. Preceded by an ominous period of quietness, they usually are first seen as a black spot in the sky. Almost before an onlooker can say "cyclone cellar!" they are upon him, or have veered off into another direction.

Although the area in which tornadoes have been recorded is a wide one, reaching to the Atlantic Coast and from Canada to Louisiana, they are most common on the Great Plains. Kansas has usually been depicted as the banner tornado state, but its record is much better than that of adjoining states.

Tornadoes sweep everything from their path and leave towns and countryside a jumbled mess, but loss of life frequently is small compared to property damage.

New Studies On Viral Hepatitis

Viral hepatitis is the new name for the old disase formerly called catarrhal jaundice and infectious hepatitis. The term is descriptive as it means inflammation of the liver due to a virus. Symptoms include fever, fatigue, and yellowish discoloration of the skin. There were so many cases during World War II our government made a concentrated study of the problem. The condition was called to my attention once again by one of our readers who wanted to know whether viral hepatitis left residual effects on the liver.

Following World War II, many reports suggested that a small percentage of its victims were destined to develop cirrhosis of the liver. These conclusions were reached through needle biopsy studies. In the procedure, the skin is anesthetized and a special needle is inserted through the abdominal wall and into the liver. The bits of tissue trapped within the needle are sent to the laboratory for examination.

We now know these tests were done too soon during the course of the illness and the occasional abnormality noted represented incomplete healing. The Army Institute of Pathology, for example, has not encountered a single case of cirrhosis that could be attributed to a previous bout of hepatitis. Another authority reported that the damage resulting from the acute inflammation "repaired quickly and completely." These statements were made in 1947 and 1948, approximately four to five years after an attack of viral hepatitis.

A more recent study, done on a group of 367 Minnesota veterans by Dr. Leslie Zieve and others confirmed these results. The subjects had suffered from viral hepatitis four to six years previously; the degree of infection varied and some had multiple or prolonged attacks. Liver biopsies and at least 11 liver function tests were performed. There also were control studies on a group who never had sufffered from hepatitis. Analysis of the data showed no more liver abnormalities among the men who had encountered viral hepatitis than among those who had not. In a few instances in which liver trouble existed, it was related to the excessive consumption of alcohol. These studies should relieve the anxiety of individuals who went through a siege of viral hepatitis in the past.

Those who remain in bed feel better and improve faster. A diet rich in protein and carbohydrates saves wear and tear on the liver. Beyond this, we have little to offer. Treatment with ACTH seems to have merit but it is difficult to evaluate a remedy when it is used for a disease that heals spontaneously. The physician must rely upon other factors such as the speed of recovery, the effect of the drug on blood tests, and whether or not complications set in. Chance plays an important role.

Puberty. Parents have a tendency to rate their children by comparing them with others. When these youngsters happen to have dull or retarded playmates, mother and father are convinced that their offspring are brilliant. But as the years pass, their circle of friends increases, which means more competition, and they may not appear so bright.

Some Congressmen Favor No New Tax Bill; 20 Republicans On Spot Regarding Personal Tax Exemptions; Democrats Sore At Bulldozing Tax Tactics

WASHINGTON—While the nation has been intrigued, mystified and absorbed in the McCarthy-Cohn-Schine fight with the Army, the nation's most important and complicated tax bill in 20 years is almost totally ununderstood in the House of Representatives.

With only a few days to study its 875 intricate pages, no congressman no matter how conscientious could possibly vote intelligently on this bill. Even Treasury Department experts who helped write the bill admit that certain sections don't turn out to mean what was intended. The only thing the experts agree on is that for years to come the tax lawyers will make money interpreting the kinks in this bill.

Democratic members of the House of Representatives, however, have decided—with the exception of one man—to send the bill back to the Ways and Means Committee with instructions to change only one section. They would eliminate the provision whereby those who receive dividends are given a preferred status over those who earn salaries and wages. In its place Democrats would substitute a $100 increase in personal tax exemption, thereby helping lower bracket taxpayers and taking about 7,000,000 people off the tax rolls.

The one Democrat who disagrees with this almost united stand by Democratic congressmen is Thurman Chatham of North Carolina, who doesn't believe there should be a new tax bill at all. Chatham's family manufactures the famous Chatham blankets, and if he voted for the Republican bill he and his family would reap a bonanza, because first, their income comes from dividends; second, because the new tax bill is considered God's gift to big business.

Regardless of personal benefit, however, Chatham doesn't believe this is a time to reduce the nation's income, and a lot of other Democrats and Republicans privately agree with him.

Republicans On Spot

When it comes to a vote to recommit the tax bill, about 20 Republican congressmen are on the spot. In the past they introduced bills to increase the personal exemption of individual taxpayers, and now they are called upon by President Eisenhower, Speaker Joe Martin and the GOP leadership to vote against a better break for personal tax exemption.

In other words they're called upon to vote directly against what they've already proposed, also against the Democrats who are solidly for what these Republicans originally proposed.

And since the bills these 20 Republicans have introduced are all a matter of record, they'll have a hard time explaining the switch to voters back home. Some, like forthright Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, aren't going to do any explaining. Mrs. Rogers plans to vote her convictions and with the Democrats, regardless of the urging of GOP leaders.

Others who have introduced similar bills for higher personal exemption and are on the spot include:

Bennett, Clardy and Bentley, Mich.; Busbey and Mason, Ill.; Cole, Pillion and Wharton, N. Y.; Kerstein, Wis.; Poff, Va.; Reese, Kans.; Saylor and Simpson, Pa., and Utt, Calif.

In addition to the above who have proposed raising the personal tax exemption, five other Republicans have introduced bills proposing increased benefits for those who are blind, aged or disabled, or who have dependents in this category. They are: Bates, Mass.; Hagen, Minn.; Javits, N. Y.; McDonald, Calif., and Warburton, Del.

Other congressmen are watching to see how the 20 vote in the final showdown.

Boiling Democrats

What makes Democratic congressmen so sore about the administration's bill is first, the loopholes favoring big business; second, the manner in which the bill was rammed through the Ways and Means Committee.

The Ways and Means Committee is charged with writing the nation's tax laws. In the past this has been done by both Democratic and Republican members, usually over a period of many months. The work is so exacting that committee members are excused from attending regular sessions of Congress and concentrate only on taxes.

What irked the Democrats, however, is that this time, the tax bill was drafted by the Republicans separately, then handed to the Democrats. Then it was rammed through the committee in six weeks, before the Democrats had any real chance to consider it.

Since the bill is 875 pages long, and goes into the most minute and complicated provisions, it takes careful study and the advice of tax lawyers to get any real idea of what's in it. Despite this, Ways and Means Committee members were not permitted to take copies of the bill outside the committee room for study overnight. Chairman Dan Reed, tax czar of Congress, forbade it. Reed required each member to surrender his copy as he left the committee room.

"How can we vote intelligently on these provisions unless we can study them overnight?" protested Congressman Wilbur Mills of Arkansas who has been helping write tax bills for years.

But the 78-year-old chairman said no.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Plot Is Against Ike

In all the excitement over McCarthy, Stevens, Cohn and Adams, the actual target is President Eisenhower. The Democrats are not to be blamed for taking advantage of a quarrel among Republicans, except that as Americans they ought to realize that no great principle is at stake in this quarrel, nothing but personalities that worked together as friends and associates and kept diaries of their conversations, some of which represent the walla-walla of men who are dining together.

Nobody will ever know for sure how much of these conversations was just talk, how much was innuendo, in the sense that you do this for me and I'll do this for you, which is as normal in politics as in other walks of life; no one will ever know for sure how much was intended threat. That is in the heart of each individual.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower's program is delayed. The Congress is at a standstill, fussing over whether McCarthy or Stevens is a liar, which probably neither is, when what ought to be done is to get on with the business of the nation. On Sunday, for instance, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' outstanding victory was buried in the refuse of the quarrel, which was more attractive. Nevertheless, anyone with half an historic eye can see that when both McCarthy and Stevens are forgotten, the Caracas decision may be as important, if not more so, than the Monroe Doctrine. It represents not a unilateral but a cooperative decision.

The McCarthy-Stevens quarrel has been kept alive not so much by the Democrats who in principle generally hold as the Wisconsin Republican does, although they may not approve of his techniques of investigation or his aside remarks. This quarrel from the very start has been fomented and kept going by an active, effective group of New Deal newspapermen and by New Dealers who continue to be bitter over the victory of Dwight D. Eisenhower and who take advantage of every situation to give the impression of Republican ineptitude before the country.

Vice President Richard Nixon, in his speech on Saturday night, brought that fact before the country. I thought he did it effectively. Nixon is growing in stature every day. It would have been beneficial to the country if all sides had accepted his mediation between McCarthy and Stevens, because when the whole picture is looked at, nothing has yet been brought forth in this controversy, except that the Communists have succeeded in destroying the usefulness of investigators who were getting too close to the hard core of their conspiracy.

While they give the impression that they are killing off Joe McCarthy, they are actually hitting at President Eisenhower. They are creating such disorders in the country that the orderly business of government is arrested. It is as though a constant jazz band were playing over a loud-speaker on Capitol Hill. Their assumption is that when the Republicans go to the voters in November 1954, they will have no record of achievement; that the voters will be disgusted with President Eisenhower's party. The defeat in 1954 will make it possible so to disorganize the processes of government until 1956 so that then Eisenhower will thus be defeated. Most who think this way expect that Adlai Stevenson will get the Democratic nomination and that the New Deal will be revived. They may be fooled about that because too many Democrats are opposed to the ADA and the movement to make Senator Stuart Symington the Democratic candidate in 1956 grows in strength.

Be that as it may, the target is not McCarthy; it is Eisenhower. One of the major difficulties in this situation — and it affects every agency of government — is that the New Dealers, in government as in the press, since the election of 1952, have not taken their defeat in good grace. They resented it. They have adopted the attitude that the Eisenhower administration will be of short duration; that all they need to do is to mark time until the Democrats return to power. It is possible to observe, from the sidelines, the sabotage of this administration even by some who work in it.

The times are so perilous that all this political horseplay may amount historically to a major disaster. But then who really cares about that if there might be some personal gain in a row.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What is the biggest piece of news that the world would like to know today? It's whether or when there will be a large-scale war.

Does anybody in the United States government or the Soviet government know whether or when there will be a large-scale war? The answer is that each is convinced today that the destruction would be so great on both sides as to make such an attack absolutely improbable. Corroborative evidence on this comes from Moscow and Washington in various manifestations that add up to the aforesaid conclusion.

What, then, shall each country do by way of armament preparation? The answer is: All that is feasible to do within economic bounds so as to afford a defense against any kind of attack.

Not Fully Explained

What is the policy of the United States? It is covered by the phrase the "new look," which for obvious reasons has never been fully or specifically explained to the American public because, to do so, is to explain it also to the Russians.

What does the "new look" generally involve? It means that President Eisenhower and the National Security Council have decided to take a "calculated risk." This is the assumption that large-scale war will not come within the next several years and that a defensive armament program adequate for retaliation can be economically maintained by the United States and its allies.

What was the meaning of the speech by Secretary Dulles warning that "massive retaliation" would come if the free world were attacked? It was intended to warn the Soviet government that no ban on the use of the atomic bomb or the hydrogen bomb has been adopted and that the United States, with its allies, would retaliate with any weapons and in any place of its own choosing.

Did this mean that, if a "little war" broke out in Korea or Indochina or the Near East, the "massive retaliation" policy would apply? Not at all. Each situation would be dealt with as the circumstances required. It is not necessarily to be inferred that any atom bombs would be used in little wars, but neither is it to be assumed they would not be. Admiral Radford says it is desirable to keep the enemy guessing.

No Answer Yet

Is the armament of the United States adequate to carry on a "little war" and yet maintain enough strength for a big war if the "little war" became a big war? The answer to this question has not been determined by anyone. Out of the uncertainty which it arouses has come the debate between the heads of the armed services as to whether they have been given enough money to buy the weapons and to raise the manpower necessary to achieve victory under those circumstances.

Has the United States decided to limit its military expansion to commitments it can fulfill instead of allowing its expansion to go to fantastic heights beyond the capacity of the American people to pay for? Limitation has been decided upon as a "calculated risk." America cannot be expected to furnish the manpower for the rest of the world, nor can it do more than its proper share of the expense of manning and equipping other nations' armies.

Will the United States retaliate in case of a large-scale war without consulting its allies? It will retaliate instantly from American bases and from bases in Europe — like Spain perhaps — and from its own aircraft carriers in the North Atlantic and Mediterranean which carry atom bombs. The United States will retaliate also from bases like those in Britain or Canada only if arrangements have been worked out in advance for such instant retaliation.

When will Congress be consulted? In the case of an instant attack, the President is authorized already to repel instantly an invasion or attack on American forces anywhere in the world. He would be expected to submit to Congress as soon thereafter as practicable a resolution to ratify his action and authorize further military measures.

No Authorization

Would an attack on any of the many countries in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization permit the President without consulting Congress to retaliate instantly? The NATO treaty obligates the United States to enter the war instantly to defend any NATO country that is attacked. No previous authoriation by Congress is needed if it be accepted as sound constitutional doctrine that a treaty supersedes the Constitution as the supreme law of the land. The recent debate over the Bricker Amendment showed that most senators apparently feel that the two-thirds vote which ratifies a treaty and authorizes American military action makes it unnecessary to ask the consent of both houses of Congress for a declaration of war.

What then did President Eisenhower mean when he told his press conference recently that America wasn't going to become involved in the Indochina war and that, if we did, he would first ask authorization from Congress? The answer is that Indochina is not covered by any mutual-defense treaty to which the United States is a party and that the situation is not even like Korea. This means that, if Mr. Eisenhower had been president in June 1950, he might have ordered American troops into action as an implied obligation of the United Nations charter but at the same time he would have asked for a formal resolution of ratification by Congress immediately afterward.

All this boils down to the confident belief that a "hot war" is not on the horizon, and may not be for a long time to come provided the United States maintains its armament program and its present policy of non-appeasement and resoluteness.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

The Roosevelt Candidacy

WASHINGTON

There is a certain element of human drama in the determined bid of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., for the nation's second most powerful political position, the governorship of New York.

If Roosevelt gets the Democratic nomination, he will very probably be pitted against Thomas E. Dewey, the ancient rival whom his father defeated for the presidency just ten years ago. There have been hints from Albany that Gov. Dewey is ready to bow out. But these hints are heavily discounted. Dewey himself is said to be thirsty for a return engagement with Franklin D. Roosevelt, even at one removed, and to be confident of the outcome.

Moreover, Sen. Irving Ives, the only strong alternative to Dewey, stubbornly maintains that nothing on earth will persuade him to run for governor. The professionals believe that Attorney General Herbert Brownell, whose name has also been put forward, would be murdered at the polls. That leaves Dewey. And finally, if Dewey were to bow out this year, in the midst of the race track scandal, he would certainly be accused of quitting under fire.

There is also a certain grim human drama in the fact that young Roosevelt's greatest obstacle to the nomination is his own brother. Before the publication of James Roosevelt's unfragrant amatory reminiscences, Franklin was universally regarded as a shoo-in. Then the famous James Roosevelt letter gave Franklin's enemies—including his father's former lieutenant, James A. Farley—a cogent talking point against his nomination. "The church groups," it was said, "would never stand for it." And for a time it looked as though James had killed his brother's chances once and for all.

Poll Results Good

Yet Franklin's chances are now looking bright again. Political admirers recently paid the unimpeachable Elmo Roper organization to take a private poll of the effects of the James Roosevelt scandal. The testing ground chosen was heavily Republican Nassau County. The voters were asked whether the scandal would influence their votes, in case Franklin Roosevelt ran for governor. Only one person in 300 admitted that it would.

This gratifying result was brought strongly to the attention of New York's Democratic powers-that-be. So was another result of the poll, which showed Roosevelt scoring 42 per cent against Dewey, far better than any Democrat has done in recent years against Dewey in Nassau County.

Roosevelt's chief potential rival for the nomination is W. Averill Harriman—and there is an element of human drama in this fact also. Harriman is a close personal friend of young Roosevelt, as he was of his father. Roosevelt managed Harriman's unsuccessful campaign for the presidential nomination in 1952, and he promised Harriman at that time that he would never stand in his way politically.

Harriman is much respected by the New York Democratic leaders, and he lacks Roosevelt's no doubt inherited talents for making and keeping enemies. Until the recent New York City mayoralty campaign, Harriman probably had a slight edge on Roosevelt for the gubernatorial nomination. Then the two friends campaigned together for Robert Wagner, subsequently elected mayor.

Roosevelt Confident Too

The able Harriman is no great shakes as a political orator, as he is himself fully aware. His efforts were greeted with polite but tepid applause. Young Roosevelt's speaking style is a more violent version of his father's, and when the crowds heard the familiar accents, they went wild. The contrast was not lost on the Democratic bosses. Since then, Roosevelt has been standing in Harriman's way politically, whether he wants to or not.

The final decision will be made amicably, without a fight between the two friends, by such Democratic leaders as Wagner, Carmine De Sapio of New York and Daniel P. O'Connell of Albany. All three are said to be again tending strongly towards Roosevelt. There are, to be sure, malicious reports that James Roosevelt's estranged wife is preparing to make a whole series of horrifying revelations, at the rate of about one a month, throughout the summer. But bar some such calamity, Roosevelt is again an odds on bet for the nomination.

Big Decision On Taxes

The administration and Republican leaders in Congress appear to be prepared to go all-out to stave off a Democratic campaign to raise the personal income tax exemptions for individuals and dependents. House Speaker Martin on March 13 predicted that President Eisenhower would veto the general tax revision bill if Congress approves the exemption increase. "I base that on the belief that the bill would not be satisfactory to the administration because of the added loss of revenue," Martin said.

The tax revision bill as submitted to the House would cost the Treasury about $1.4 billion in revenue, a loss allowed for in the Eisenhower budget. The move the Democrats are proposing, undoubtedly with some Republican support, would cost up to $2.5 billion in lost revenue. Chairman Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee on March 13 said that acceptance of the Democratic proposal "may well mean no tax relief this year."

It has been estimated that if the personal exemption is raised by $100, some four million income taxpayers will go off the rolls, leaving 43 million. If the exemption were raised to $1,000, as some senators are proposing for 1955, almost 15 million taxpayers would be eliminated, or almost one in three.

The position of the administration is that any reduction in personal income taxes should come, when and if possible, by reduction of the tax rates. This position is paralleled by that of the non-partisan Committee for Economic Development. A policy statement for 1954 of that group proposes: "a rate reduction rather than increase of exemptions because a rate reduction will contribute more to stimulating incentives, and within the limited tax reduction likely to be possible in the next few years it will probably not be feasible both to raise exemptions and reduce rates."

When the first income tax was enacted in 1913, the exemption for a single person was $3,000; for married, $4,000. From 1917 to 1926, the exemption for a single person was $1,000; for the married it was $2,000 until 1921, when it was raised to $2,500.

Since 1916 the exemption for the married has always been at least double that for a single person; from 1928 to 1931 the ratio was $3,500 to $1,500. Credits for each dependent were first allowed in 1916; not until 1944 were these credits made equal to the personal exemptions.

A peculiar provision of the law for 1944-45 made the normal tax exemption for the married lower than double that of the single, but only when the adjusted gross income of one spouse was less than $500, the personal exemption. In that case the normal tax exemption for the married was "$500 plus the adjusted gross income of such spouse."

The lowest personal exemption for the single was set at $500 in 1940, when the exemption for the married was $1,200. The exemption for the married was lowered to $1,000 (except as provided above, in 1944. The exemption for single was raised to $600 in 1948; for married to $1,200.

Only 337,000 persons were required to file income tax returns in 1915. Of these returns, some were not taxable. As recently as 1928 a married person, with no dependent, with a net income of $5,000 had only a $6 income tax liability.

New Twist To Party Line

The Communist party line in the United States has just undergone another of its periodic changes. As always, a change in tactics, not in ultimate goals.

Any party member who carelessly continues to parrot the old line is now in danger of being labeled a "left devationist" or a "right devationist" and treated accordingly.

The new policy represents an attempt to return, at least in part, to the popular-front tactics of the period preceding the 1939 Hitler-Stalin pact. Communists are once again to be represented as earnest foes of fascism and leading foes of communism in the United States are to be branded as "fascists."

Fascism, the gullible will be asked to believe, is the real menace, not communism.

The new line calls for an attempt to infiltrate both Democrat and Republican parties, and to identify all anti-communism as fascism. Communists are to advocate all inflationary policies and support candidates of both parties who do likewise.

On the foreign front they are to promote disarmament on Russia's terms and deny that Russia menaces anybody.

Allergies Not Funny

Allergies, most persons are beginning to understand, are not as funny as they formerly were widely thought to be. Those who do not suffer from it may still have a tendency to think that hay fever has its comic aspects, and it's true that a number of allergic troubles are more annoying than serious.

Allergic diseases can be serious, nevertheless, and even dangerous. For millions of persons in this country they are not a joke.

It's estimated that 60 out of every 100 persons show symptoms of allergic diseases at some time or other. Ten out of 100 are affected seriously. In the U. S. there are estimated to be 4,000,000 persons with asthma and hay fever, and 3,000,000 sufferers from chronic bronchitis and sinusitis who are troubled with allergies.

This is enough to indicate the dimensions of this new field of medical science. Much has been done, and much is being done, to cure, relieve and prevent allergic diseases.

Tornado Time

This is the time of year when tornadoes usually make their annual appearance, and several of catastrophic proportions may be expected between now and July. Preceded by an ominous period of quietness, they usually are first seen as a black spot in the sky. Almost before an onlooker can say "cyclone cellar!" they are upon him, or have veered off into another direction.

Although the area in which tornadoes have been recorded is a wide one, reaching to the Atlantic Coast and from Canada to Louisiana, they are most common on the Great Plains. Kansas has usually been depicted as the banner tornado state, but its record is much better than that of adjoining states.

Tornadoes sweep everything from their path and leave towns and countryside a jumbled mess, but loss of life frequently is small compared to property damage.

New Studies On Viral Hepatitis

Viral hepatitis is the new name for the old disase formerly called catarrhal jaundice and infectious hepatitis. The term is descriptive as it means inflammation of the liver due to a virus. Symptoms include fever, fatigue, and yellowish discoloration of the skin. There were so many cases during World War II our government made a concentrated study of the problem. The condition was called to my attention once again by one of our readers who wanted to know whether viral hepatitis left residual effects on the liver.

Following World War II, many reports suggested that a small percentage of its victims were destined to develop cirrhosis of the liver. These conclusions were reached through needle biopsy studies. In the procedure, the skin is anesthetized and a special needle is inserted through the abdominal wall and into the liver. The bits of tissue trapped within the needle are sent to the laboratory for examination.

We now know these tests were done too soon during the course of the illness and the occasional abnormality noted represented incomplete healing. The Army Institute of Pathology, for example, has not encountered a single case of cirrhosis that could be attributed to a previous bout of hepatitis. Another authority reported that the damage resulting from the acute inflammation "repaired quickly and completely." These statements were made in 1947 and 1948, approximately four to five years after an attack of viral hepatitis.

A more recent study, done on a group of 367 Minnesota veterans by Dr. Leslie Zieve and others confirmed these results. The subjects had suffered from viral hepatitis four to six years previously; the degree of infection varied and some had multiple or prolonged attacks. Liver biopsies and at least 11 liver function tests were performed. There also were control studies on a group who never had sufffered from hepatitis. Analysis of the data showed no more liver abnormalities among the men who had encountered viral hepatitis than among those who had not. In a few instances in which liver trouble existed, it was related to the excessive consumption of alcohol. These studies should relieve the anxiety of individuals who went through a siege of viral hepatitis in the past.

Those who remain in bed feel better and improve faster. A diet rich in protein and carbohydrates saves wear and tear on the liver. Beyond this, we have little to offer. Treatment with ACTH seems to have merit but it is difficult to evaluate a remedy when it is used for a disease that heals spontaneously. The physician must rely upon other factors such as the speed of recovery, the effect of the drug on blood tests, and whether or not complications set in. Chance plays an important role.

REPLY

Puberty. Parents have a tendency to rate their children by comparing them with others. When these youngsters happen to have dull or retarded playmates, mother and father are convinced that their offspring are brilliant. But as the years pass, their circle of friends increases, which means more competition, and they may not appear so bright.

Cure the nervousness, and the heart will take care of itself.

Check Guns At The Door

It was Metternich the sardonic Austrian premier who said Russia was an autocratic monarchy tempered by assassination.

At the time Metternich cracked wise the Nihilists were bombing away with sputterers, fast ones and slow grenades.

They were knocking over the tsars like stacked dishes.

We thought that style of plebiscite had gone out with czarism. He who lives by the sword shouldn't eat with his knife.

There isn't much you can do when a screwball tilts his toupee over imagined wrongs and whipped-up aberrations. The whole thing happens as sudden as a busted tooth.

We've been fortunate as spring weather that we haven't had much of that skirmishing. There is no reason for it. At its worst a republic is a democracy tempered by investigations.

Some Congressmen Favor No New Tax Bill; 20 Republicans On Spot Regarding Personal Tax Exemptions; Democrats Sore At Bulldozing Tax Tactics

WASHINGTON—While the nation has been intrigued, mystified and absorbed in the McCarthy-Cohn-Schine fight with the Army, the nation's most important and complicated tax bill in 20 years is almost totally ununderstood in the House of Representatives.

With only a few days to study its 875 intricate pages, no congressman no matter how conscientious could possibly vote intelligently on this bill. Even Treasury Department experts who helped write the bill admit that certain sections don't turn out to mean what was intended. The only thing the experts agree on is that for years to come the tax lawyers will make money interpreting the kinks in this bill.

Democratic members of the House of Representatives, however, have decided—with the exception of one man—to send the bill back to the Ways and Means Committee with instructions to change only one section. They would eliminate the provision whereby those who receive dividends are given a preferred status over those who earn salaries and wages. In its place Democrats would substitute a $100 increase in personal tax exemption, thereby helping lower bracket taxpayers and taking about 7,000,000 people off the tax rolls.

The one Democrat who disagrees with this almost united stand by Democratic congressmen is Thurman Chatham of North Carolina, who doesn't believe there should be a new tax bill at all. Chatham's family manufactures the famous Chatham blankets, and if he voted for the Republican bill he and his family would reap a bonanza, because first, their income comes from dividends; second, because the new tax bill is considered God's gift to big business.

Regardless of personal benefit, however, Chatham doesn't believe this is a time to reduce the nation's income, and a lot of other Democrats and Republicans privately agree with him.

Republicans On Spot

When it comes to a vote to recommit the tax bill, about 20 Republican congressmen are on the spot. In the past they introduced bills to increase the personal exemption of individual taxpayers, and now they are called upon by President Eisenhower, Speaker Joe Martin and the GOP leadership to vote against a better break for personal tax exemption.

In other words they're called upon to vote directly against what they've already proposed, also against the Democrats who are solidly for what these Republicans originally proposed.

And since the bills these 20 Republicans have introduced are all a matter of record, they'll have a hard time explaining the switch to voters back home. Some, like forthright Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, aren't going to do any explaining. Mrs. Rogers plans to vote her convictions and with the Democrats, regardless of the urging of GOP leaders.

Others who have introduced similar bills for higher personal exemption and are on the spot include:

Bennett, Clardy and Bentley, Mich.; Busbey and Mason, Ill.; Cole, Pillion and Wharton, N. Y.; Kerstein, Wis.; Poff, Va.; Reese, Kans.; Saylor and Simpson, Pa., and Utt, Calif.

In addition to the above who have proposed raising the personal tax exemption, five other Republicans have introduced bills proposing increased benefits for those who are blind, aged or disabled, or who have dependents in this category. They are: Bates, Mass.; Hagen, Minn.; Javits, N. Y.; McDonald, Calif., and Warburton, Del.

Other congressmen are watching to see how the 20 vote in the final showdown.

Boiling Democrats

What makes Democratic congressmen so sore about the administration's bill is first, the loopholes favoring big business; second, the manner in which the bill was rammed through the Ways and Means Committee.

The Ways and Means Committee is charged with writing the nation's tax laws. In the past this has been done by both Democratic and Republican members, usually over a period of many months. The work is so exacting that committee members are excused from attending regular sessions of Congress and concentrate only on taxes.

What irked the Democrats, however, is that this time, the tax bill was drafted by the Republicans separately, then handed to the Democrats. Then it was rammed through the committee in six weeks, before the Democrats had any real chance to consider it.

Since the bill is 875 pages long, and goes into the most minute and complicated provisions, it takes careful study and the advice of tax lawyers to get any real idea of what's in it. Despite this, Ways and Means Committee members were not permitted to take copies of the bill outside the committee room for study overnight. Chairman Dan Reed, tax czar of Congress, forbade it. Reed required each member to surrender his copy as he left the committee room.

"How can we vote intelligently on these provisions unless we can study them overnight?" protested Congressman Wilbur Mills of Arkansas who has been helping write tax bills for years.

But the 78-year-old chairman said no.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Plot Is Against Ike

In all the excitement over McCarthy, Stevens, Cohn and Adams, the actual target is President Eisenhower. The Democrats are not to be blamed for taking advantage of a quarrel among Republicans, except that as Americans they ought to realize that no great principle is at stake in this quarrel, nothing but personalities that worked together as friends and associates and kept diaries of their conversations, some of which represent the walla-walla of men who are dining together.

Nobody will ever know for sure how much of these conversations was just talk, how much was innuendo, in the sense that you do this for me and I'll do this for you, which is as normal in politics as in other walks of life; no one will ever know for sure how much was intended threat. That is in the heart of each individual.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower's program is delayed. The Congress is at a standstill, fussing over whether McCarthy or Stevens is a liar, which probably neither is, when what ought to be done is to get on with the business of the nation. On Sunday, for instance, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' outstanding victory was buried in the refuse of the quarrel, which was more attractive. Nevertheless, anyone with half an historic eye can see that when both McCarthy and Stevens are forgotten, the Caracas decision may be as important, if not more so, than the Monroe Doctrine. It represents not a unilateral but a cooperative decision.

The McCarthy-Stevens quarrel has been kept alive not so much by the Democrats who in principle generally hold as the Wisconsin Republican does, although they may not approve of his techniques of investigation or his aside remarks. This quarrel from the very start has been fomented and kept going by an active, effective group of New Deal newspapermen and by New Dealers who continue to be bitter over the victory of Dwight D. Eisenhower and who take advantage of every situation to give the impression of Republican ineptitude before the country.

Vice President Richard Nixon, in his speech on Saturday night, brought that fact before the country. I thought he did it effectively. Nixon is growing in stature every day. It would have been beneficial to the country if all sides had accepted his mediation between McCarthy and Stevens, because when the whole picture is looked at, nothing has yet been brought forth in this controversy, except that the Communists have succeeded in destroying the usefulness of investigators who were getting too close to the hard core of their conspiracy.

While they give the impression that they are killing off Joe McCarthy, they are actually hitting at President Eisenhower. They are creating such disorders in the country that the orderly business of government is arrested. It is as though a constant jazz band were playing over a loud-speaker on Capitol Hill. Their assumption is that when the Republicans go to the voters in November 1954, they will have no record of achievement; that the voters will be disgusted with President Eisenhower's party. The defeat in 1954 will make it possible so to disorganize the processes of government until 1956 so that then Eisenhower will thus be defeated. Most who think this way expect that Adlai Stevenson will get the Democratic nomination and that the New Deal will be revived. They may be fooled about that because too many Democrats are opposed to the ADA and the movement to make Senator Stuart Symington the Democratic candidate in 1956 grows in strength.

Be that as it may, the target is not McCarthy; it is Eisenhower. One of the major difficulties in this situation — and it affects every agency of government — is that the New Dealers, in government as in the press, since the election of 1952, have not taken their defeat in good grace. They resented it. They have adopted the attitude that the Eisenhower administration will be of short duration; that all they need to do is to mark time until the Democrats return to power. It is possible to observe, from the sidelines, the sabotage of this administration even by some who work in it.

The times are so perilous that all this political horseplay may amount historically to a major disaster. But then who really cares about that if there might be some personal gain in a row.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What is the biggest piece of news that the world would like to know today? It's whether or when there will be a large-scale war.

Does anybody in the United States government or the Soviet government know whether or when there will be a large-scale war? The answer is that each is convinced today that the destruction would be so great on both sides as to make such an attack absolutely improbable. Corroborative evidence on this comes from Moscow and Washington in various manifestations that add up to the aforesaid conclusion.

What, then, shall each country do by way of armament preparation? The answer is: All that is feasible to do within economic bounds so as to afford a defense against any kind of attack.

Not Fully Explained

What is the policy of the United States? It is covered by the phrase the "new look," which for obvious reasons has never been fully or specifically explained to the American public because, to do so, is to explain it also to the Russians.

What does the "new look" generally involve? It means that President Eisenhower and the National Security Council have decided to take a "calculated risk." This is the assumption that large-scale war will not come within the next several years and that a defensive armament program adequate for retaliation can be economically maintained by the United States and its allies.

What was the meaning of the speech by Secretary Dulles warning that "massive retaliation" would come if the free world were attacked? It was intended to warn the Soviet government that no ban on the use of the atomic bomb or the hydrogen bomb has been adopted and that the United States, with its allies, would retaliate with any weapons and in any place of its own choosing.

Did this mean that, if a "little war" broke out in Korea or Indochina or the Near East, the "massive retaliation" policy would apply? Not at all. Each situation would be dealt with as the circumstances required. It is not necessarily to be inferred that any atom bombs would be used in little wars, but neither is it to be assumed they would not be. Admiral Radford says it is desirable to keep the enemy guessing.

No Answer Yet

Is the armament of the United States adequate to carry on a "little war" and yet maintain enough strength for a big war if the "little war" became a big war? The answer to this question has not been determined by anyone. Out of the uncertainty which it arouses has come the debate between the heads of the armed services as to whether they have been given enough money to buy the weapons and to raise the manpower necessary to achieve victory under those circumstances.

Has the United States decided to limit its military expansion to commitments it can fulfill instead of allowing its expansion to go to fantastic heights beyond the capacity of the American people to pay for? Limitation has been decided upon as a "calculated risk." America cannot be expected to furnish the manpower for the rest of the world, nor can it do more than its proper share of the expense of manning and equipping other nations' armies.

Will the United States retaliate in case of a large-scale war without consulting its allies? It will retaliate instantly from American bases and from bases in Europe — like Spain perhaps — and from its own aircraft carriers in the North Atlantic and Mediterranean which carry atom bombs. The United States will retaliate also from bases like those in Britain or Canada only if arrangements have been worked out in advance for such instant retaliation.

When will Congress be consulted? In the case of an instant attack, the President is authorized already to repel instantly an invasion or attack on American forces anywhere in the world. He would be expected to submit to Congress as soon thereafter as practicable a resolution to ratify his action and authorize further military measures.

No Authorization

Would an attack on any of the many countries in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization permit the President without consulting Congress to retaliate instantly? The NATO treaty obligates the United States to enter the war instantly to defend any NATO country that is attacked. No previous authorization by Congress is needed if it be accepted as sound constitutional doctrine that a treaty supersedes the Constitution as the supreme law of the land. The recent debate over the Bricker Amendment showed that most senators apparently feel that the two-thirds vote which ratifies a treaty and authorizes American military action makes it unnecessary to ask the consent of both houses of Congress for a declaration of war.

What then did President Eisenhower mean when he told his press conference recently that America wasn't going to become involved in the Indochina war and that, if we did, he would first ask authorization from Congress? The answer is that Indochina is not covered by any mutual-defense treaty to which the United States is a party and that the situation is not even like Korea. This means that, if Mr. Eisenhower had been president in June 1950, he might have ordered American troops into action as an implied obligation of the United Nations charter but at the same time he would have asked for a formal resolution of ratification by Congress immediately afterward.

All this boils down to the confident belief that a "hot war" is not on the horizon, and may not be for a long time to come provided the United States maintains its armament program and its present policy of non-appeasement and resoluteness.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

The Roosevelt Candidacy

WASHINGTON

There is a certain element of human drama in the determined bid of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., for the nation's second most powerful political position, the governorship of New York.

If Roosevelt gets the Democratic nomination, he will very probably be pitted against Thomas E. Dewey, the ancient rival whom his father defeated for the presidency just ten years ago. There have been hints from Albany that Gov. Dewey is ready to bow out. But these hints are heavily discounted. Dewey himself is said to be thirsty for a return engagement with Franklin D. Roosevelt, even at one removed, and to be confident of the outcome.

Moreover, Sen. Irving Ives, the only strong alternative to Dewey, stubbornly maintains that nothing on earth will persuade him to run for governor. The professionals believe that Attorney General Herbert Brownell, whose name has also been put forward, would be murdered at the polls. That leaves Dewey. And finally, if Dewey were to bow out this year, in the midst of the race track scandal, he would certainly be accused of quitting under fire.

There is also a certain grim human drama in the fact that young Roosevelt's greatest obstacle to the nomination is his own brother. Before the publication of James Roosevelt's unfragrant amatory reminiscences, Franklin was universally regarded as a shoo-in. Then the famous James Roosevelt letter gave Franklin's enemies—including his father's former lieutenant, James A. Farley—a cogent talking point against his nomination. "The church groups," it was said, "would never stand for it." And for a time it looked as though James had killed his brother's chances once and for all.

Poll Results Good

Yet Franklin's chances are now looking bright again. Political admirers recently paid the unimpeachable Elmo Roper organization to take a private poll of the effects of the James Roosevelt scandal. The testing ground chosen was heavily Republican Nassau County. The voters were asked whether the scandal would influence their votes, in case Franklin Roosevelt ran for governor. Only one person in 300 admitted that it would.

This gratifying result was brought strongly to the attention of New York's Democratic powers-that-be. So was another result of the poll, which showed Roosevelt scoring 42 per cent against Dewey, far better than any Democrat has done in recent years against Dewey in Nassau County.

Roosevelt's chief potential rival for the nomination is W. Averill Harriman—and there is an element of human drama in this fact also. Harriman is a close personal friend of young Roosevelt, as he was of his father. Roosevelt managed Harriman's unsuccessful campaign for the presidential nomination in 1952, and he promised Harriman at that time that he would never stand in his way politically.

Harriman is much respected by the New York Democratic leaders, and he lacks Roosevelt's no doubt inherited talents for making and keeping enemies. Until the recent New York City mayoralty campaign, Harriman probably had a slight edge on Roosevelt for the gubernatorial nomination. Then the two friends campaigned together for Robert Wagner, subsequently elected mayor.

Roosevelt Confident Too

The able Harriman is no great shakes as a political orator, as he is himself fully aware. His efforts were greeted with polite but tepid applause. Young Roosevelt's speaking style is a more violent version of his father's, and when the crowds heard the familiar accents, they went wild. The contrast was not lost on the Democratic bosses. Since then, Roosevelt has been standing in Harriman's way politically, whether he wants to or not.

The final decision will be made amicably, without a fight between the two friends, by such Democratic leaders as Wagner, Carmine De Sapio of New York and Daniel P. O'Connell of Albany. All three are said to be again tending strongly towards Roosevelt. There are, to be sure, malicious reports that James Roosevelt's estranged wife is preparing to make a whole series of horrifying revelations, at the rate of about one a month, throughout the summer. But bar some such calamity, Roosevelt is again an odds on bet for the nomination.

Dairy Farmer Gets Polite Soviet Embassy Reception, No Promises About Bonds

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Not many callers turn in at the big stone building at 1125 16th St., Northwest, home of the Soviet embassy.

But that didn't stop Leo P. Bergin Jr., a farmer from Fallon, Nev. firmly clutching his $450,000 in pre-revolutionary Russian bonds. He walked up to the door and rang the bell.

"They seemed surprised to see me," Bergin reported today, "but I couldn't have had a more courteous welcome."

Bergin's visit turned on these two things:

His job: For 20 of his 42 years he has been a dairyman. He supplies the Reno area, and figures he's the biggest milk producer in Nevada.

His inheritance: In 1916 his mother-in-law-to-be bought $450,000 in Russian bonds — "don't ask me why" — that paid 5½ per cent interest for two years. They've been kicked around the family ever since, and finally wound up with Bergin.

A Nevada newspaperman, Don Bowers, who served in the U. S. embassy in Moscow, told Bergin that sometimes the Soviets pay off, in part, on old bonds.

Which set Bergin to thinking.

With support prices going off milk, the price of cows in this country should drop. No doubt the Russians could use more cows. Maybe they'd like someone to take a look at their production methods and suggest ways to improve it. Maybe they'd give him a free trip to Russia for his bonds.

So he dashed off letters to the Russian ambassador here, to the director of the Gosbank in Moscow, and took a plane for Washington.

"The attache at the embassy saw me," Bergin said. "Let's see here's his card. Nikolai G. Dyukov. We had a nice visit. He was raised on a farm, too.

"Unfortunately, he hasn't kept up with the dairy business. For instance, he said he didn't know what kind of cows predominate in Russia." (This amused farmer Bergin. Holsteins predominate on his ranch).

"He said Russia has a milk shortage — no, that's not quite right. He said it could use more cows. That's the way he put it. And he said he's sure the collective farms have modern equipment.

"Russians, he said, like their milk warm."

Here Bergin assumed the look of a professional milkman. "I imagine," he said, "that is because they lack refrigeration facilities."

Anyway, Dyukov took the case under advisement, and Bergin is happy.

MacArthur To Confer With President Today

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur will confer with President Eisenhower tomorrow and also will be the honored guest at a White House luncheon.

Announcing the arrangements today, presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower asked MacArthur to come in for the conference.

Hagerty replied "no comment" when a reporter asked whether there was any possibility of MacArthur's returning to government service.

He also declined to shed any light on the reason for the MacArthur visit.

U. S. Doctors Help Treat Japanese A-Blast Casualties

TOKYO, Thursday, March 18 (AP) —Three U. S. doctors from Hiroshima—A-bomb target in World War II—today were directed to help treat 23 Japanese fishermen burned by radioactive ashes from an atomic or hydrogen blast in the Pacific.

U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison offered the aid of the doctors, members of the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission at Hiroshima. Three Japanese doctors on the commission also will come here.

Allison also proposed a joint U. S.-Japan investigation of the accident March 1 some 80 miles away from the big blast, which may have come from a hydrogen weapon.

(The State Department in Washington announced that U. S. and Japanese authorities are investigating to determine how such an incident occurred despite "careful precautions." It emphasized that warnings had been given "over a wide area.")

Japanese doctors ordered the 23 fishermen back to hospitals. Doctors said the victims' hair was falling out and exposed skin was turning black.

The doctors said some are in serious condition but with long range treatment, including blood transfusions, effects of their burns would not prove fatal.

The fishermen witnessed what may have been history's most awesome man-made blast. Their boat was powdered with fine ashes with a Japanese scientists said was pulverized coral.

Whether the Japanese were within the restricted Bikini-Eniwetok atomic proving grounds has not been determined. They said they were not. Allison's proposed investigation would determine that.

Dairy Farmer Gets Polite Soviet Embassy Reception, No Promises About Bonds

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Not many callers turn in at the big stone building at 1125 16th St., Northwest, home of the Soviet embassy.

But that didn't stop Leo P. Bergin Jr., a farmer from Fallon, Nev. firmly clutching his $450,000 in pre-revolutionary Russian bonds. He walked up to the door and rang the bell.

"They seemed surprised to see me," Bergin reported today, "but I couldn't have had a more courteous welcome."

Bergin's visit turned on these two things:

His job: For 20 of his 42 years he has been a dairyman. He supplies the Reno area, and figures he's the biggest milk producer in Nevada.

His inheritance: In 1916 his mother-in-law-to-be bought $450,000 in Russian bonds — "don't ask me why" — that paid 5½ per cent interest for two years. They've been kicked around the family ever since, and finally wound up with Bergin.

A Nevada newspaperman, Don Bowers, who served in the U. S. embassy in Moscow, told Bergin that sometimes the Soviets pay off, in part, on old bonds.

Which set Bergin to thinking.

With support prices going off milk, the price of cows in this country should drop. No doubt the Russians could use more cows. Maybe they'd like someone to take a look at their production methods and suggest ways to improve it. Maybe they'd give him a free trip to Russia for his bonds.

So he dashed off letters to the Russian ambassador here, to the director of the Gosbank in Moscow, and took a plane for Washington.

"The attache at the embassy saw me," Bergin said. "Let's see here's his card. Nikolai G. Dyukov. We had a nice visit. He was raised on a farm, too.

"Unfortunately, he hasn't kept up with the dairy business. For instance, he said he didn't know what kind of cows predominate in Russia." (This amused farmer Bergin. Holsteins predominate on his ranch).

"He said Russia has a milk shortage — no, that's not quite right. He said it could use more cows. That's the way he put it. And he said he's sure the collective farms have modern equipment.

"Russians, he said, like their milk warm."

Here Bergin assumed the look of a professional milkman. "I imagine," he said, "that is because they lack refrigeration facilities."

Anyway, Dyukov took the case under advisement, and Bergin is happy.

MacArthur To Confer With President Today

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur will confer with President Eisenhower tomorrow and also will be the honored guest at a White House luncheon.

Announcing the arrangements today, presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower asked MacArthur to come in for the conference.

Hagerty replied "no comment" when a reporter asked whether there was any possibility of MacArthur's returning to government service.

He also declined to shed any light on the reason for the MacArthur visit.

MacArthur, now board chairman of Remington-Rand, was fired from his Far Eastern commands by President Truman in 1951. During the 1952 presidential campaign, MacArthur backed the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination.

Submarines have been constructed that were propelled by oars, hand-operated screws, clockwork, springs, steam, stored gases and electric motors.

U. S. Doctors Help Treat Japanese A-Blast Casualties

TOKYO, Thursday, March 18 (AP) —Three U. S. doctors from Hiroshima—A-bomb target in World War II—today were directed to help treat 23 Japanese fishermen burned by radioactive ashes from an atomic or hydrogen blast in the Pacific.

U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison offered the aid of the doctors, members of the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission at Hiroshima. Three Japanese doctors on the commission also will come here.

Allison also proposed a joint U. S.-Japan investigation of the accident March 1 some 80 miles away from the big blast, which may have come from a hydrogen weapon.

(The State Department in Washington announced that U. S. and Japanese authorities are investigating to determine how such an incident occurred despite "careful precautions." It emphasized that warnings had been given "over a wide area.")

Japanese doctors ordered the 23 fishermen back to hospitals. Doctors said the victims' hair was falling out and exposed skin was turning black.

The doctors said some are in serious condition but with long range treatment, including blood transfusions, effects of their burns would not prove fatal.

The fishermen witnessed what may have been history's most awesome man-made blast. Their boat was powdered with fine ashes with a Japanese scientists said was pulverized coral.

Whether the Japanese were within the restricted Bikini-Eniwetok atomic proving grounds has not been determined. They said they were not. Allison's proposed investigation would determine that.

President Plays Golf

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)— President Eisenhower went to Burning Tree Club in nearby Maryland for a round of golf today.

Five Majority Members To Receive Chevalier Degree

Five members of the DeMolay Majority Association are to receive the Chevalier Degree.

At the monthly meeting of the association Tuesday evening at the Ali Ghan City Club, James Kave, dad of the DeMolay Chapter, announced that five former members of the Cumberland Chapter DeMolay have been elected by the Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay to receive the Chevalier Degree. This is the highest honorary degree of the DeMolay and is given for outstanding service to DeMolay.

Receiving the degree are Dr. Warren Cook, Charles F. Dicks, Jimmie D. Flanagan, Roscoe M. McElfish and Dr. John J. Robinson Jr. The date for the conferring of the degree has not been set.

April 24 was named as the date for the shrimp feed. It will be at the Ali Ghan City Club. Troy Campbell, chairman, will be assisted by Linn Sheetz, Robert Martin and Roscoe McElfish.

The group decided to have a formal initiation ceremony and Mr. Kave was named chairman of a committee to institute a ceremony. He appointed Walter Eyler, Basil Kolb, Martin, and Richard Fey to work on his committee.

A Summer Picnic committee was named, headed by Richard Taylor and including Harry Yeager, Kave, Owen Morris, Sheetz, Flanagan and McElfish.

It also was announced that the DeMolay Majority Association will confer the second degree upon 20 candidates of the Cumberland Chapter DeMolay and also on 25 candidates from the Hagerstown Chapter March 24.

The meeting was opened by William Hutter and James Kave offered the prayer. Routine reports were given by Jimmie Flanagan and Homer Wise. Richard Taylor announced that the DeMolay chapter has challenged the Majority Association to a basketball game, and that the challenge had been accepted. Twenty members were present.

Mrs. Earl Gross will be hostess to the Alice Moore Circle of First Baptist Church at 1:30 today at her home, 515 Woodlawn Terrace.

CE Girls Make Plans

Tenative plans were discussed for a Mother-Daughter dinner, hiking and swimming parties in the summer, and a soft ball game with the Jean Rowland Girls, at the meeting of the Catherine Eye Girls. The meeting was held in the recreation room of Melvin Methodist Church.

Martha Rice was in charge of the devotional program on "Praying from the Heart." She also read the Scripture. Members had silent prayer and then repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison. Barbara Deahl read, "And a Little Child." Donna Northcraft gave the regular lesson. The group sang, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer," and "Keep On Praying."

A white elephant sale was the project for last month; and for this is to collect religious pictures for the Sunday school classes.

A visitor, Frances Taylor and 18 members attended. Jeanette McDonald and Marjorie Hardinger were hostesses and served refreshments.

Mrs. Otis Riggleman and Donna Jean Willison will serve for the meeting April 8 in the recreation room.

Auxiliary 659 Plans Fund Raising Projects

Fund raising projects were discussed by the Ladies Auxiliary 659 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Jointers of America recently at Central YMCA. Mrs. Patrick Allender presided.

A yearly report was given by Mrs. Gene Weber, chairman of the Financial committee. The Sunshine report was given by Mrs. T. M. Twigg.

Concluding the meeting a social was held and the prize was won by Mrs. Douglas May. Refreshments were served, with the St. Patrick's Day theme carried out in the decorations.

The next meeting will be April 20 at the Trades Council Hall, 123 Frederick Street.

Personals

Mrs. William Buchholtz, 713 Fayette Street, is improving in Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted Saturday suffering with pneumonia.

John Reynolds, 831 Columbia Avenue, remains in a critical condition in Sacred Heart Hospital.

WIFE PRESERVERS

House, Garden Pilgrimage Opens Apr. 30

The annual Maryland House and Garden pilgrimage, sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland, will be held April 30 through May 10.

Each year the pilgrimage opens some 200 houses and gardens throughout the state to the public for the purpose of maintaining the historic Hammond-Harwood House in Annapolis, as a year-'round museum and for restoring other spots of similar interest.

The hours for the tours are from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m., (EDT), except as noted on individual tours. Tickets may be purchased for the entire tour or for a single house, and may be purchased at the first house visited on in advance from Pilgrimage Headquarters, Room 217, Sheraton Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore. Separate tickets will be issued each day, so it is necessary to specify which dates are desired.

For the benefit of local charities luncheons will be served. Arrangements are listed under each tour. Roads will be marked with green and white pilgrimage arrows, corresponding with those in the tour book.

The pilgrimage calendar lists Anne Arundel County for April 30; St. Mary's, May 1; Charles County, and modern house tour, May 2; Worthington and Western Run Valleys, May 3; Baltimore, May 4; Green Spring Valley, May 5; Calvert County, May 6; Kent County, May 7; Queen Anne's County, May 8; Talbot County, May 9; and Harford County, May 10.

Complete Layette Is Exhibited

A complete layette made by members of Court Cardinal Gibbons 529, Catholic Daughters of America, for the Holy Father's store house, was shown by Mrs. Caroline Ruppert at the court's monthly social Monday evening at St. Patrick's Social Center.

Mrs. Nora Fleming presided, and Brother G. Nicholas of LaSalle High School talked on "The Blessed Mother Mary." Mrs. Elizabeth McLean and Mrs. Anna McCleary were chairmen.

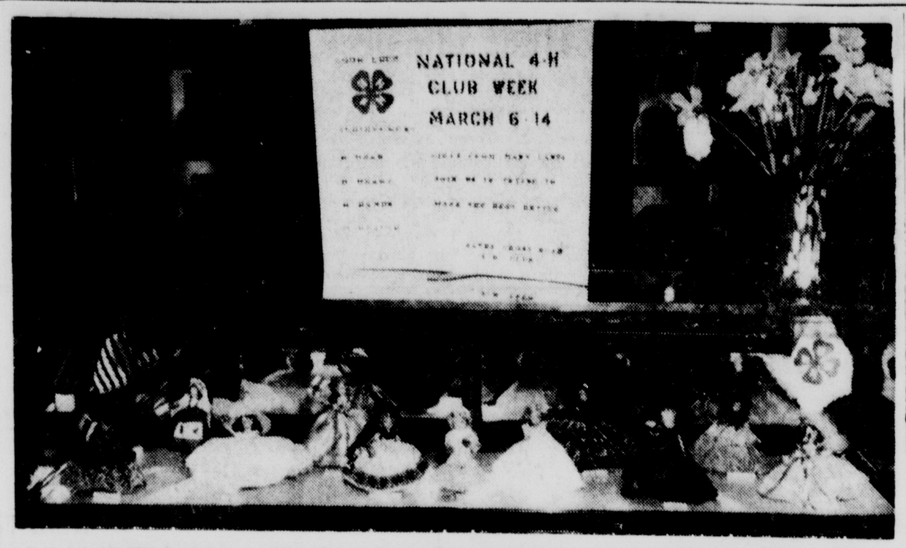
Twenty-four tables were in play at the public card party held by the court Tuesday evening at St. Mary's parish hall. Prizes were awarded and refreshments were served. A special prize was given to Mrs. Fleming.

The committee in charge of the party consisted of Mrs. Marie Nehring, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeland, cochairmen; Mrs. Daisy Burkey, Mrs. Marie Ratke, Mrs. Catherine Mellon, Mrs. Cletta Brown, Miss Mary Doll, Mrs. Elizabeth Powers and Mrs. Frances Shircliff.

Leaves For Europe

Miss Elizabeth Russell, daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Russell, 507 Washington Street, left yesterday for Baltimore. Miss Russell, accompanied by Miss Patricia Evans, Baltimore, leaves tomorrow for a Mediterranean cruise.

Before returning home they will visit Italy, France and England. They will be gone six weeks.



4-H IN MANY LANDS — The Naves Cross Road 4-H Club used the exchange students theme to portray 4-H Girls of various lands for their exhibit in observance of National 4-H Club Week last week at the Cumberland Free Public Library. Under the direction of the leader, Mrs. Richard Aaron, the girls dressed the dolls and made the flags of the various countries which each holds, as well as the 4-H flag in the back of the case and the sign with the emblem "Good Luck and Achievement" and the motto "Make the Better Best." The doll representing the German girl is dressed in red with white lace trim; Italy, white blouse, red skirt trimmed in black and green apron with white stripe; England, white dress with picture hat; Finland, light blue; Puerto Rico, yellow with black lace; United States, 4-H Girl; Hawaii, white with flowers around her neck; Scotland, in a plaid; Ireland, green taffeta trimmed in black velvet; Denmark, two shades of orchid; and France, light green with matching ribbon and large feather-trimmed hat.

Olive Stewart Is Honored At Prenuptial Shower Party

Miss Shirley Kessell entertained with a miscellaneous shower and pre-nuptial party honoring Miss Olive Arlene Stewart, last evening at her home, South Street.

Miss Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Hilda M. Stewart, 628 Yale Street, and the late Clarence E. Stewart, is the fiancee of James Clayton Klavuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Klavuhn, 443 Goethe Street, and will become his bride March 21.

The wedding ceremony is to be solemnized at 2 p. m. in the Methodist parsonage, Baltimore Pike, with Rev. B. F. Hartman officiating. Miss Kessell and Daniel Klavuhn will be the attendants.

A pink and silver color scheme was carried out in the decorations with the shower gifts concealed beneath a pink crepe paper umbrella trimmed in silver. It was combined with the bridal motif in the refreshments, with the ice cream in the form of wedding bells and pink rosebuds decorating the cake.

An informal get-together and games featured the entertainment.

Guests were members of the graduating class of 1953 of Fort Hill High School of which both the bride and hostess were members. They included Miss Ann Fisher, Miss Nancy Mease, Miss Loretta Mort, Miss Deloris Durst, Mrs. Claudetta Peterson and Miss Janet Kessell.

Oldtown Homemakers will meet today at the school cafeteria with Mrs. Rose Lewis and Mrs. Lillian Confer hostesses.

Junior Extension 4-H will hold a skating party at 7 tonight at Crystal Park.

Girl Scout Course To Be Given Tonight

The Outdoor program in Girl Scouting is the topic for the fifth session of the Girl Scout leaders training course to be held today at 7:30 p. m. at the scout house.

Topics will include progression in program discussion; outdoor skills demonstrated and practiced. Exhibits are including items which are made to use on hikes and cookouts.

Plans also will be formulated for a training session, to be held outdoors Saturday from 1 until 5 o'clock.

Miss Olive Hurlburt, executive director, is giving the course, assisted by Mrs. Patrick Hogan. There are 21 women taking the training.

Social Chart

Alfred Benna, principal of Mt. Savage School, is to be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Ellerslie PTA tonight at 7:30 at the school.

A cafeteria supper is being held by the District 16 Firemen's Auxiliary from 5 until 7 tonight at the fire hall.

The WMS of First Baptist Church will meet to sew today and circle meetings will be at 1:30 p.m.

St. Mary's Mothers Club will meet at 8 tonight in the church hall, present a past president pin and complete plans for the covered dish supper from 4 until 7 Sunday.

Club's Annual Men's Dinner Is Tonight

The Woman's Civic Club will have Dr. Mildred Otenasek, Baltimore, as guest speaker and a musical program for the annual men's dinner tomorrow evening. It is being held at the Ali Ghan Country Club at 6:15 with Mrs. Charles L. Kopp extending greetings.

Assistant professor of political economy at Trinity College, Washington, Dr. Otenasek will speak on the topic "And Now, Where Are We?"

The musical program consists of selections by a sextet from the Junior Woman's Civic Club, including Mrs. S. Lua Syckes, Mrs. Allen Macy, Mrs. Harry Butler, Mrs. Paul Gipe, Miss Jean Dixon and Mrs. Miles Thompson Jr. There also will be a piano duet by Mrs. William B. Ludman and Mrs. Lawrence Nugent, who will accompany the Choral Group.

Mrs. G. Morgan Smith will introduce the speaker. Mrs. A. D. Heacox is in charge of the program and Mrs. William H. Buchholtz is directing the Choral Group. Dinner arrangements are under the direction of the Hospitality committee composed of Mrs. Thomas LeClear, Mrs. Joseph Naughton, Mrs. Charles Nuzum, Mrs. James Pitkethly, Mrs. William Ryan, Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. John Bestwick, Mrs. S. M. Jacobson and Miss Louise Wilson.

The Weldermern Class of Centre Street Methodist Church will hold a white elephant sale at its monthly meeting tomorrow evening in the church parlor.

Newcomers Club Will Hold Installation Dance Mar. 27

Plans for the installation of officers were discussed at the luncheon meeting of the Newcomers Club, held at Lazarus Fountain room.

Installation of officers will take place in the form of a dance for members and their husbands. It will be March 27 at the LaVale Fire Hall. Dancing will be from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. Schwarzenbach and Sons are giving a prize for the men attending the installation dance, and the Liberty Milk Company, one for the women.

All former members are invited and are to contact Mrs. Kenneth Smith, chairman, on any of her committee, which includes Mrs. Albert Darby, Mrs. H. C. Erskine, Mrs. Donald Kinsey and Mrs. James Hosack.

Mrs. Benjamin Chamberlin is to be installed as president; Mrs. Ernest Abbott, vice president; Mrs. Robert Poling, recording secretary; Mrs. John Pevear, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Merle Reedy, treasurer.

New members welcomed into the club are Mrs. Charles C. Irby and Mrs. Marvin Andrews.

Decorations were in keeping with the St. Patrick's Day motif and the centerpiece later was used as a games prize and was won by Mrs. Jack Higgins. Bridge and canasta were played with prizes for the bridge won by Mrs. Eula Jamison, Mrs. Alfred Schwab; and at canasta by Mrs. Henry Getz and Mrs. Erma Raeder. Mrs. Glifford L. Barnette from West Virginia, sister of Mrs. Kenneth Farrell, was a guest.

Soroptimists Sponsor Talk

The Soroptimist Club is sponsoring an illustrated lecture and color movie travelogue, "Let's Plan a Vacation." It will be given tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Ali Ghan Country Club by Mary Gordon of Trans-World Airlines. Mrs. Vivian Dorn is giving an organ recital.

Advice on shopping for a vacation wea. will be given by Miss Gordon, who also will show how a person can be well-dressed around the clock for a period of weeks, with 40 to 50 pounds of luggage and how to pack it in a single case.

There will be a color travelogue of places to go for a vacation, accompanying the lecture. Members are serving as hostesses.

Proceeds are for the club's civic project. Tickets may be purchased at the door, or from members.

Five members of the DeMolay Majority Association are to receive the Chevalier Degree.

At the monthly meeting of the association Tuesday evening at the Ali Ghan City Club, James Kave, dad of the DeMolay Chapter, announced that five former members of the Cumberland Chapter DeMolay have been elected by the Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay to receive the Chevalier Degree. This is the highest honorary degree of the DeMolay and is given for outstanding service to DeMolay.

Receiving the degree are Dr. Warren Cook, Charles F. Dicks, Jimmie D. Flanagan, Roscoe M. McElfish and Dr. John J. Robinson Jr. The date for the conferring of the degree has not been set.

April 24 was named as the date for the shrimp feed. It will be at the Ali Ghan City Club. Troy Campbell, chairman, will be assisted by Linn Sheetz, Robert Martin and Roscoe McElfish.

The group decided to have a formal initiation ceremony and Mr. Kave was named chairman of a committee to institute a ceremony. He appointed Walter Eyler, Basil Kolb, Martin, and Richard Fey to work on his committee.

A Summer Picnic committee was named, headed by Richard Taylor and including Harry Yeager, Kave, Owen Morris, Sheetz, Flanagan and McElfish.

It also was announced that the DeMolay Majority Association will confer the second degree upon 20 candidates of the Cumberland Chapter DeMolay and also on 25 candidates from the Hagerstown Chapter March 24.

The meeting was opened by William Hutter and James Kave offered the prayer. Routine reports were given by Jimmie Flanagan and Homer Wise. Richard Taylor announced that the DeMolay chapter has challenged the Majority Association to a basketball game, and that the challenge had been accepted. Twenty members were present.

Mrs. Earl Gross will be hostess to the Alice Moore Circle of First Baptist Church at 1:30 today at her home, 515 Woodlawn Terrace.

CE Girls Make Plans

Tenative plans were discussed for a Mother-Daughter dinner, hiking and swimming parties in the summer, and a soft ball game with the Jean Rowland Girls, at the meeting of the Catherine Eye Girls. The meeting was held in the recreation room of Melvin Methodist Church.

Martha Rice was in charge of the devotional program on "Praying from the Heart." She also read the Scripture. Members had silent prayer and then repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison. Barbara Deahl read, "And a Little Child." Donna Northcraft gave the regular lesson. The group sang, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer," and "Keep On Praying."

A white elephant sale was the project for last month; and for this is to collect religious pictures for the Sunday school classes.

A visitor, Frances Taylor and 18 members attended. Jeanette McDonald and Marjorie Hardinger were hostesses and served refreshments.

Mrs. Otis Riggleman and Donna Jean Willison will serve for the meeting April 8 in the recreation room.

Auxiliary 659 Plans Fund Raising Projects

Fund raising projects were discussed by the Ladies Auxiliary 659 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Jointers of America recently at Central YMCA. Mrs. Patrick Allender presided.

A yearly report was given by Mrs. Gene Weber, chairman of the Financial committee. The Sunshine report was given by Mrs. T. M. Twigg.

Concluding the meeting a social was held and the prize was won by Mrs. Douglas May. Refreshments were served, with the St. Patrick's Day theme carried out in the decorations.

The next meeting will be April 20 at the Trades Council Hall, 123 Frederick Street.

Personals

Mrs. William Buchholtz, 713 Fayette Street, is improving in Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted Saturday suffering with pneumonia.

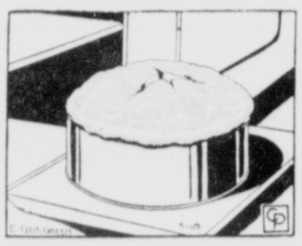
WIFE PRESERVERS



When a cake rises in the middle and cracks on top, it is because of over-measuring of flour, or the temperature of the oven was too high.

House, Garden Pilgrimage Opens Apr. 30

The annual Maryland House and Garden pilgrimage, sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland, will be held April 30 through May 10.

Each year the pilgrimage opens some 200 houses and gardens throughout the state to the public for the purpose of maintaining the historic Hammond-Harwood House in Annapolis, as a year-'round museum and for restoring other spots of similar interest.

The hours for the tours are from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m., (EDT), except as noted on individual tours. Tickets may be purchased for the entire tour or for a single house, and may be purchased at the first house visited on in advance from Pilgrimage Headquarters, Room 217, Sheraton Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore. Separate tickets will be issued each day, so it is necessary to specify which dates are desired.

For the benefit of local charities luncheons will be served. Arrangements are listed under each tour. Roads will be marked with green and white pilgrimage arrows, corresponding with those in the tour book.

The pilgrimage calendar lists Anne Arundel County for April 30; St. Mary's, May 1; Charles County, and modern house tour, May 2; Worthington and Western Run Valleys, May 3; Baltimore, May 4; Green Spring Valley, May 5; Calvert County, May 6; Kent County, May 7; Queen Anne's County, May 8; Talbot County, May 9; and Harford County, May 10.

Complete Layette Is Exhibited

A complete layette made by members of Court Cardinal Gibbons 529, Catholic Daughters of America, for the Holy Father's store house, was shown by Mrs. Caroline Ruppert at the court's monthly social Monday evening at St. Patrick's Social Center.

Mrs. Nora Fleming presided, and Brother G. Nicholas of LaSalle High School talked on "The Blessed Mother Mary." Mrs. Elizabeth McLean and Mrs. Anna McCleary were chairmen.

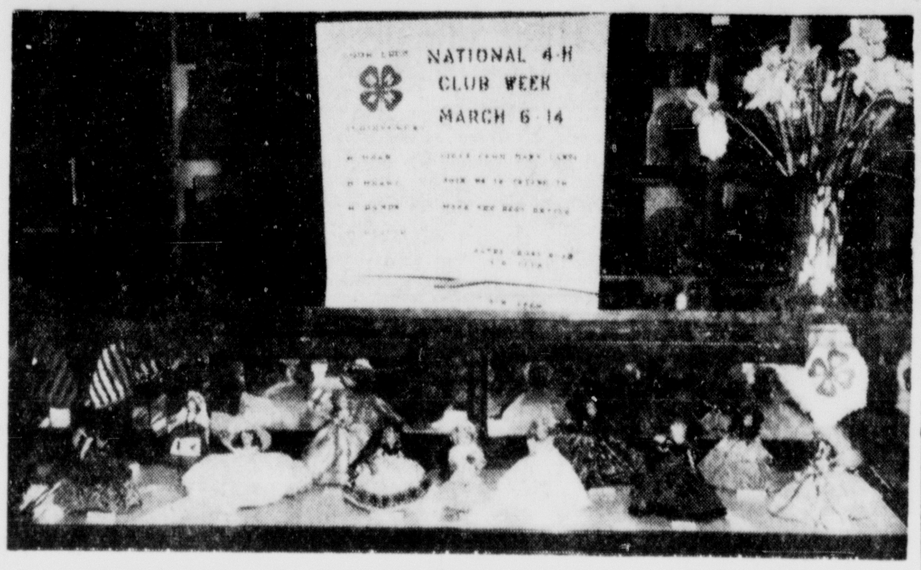
Twenty-four tables were in play at the public card party held by the court Tuesday evening at St. Mary's parish hall. Prizes were awarded and refreshments were served. A special prize was given to Mrs. Fleming.

The committee in charge of the party consisted of Mrs. Marie Nehring, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeland, co-chairmen; Mrs. Daisy Burkey, Mrs. Marie Ratke, Mrs. Catherine Mellon, Mrs. Cletta Brown, Miss Mary Doll, Mrs. Elizabeth Powers and Mrs. Frances Shircliff.

Leaves For Europe

Miss Elizabeth Russell, daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Russell, 507 Washington Street, left yesterday for Baltimore. Miss Russell, accompanied by Miss Patricia Evans, Baltimore, leaves tomorrow for a Mediterranean cruise.

Before returning home they will visit Italy, France and England. They will be gone six weeks.



4-H IN MANY LANDS — The Naves Cross Road 4-H Club used the exchange students theme to portray 4-H Girls of various lands for their exhibit in observance of National 4-H Club Week last week at the Cumberland Free Public Library. Under the direction of the leader, Mrs. Richard Aaron, the girls dressed the dolls and made the flags of the various countries which each holds, as well as the 4-H flag in the back of the case and the sign with the emblem "Good Luck and Achievement" and the motto "Make the Better Best." The doll representing the German girl is dressed in red with white lace trim; Italy, white blouse, red skirt trimmed in black and green apron with white stripe; England, white dress with picture hat; Finland, light blue; Puerto Rico, yellow with black lace; United States, 4-H Girl; Hawaii, white with flowers around her neck; Scotland, in a plaid; Ireland, green taffeta trimmed in black velvet; Denmark, two shades of orchid; and France, light green with matching ribbon and large feather-trimmed hat.

Olive Stewart Is Honored At Prenuptial Shower Party

Miss Shirley Kessell entertained with a miscellaneous shower and pre-nuptial party honoring Miss Olive Arlene Stewart, last evening at her home, South Street.

Miss Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Hilda M. Stewart, 628 Yale Street, and the late Clarence E. Stewart, is the fiancee of James Clayton Klavuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Klavuhn, 443 Goethe Street, and will become his bride March 21.

The wedding ceremony is to be solemnized at 2 p. m. in the Methodist parsonage, Baltimore Pike, with Rev. B. F. Hartman officiating. Miss Kessell and Daniel Klavuhn will be the attendants.

A pink and silver color scheme was carried out in the decorations with the shower gifts concealed beneath a pink crepe paper umbrella trimmed in silver. It was combined with the bridal motif in the refreshments, with the ice cream in the form of wedding bells and pink rosebuds decorating the cake.

An informal get-together and games featured the entertainment.

Guests were members of the graduating class of 1953 of Fort Hill High School of which both the bride and hostess were members. They included Miss Ann Fisher, Miss Nancy Mease, Miss Loretta Mort, Miss Deloris Durst, Mrs. Claudetta Peterson and Miss Janet Kessell.

Oldtown Homemakers will meet today at the school cafeteria with Mrs. Rose Lewis and Mrs. Lillian Confer hostesses.

Junior Extension 4-H will hold a skating party at 7 tonight at Crystal Park.

Girl Scout Course To Be Given Tonight

The Outdoor program in Girl Scouting is the topic for the fifth session of the Girl Scout leaders training course to be held today at 7:30 p. m. at the scout house.

Topics will include progression in program discussion; outdoor skills demonstrated and practiced. Exhibits are including items which are made to use on hikes and cookouts.

Plans also will be formulated for a training session, to be held outdoors Saturday from 1 until 5 o'clock.

Miss Olive Hurlburt, executive director, is giving the course, assisted by Mrs. Patrick Hogan. There are 21 women taking the training.

Social Chart

Alfred Benna, principal of Mt. Savage School, is to be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Ellerslie PTA tonight at 7:30 at the school.

A cafeteria supper is being held by the District 16 Firemen's Auxiliary from 5 until 7 tonight at the fire hall.

The WMS of First Baptist Church will meet to sew today and circle meetings will be at 1:30 p.m.

St. Mary's Mothers Club will meet at 8 tonight in the church hall, present a past president pin and complete plans for the covered dish supper from 4 until 7 Sunday.

Club's Annual Men's Dinner Is Tonight

The Woman's Civic Club will have Dr. Mildred Otenasek, Baltimore, as guest speaker and a musical program for the annual men's dinner tomorrow evening. It is being held at the Ali Ghan Country Club at 6:15 with Mrs. Charles L. Kopp extending greetings.

Assistant professor of political economy at Trinity College, Washington, Dr. Otenasek will speak on the topic "And Now, Where Are We?"

The musical program consists of selections by a sextet from the Junior Woman's Civic Club, including Mrs. S. Lua Syckes, Mrs. Allen Macy, Mrs. Harry Butler, Mrs. Paul Gipe, Miss Jean Dixon and Mrs. Miles Thompson Jr. There also will be a piano duet by Mrs. William B. Ludman and Mrs. Lawrence Nugent, who will accompany the Choral Group.

Mrs. G. Morgan Smith will introduce the speaker. Mrs. A. D. Heacox is in charge of the program and Mrs. William H. Buchholtz is directing the Choral Group. Dinner arrangements are under the direction of the Hospitality committee composed of Mrs. Thomas LeClear, Mrs. Joseph Naughton, Mrs. Charles Nuzum, Mrs. James Pitkethly, Mrs. William Ryan, Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. John Bestwick, Mrs. S. M. Jacobson and Miss Louise Wilson.

The Weldermern Class of Centre Street Methodist Church will hold a white elephant sale at its monthly meeting tomorrow evening in the church parlor.

Newcomers Club Will Hold Installation Dance Mar. 27

Plans for the installation of officers were discussed at the luncheon meeting of the Newcomers Club, held at Lazarus Fountain room.

Installation of officers will take place in the form of a dance for members and their husbands. It will be March 27 at the LaVale Fire Hall. Dancing will be from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. Schwarzenbach and Sons are giving a prize for the men attending the installation dance, and the Liberty Milk Company, one for the women.

All former members are invited and are to contact Mrs. Kenneth Smith, chairman, on any of her committee, which includes Mrs. Albert Darby, Mrs. H. C. Erskine, Mrs. Donald Kinsey and Mrs. James Hosack.

Mrs. Benjamin Chamberlin is to be installed as president; Mrs. Ernest Abbott, vice president; Mrs. Robert Poling, recording secretary; Mrs. John Pevear, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Merle Reedy, treasurer.

New members welcomed into the club are Mrs. Charles C. Irby and Mrs. Marvin Andrews.

Decorations were in keeping with the St. Patrick's Day motif and the centerpiece later was used as a games prize and was won by Mrs. Jack Higgins. Bridge and canasta were played with prizes for the bridge won by Mrs. Eula Jamison, Mrs. Alfred Schwab; and at canasta by Mrs. Henry Getz and Mrs. Erma Raeder. Mrs. Glifford L. Barnette from West Virginia, sister of Mrs. Kenneth Farrell, was a guest.

Soroptimists Sponsor Talk

The Soroptimist Club is sponsoring an illustrated lecture and color movie travelogue, "Let's Plan a Vacation." It will be given tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Ali Ghan Country Club by Mary Gordon of Trans-World Airlines. Mrs. Vivian Dorn is giving an organ recital.

Advice on shopping for a vacation wear will be given by Miss Gordon, who also will show how a person can be well-dressed around the clock for a period of weeks, with 40 to 50 pounds of luggage and how to pack it in a single case.

There will be a color travelogue of places to go for a vacation, accompanying the lecture. Members are serving as hostesses.

Proceeds are for the club's civic project. Tickets may be purchased at the door, or from members.

Pair Fined For Refusing To Help Fight Forest Fire

SALISBURY, Md., March 17 (AP)—It cost two Eastern Shoremen $13 today because, forestry officials said, they refused to fight a forest fire, saying they had to go to work.

Forfeiting collateral in Wicomico County peoples Peoples Court were Willie Ardis of Girdletree and Morris Dale of Snow Hill, both Negroes.

A charge of refusing to fight a March 9 fire about five miles south of Salisbury was made by Forest Supervisor Robert G. Dennis. The blaze burned 10 acres of woodland.

Dennis said the charge was refusing to fight a forest fire after having been placed under summons by a forestry department official.

Dennis said "we don't usually summons anybody unless fire is threatening homes or life. In this case we needed as many men as we could get immediately." He said several others on the scene complied with his orders.

Dennis said it was only the third such case since 1938 in his area, which includes, Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset counties.

Trooper Catches Ex-Commanding Officer Speeding

FERNDALE, Md., March 17 (AP)—A state trooper who is an ex-GI caught his former commanding officer speeding and it cost the former officer $11.45 today.

Trooper Leland F. Corbett said he stopped a car on the Baltimore-Washington Expressway March 8 and recognized the driver as William Leo Daly, of Towson, a former army lieutenant at Fort Meade.

Trial was set for today but the driver didn't show up, thereby forfeiting $11.45 collateral.

Transfer Abandoned?

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP)—The Air Research and Development command reported today it has leased 20,000 square feet of hangar space at Baltimore's Friendship Airport, backing up reports that the proposed move of the command has been abandoned.

Seven Frederick Gamblers Fined

FREDERICK, March 17 (AP) — Seven persons were fined a total of $4,400 today on charges of operating gaming tables and bookmaking.

Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer imposed the fines. All pleaded guilty. Six were fined $500 each on gaming charges, one $1,400 on gaming and bookmaking charges.

The seven Frederick residents had been arrested early last month after a series of police raids.

They were Chauncy P. Cramer, Charles L. Kidd, Arthur D. Phebus, Donald J. Morgan, Peter G. Placos, John Placos, and Helen R. Thompson. In addition to the gaming charge, Peter Placos was fined $900 on a bookmaking charge and a one-year House of Correction sentence was suspended.

Candidate Challenges Election Supervisors

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP)—William Donald Schaefer says he is seeing his lawyer because the Board of Elections Supervisors won't let him spell out the "Donald" on the ballot when he runs for the House of Delegates from the Fifth District.

Schaefer said today chairman Charles A. Dorsey of the election board insisted the candidate use his name as it appears on a 1942 voter's registration, William D. Schaefer.

Schaefer says it's important to bring the "Donald" business to the attention of the voters because that's the name he's known by in the district.

Navy Jet Crashes; Pilot Chutes Safely

CAMBRIDGE, Md., March 17 (AP)—A Navy jet fighter plane crashed and burned about 25 miles south of here today but the pilot, Commander Clyde Alvis Williams, 35, parachuted to safety.

The Patuxent Naval Air Test Center said Williams was picked up in a marsh by a helicopter and returned to the base.

Witnesses said the F7U plane crashed on Aisquith Island in the Honga River and exploded and burned. About ten acres of woodland were burned. Williams came down at the small community of Crocheron.

The Navy said Williams was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Williams of Rt. 2, Seaton, Texas.

Postal Branch Robbed

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) — A woman clerk reported a $353 robbery today in an East Baltimore post office branch.

Mrs. Virginia Franklin, 43, said the holdup was executed by two young men, one of whom held her at gunpoint while the other took the money from two cash drawers.

Deportation Hearing Held For Woman

BALTIMORE, March 17 (AP) — John V. Carney, special inquiry officer for the United States Immigration Service, today heard deportations proceedings argued against 61-year-old Mrs. Matrona Karpuk.

She is charged with violating her alien status by being active in the Communist party.

Mrs. Karpuk was accompanied at the hearing by her son, Anton, who was a major with the Army engineers in World War II.

The woman denied that she is or ever had been a Communist. Mrs. Karpuk testified she was a member of the Russian Independent Mutual Aid Society, an insurance organization with headquarters in Chicago.

The government charges that as late as 1951 she was a member of the International Workers' Order, listed by the U. S. Attorney general as subversive.

Mrs. Karpuk said she came here from her native Russia at the age of 19 and made two visits to Poland, one in 1931 and one a year later.

Caution Cruisers Rated High In Safety Driving

Four Members Take Stop-Reaction Tests

LONACONING — Valley High School "Caution Cruisers" Automobile Club had a demonstration yesterday on safety.

The Senior High students and Auto Club members witnessed the outdoors demonstration in driving tests made with students and faculty members in a specially equipped car. Three revolvers were mounted on the front bumper of the car to fire yellow paint bullets to indicate the distance required to stop the car in an emergency.

The driver being tested was signalled to stop by a red light mounted above the radiator. The first paint bullet was fired automatically at the same instant the stop signal flashed. The second was fired automatically when the brake was applied and the third when the car stopped. Distance between the spots of paint were then measured to determine the reaction and braking distances.

The program was brought to Valley High school through the efforts of David E. Kirk, of Barton, who has helped in the organization of the auto club at the school.

Raymond Miller, president of the auto club, announced the opening exercises at the assembly and introduced the guests for the demonstration. A film was shown at the student assembly prior to the outdoors demonstration. Members of the Advisory Board of The Caution Cruisers Auto Club attended. The four tests were all rated "better than average".

Harold Doolan, boy student driver, at 20 MPH, had reaction distance measured 12'7½", braking distance 25' 4". Dolora McKenzie, girl student driver, has 12'5" reaction distance, 27'2" braking distance, at 20 MPH.

William W. Saylor, faculty driver, had at 30 MPH speed, 14'10" reaction; 53'3" braking distance. State Trooper Harry S. Bosley showed at 40 MPH speed, his reaction distance measured 27'1"; and braking distance 92'.

Episcopalians Hear Rev. George Laedlein

FROSTBURG — The preacher for Wednesday evening Lenten service at St. John's Episcopal Church was the Rev. George Laedlein, vicar of St. Christopher's Church, Baltimore. Fr. Laedlein is a graduate of the Philadelphia Divinity School, a former curate at St. David's Church in Baltimore, and now in charge of new work at Linthicum.

The Litany was sung, and the congregation was led by J. E. Cope, a layreader of St. John's.

CANDIDATE — James Evans, World War II veteran and Silver Star award winner, is a candidate for election to Frostburg council. He is a graduate of Beall High School and after graduation was affiliated with the Reppert Coal Company, Clarksburg, W. Va., until he enlisted in the Air Forces. He served five years and is credited with the destruction of many enemy aircraft. He was honorably discharged in October 1945 and now resides at 89 Broadway.

Legion To Care For Graves In Memorial Park

FROSTBURG—Alfred Drew, past commander of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, announced that members of the post are volunteering their services to clean the lots of veterans in Frostburg Memorial Park in cases where there is no surviving relatives to do the work.

This action on the part of the Legion, Drew said, was a movement to demonstrate the practical interest of the war veterans in their deceased buddies.

During the month of April and May, 1953, members of the Legion Post volunteered their services on several burial plots in the Frostburg Memorial Park and other local cemeteries.

This action on the part of the Legion has been approved by Frank T. Powers, National Executive Committeeman, who was one of a group who did the actual work last year.

PSC At Keyser Selects Cover Girl Entrant

Norma Jeanne Cain Represents College

KEYSER — Miss Norma Jeanne Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Cain, Grantsville, W. Va., sophomore pre-education major at Potomac State College, will represent the college in a contest to be sponsored by the Roto Magazine of the Sunday Pittsburgh Press, in an effort to select a young woman from colleges of the Tri-State Area as "Campus Cover Girl of the Year."

Miss Cain's picture will appear in the Roto Magazine on Sunday, April 11, along with representatives chosen from 26 other colleges of the area. At the same time, a ballot, in the form of a coupon will be printed on which readers can vote for their favorite. Deadline for votes will be midnight, Friday, April 16.

The winner's portrait, in color, will then be used on the cover of the magazine on Sunday, May 16. Plans also call for a picture story on the inner pages of the same issue, telling about the girl, her family, school life, etc.

There are no prizes. The Press indicates that it merely wants to picture attractive young women of the area, in formal portraits.

Miss Cain is a graduate of Calhoun County High School. She is vice-president of Kappa Delta Psi Sorority; is cheerleader and a member of the Players' Club at Potomac State College. She is also a member of the Pasquino Staff, writing the regular feature, "Campus Mirror."

From the time the information was received by officials of the college, that there was to be such a contest, every effort was made to devise and carry out an impartial method of selection. A committee was named to recommend a method of procedure in the selection, composed of Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, chairman; David G. Nuzum, Miss Sue Cather, John O. Maiden and John D. Fox, faculty members. This committee recommended that all women students be screened and that a total of 15 women with the best photogenic qualities have their pictures submitted to a joint committee of faculty and students.

The following women were named for the final selection: Patricia Athey, Dolly Berry, Miss Cain, Jane Carpenter, Francis Crist, Mary Giffin, Ethel Harper, Margaret Kochenderfer, Maxine Litton, Joan Marker, Kay Meredith, Bernadette Pendergast, Patricia Shuck, Janet Thayer and Patricia Ward.

A committee consisting of J. Kenna Burke, chairman; William E. Michael and Miss Anne E. Withers, selected the following students to serve on the judging committee: Anna Lee Arnold, Carolyn Ellyson, James Gainer, Doris Martin, Delores Miers, Clinton Rogers, Reeves Taylor and Stanley White.

The faculty committee, appointed by the administration, to join the students in making the final choice, included Norman E. Rodgers, chairman; Miss Helen C. Criner, James T. Handlan, Jr., Dr. Nancy M. Miller, Allen E. Murphy, Mrs. Davis G. Nuzum, Miss Margaret Rafter and Leonard G. Withers.

Circle K Club To Raise Fund In Cancer Drive

Plan Talent Show Over Keyser Cable

KEYSER—Members of the Circle K Club, at Potomac State College, are prepared to present their first television program show, which they are sponsoring Tuesday, April 6, for the benefit of the Cancer Crusade in Mineral County. The show will be telecast from the assembly room in Science Hall, on the campus, beginning at 7 p. m. and continuing for at least two hours.

The project will be presented through cooperation with the Keyser Television Company, which sponsors the local cable system. Anderson Patrick, of the company, will take the pictures with new equipment, recently acquired.

General Chairman Gary VanMeter is urging the cooperation of both students and faculty members of the college, as well as other persons in the area, in offering their talents for the show. The Circle K wants local persons talented in singing, dancing, playing musical instruments and other types of entertainment. Acts may be performed by individuals or groups.

VanMeter has announced the following student committees of Circle K Club:

Publicity: Hoey Dove, chairman; Jack Sheets, P. T. Dayton, Staley White, Max Messenger, Keith Collett and Robert Twigg.

Assistants for the telecast: Adrian LaRue, chairman; George Wolfe, Robert McCune, Ellsworth Herrell, Frank Knotts and Willis Collett.

Central PTA To Assist In Landscaping Project

Activities For April Discussed By Group

LONACONING — Central Elementary Parent-Teacher Association will give assistance to Custodian Felix Foote Sr., in the beautification program planned for the school yard, with hedge and flowers to be placed along a new fence.

A nominating committee, Mrs. Margaret Lashbaugh, Mrs. June Wattenschaidt, Mrs. Millard Bradley, Mrs. Elsie Humberson, Mrs. Armenta Robertson and Miss Marion Picken, will report in April at the PTA nominations meeting.

Mrs. Mildred Lewis was appointed chairman, to be assisted by the Home Room Mothers of the Central Elementary School, to have candy for sale on the nights of the operetta performances, to be presented by the school children.

Discussions were conducted on the holding of a social at the close of the school year, and sending delegates to the College Park PTA sessions, with no final action taken. Salt water taffy will be sold as a money raising project.

Because of the Easter school vacation, it was decided to hold the April meeting on Tuesday, April 27, at the school. A proposal by Mrs. Faye Brakeall to have a ballot and referendum to decide the night of the week and the week of the month to hold the PTA favored by the majority of members was approved.

The Study Group meeting will be held March 25, at 1:30 p. m. at the school, with Dr. Adam Baer as guest to show movies and hold a discussion. Mrs. Brakeall is chairman of this group.

Miss Alice McCormick, principal, announced that the school children are invited to enter the Talent Show, sponsored by Lonaconing Lions Club, to be held March 30, at San Toy Theatre, with three prizes offered to the winners of the under 16 age group.

Pre-School registration will be held from 3:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. April 1 and April 2, at Central School. Lendermans' trained animals and Society Circus Revue, trained pony and dogs, will perform at a school program on April 5 at 9 a. m.

"Daniel Webster Chore Boy", a Strawbridge production, will be presented at the school April 6 at 1:30 p. m. for the elementary school pupils to attend.

A movie projector has been purchased, it was announced by Miss McCormick. Miss Mary Meyers' first grade room won the PTA award for having the most parents present at the March meeting.

Mrs. Esther Bowden led the group singing accompanied by Miss Verna Miller, pianist. A panel discussion was held with "Recreation in Our Community and In Our School" as the topic.

Moderator was Calvin James. Mrs. Audrel Garlitz talked on the Jackson Parent-Teacher Association acquiring it's playground; Mrs. Ethel Pase told what the Teenagers are doing now. Mrs. Katherine Freeman related "What They Would Like to Do at Central Elementary School."

Melvin Sloan talked on the "Little League" organization. Edward McPartland talked on the Dans Mountain Recreation Area. The group expressed interest in getting a playground at Central.

Mrs. Audrel Garlitz was appointed chairman of the playground for the Central Elementary School to look into the possibilities.

Former County Woman Is Found Dead At Pontiac

WESTERNPORT—The body of a former resident of Westernport, Mrs. Viola (Howe) Peters, was found hanging from the rafters of the basement of her home in Pontiac, Mich., Tuesday, after her husband, Charles F. Peters Jr., returned home from work.

Mrs. Peters, 49, was a native of Borden Shaft but had resided in Westernport most of her life. She and her husband had only moved into their home last Saturday. He is a former Celanese worker who has been employed at an automobile plant in Pontiac.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a son, Frederick "Junior" Peters, Pontiac; a daughter, Phyllis Ann Peters, at home; a brother, Ralph Howe, Bay City, Mich., and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Estell, Lorain, Ohio.

The body will arrive in Westernport this evening and be taken to the Boal Funeral Home for services at 11 a. m. Saturday. Interment will be in Philos Cemetery.

Keyser To Enlarge No. End Playground

KEYSER—The City of Keyser purchased a parcel of land facing on North Main Street, from the Western Maryland Railway Company at the meeting of the mayor and council Tuesday. The land will become a part of the North End Playgrounds, which adjoins the railway company property. The price paid for the .609 acres was $600, and was taken from the funds held by the Keyser Recreation Board.

The meeting of council was a short routine session, during which four gas masks were purchased by the council for use of the Keyser Volunteer Fire Company.

Adult Study Group Will Meet Tonight

FROSTBURG — The third meeting of the adult study course will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at Beall Elementary School.

Miss Esther Carter, of the board of education, will conduct the discussion. All teachers and members of the Beall Elementary PTA are invited to attend.

The names of principals in the ceremony have not been announced, but these names and other details will be made public within a few days.

Vale Summit Tops Red Cross Quota

FROSTBURG — Willis Scott, chairman of the Red Cross Drive in the Vale Summit-Loartown area, announced that section has oversubscribed their quota of $50 by raising $59.50.

Those assisting Scott in the campaign were Mrs. Chester Yates, Mrs. Elmer Loar and Miss Teresa Cain. According to Miss Withrup, county chairman, Vale Summit was the first in the county to report oversubscribed.

Circle K Club To Raise Fund In Cancer Drive

Plan Talent Show Over Keyser Cable

KEYSER—Members of the Circle K Club, at Potomac State College, are prepared to present their first television program show, which they are sponsoring Tuesday, April 6, for the benefit of the Cancer Crusade in Mineral County. The show will be telecast from the assembly room in Science Hall, on the campus, beginning at 7 p. m. and continuing for at least two hours.

The project will be presented through cooperation with the Keyser Television Company, which sponsors the local cable system. Anderson Patrick, of the company, will take the pictures with new equipment, recently acquired.

General Chairman Gary VanMeter is urging the cooperation of both students and faculty members of the college, as well as other persons in the area, in offering their talents for the show. The Circle K wants local persons talented in singing, dancing, playing musical instruments and other types of entertainment. Acts may be performed by individuals or groups.

VanMeter has announced the following student committees of Circle K Club:

Publicity: Hoey Dove, chairman; Jack Sheets, P. T. Dayton, Staley White, Max Messenger, Keith Collett and Robert Twigg.

Assistants for the telecast: Adrian LaRue, chairman; George Wolfe, Robert McCune, Ellsworth Herrell, Frank Knotts and Willis Collett.

Program workers: Co-chairmen for campus talent; Dan Sharpless and Gene Kessel. Assistants: Andrew Jurick, Jerry Essex, Ronald Fowler, Albert Whitmer, Edward Harrison, Richard Lyons, and Kenneth Lambert.

Leon McDowell is chairman for off-campus talent, with Carl White, Gene Becker and Clinton Rogers, assistants.

James Gainer and Clyde Feer are in charge of obtaining speakers for the program.

Chairman for auction of seats is Robert Yoho, with the following assistants: Richard Lyons, James Manley and Rex Arbogast.

As the show progresses the names of persons calling to the production center and the amount of money they promise to contribute will be announced. Frank Gault will have charge of telephone arrangements.

Maids Of Honor Selected For Queen Shenandoah XXVII

WINCHESTER — Miss Evelyn Montague Cooper and Miss Jane Gardner Sjostrom, both of this city, have been chosen as the Maids of Honor to Queen Shenandoah XXVII for the 1954 Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival, to be held here on April 29-30. The Maids of Honor are ranking members of the Queen's Court, which will also include 36 princesses from schools and colleges in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia.

Miss Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke T. Cooper, is a student at Stuart Hall, Staunton, Va. Her father, owner of the General Oil Company, is a member of the Festival's Board of Directors and a former officer of the spring fete. Miss Cooper, who is 18 years old, is a member of the Cotillion Club at Stuart Hall, vice president of her class, secretary-treasurer of the Glee Club and a member of the College Choir.

Miss Sjostrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Gardner Sjostrom, is a student at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va. She was graduated from Stuart Hall, where she was a member of the Athletic Board, last June. Miss Sjostrom's father, an executive of the Virginia Woolen Company, is also a member of the Festival's Board of Directors and, in the past, has served as the director of several departments of the spring fete. Miss Sjostrom, who is 19 years old, is a member of the Junior Swimming Club at Mary Washington College and is a Qualified Red Cross swimming instructor.

The Maids of Honor, the Apple Blossom princesses and six children, who will serve as pages, make up the retinue for Queen Shenandoah XXVII.

Dainty Dozen Meet

LONACONING—The Dainty Dozen Club met Tuesday at the home of Miss Ruth Lee Schramm.

Refreshments were served after the business meeting. Next week Miss Dona Lee Stafford will be hostess to the club.

Central PTA To Assist In Landscaping Project

Activities For April Discussed By Group

LONACONING — Central Elementary Parent-Teacher Association will give assistance to Custodian Felix Foote Sr., in the beautification program planned for the school yard, with hedge and flowers to be placed along a new fence.

A nominating committee, Mrs. Margaret Lashbaugh, Mrs. June Wattenschaidt, Mrs. Millard Bradley, Mrs. Elsie Humberson, Mrs. Armenta Robertson and Miss Marion Picken, will report in April at the PTA nominations meeting.

Mrs. Mildred Lewis was appointed chairman, to be assisted by the Home Room Mothers of the Central Elementary School, to have candy for sale on the nights of the operetta performances, to be presented by the school children.

Discussions were conducted on the holding of a social at the close of the school year, and sending delegates to the College Park PTA sessions, with no final action taken. Salt water taffy will be sold as a money raising project.

Because of the Easter school vacation, it was decided to hold the April meeting on Tuesday, April 27, at the school. A proposal by Mrs. Faye Brakeall to have a ballot and referendum to decide the night of the week and the week of the month to hold the PTA favored by the majority of members was approved.

The Study Group meeting will be held March 25, at 1:30 p. m. at the school, with Dr. Adam Baer as guest to show movies and hold a discussion. Mrs. Brakeall is chairman of this group.

Miss Alice McCormick, principal, announced that the school children are invited to enter the Talent Show, sponsored by Lonaconing Lions Club, to be held March 30, at San Toy Theatre, with three prizes offered to the winners of the under 16 age group.

Pre-School registration will be held from 3:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. April 1 and April 2, at Central School. Lendermans' trained animals and Society Circus Revue, trained pony and dogs, will perform at a school program on April 5 at 9 a. m.

"Daniel Webster Chore Boy", a Strawbridge production, will be presented at the school April 6 at 1:30 p. m. for the elementary school pupils to attend.

A movie projector has been purchased, it was announced by Miss McCormick. Miss Mary Meyers' first grade room won the PTA award for having the most parents present at the March meeting.

Mrs. Esther Bowden led the group singing accompanied by Miss Verna Miller, pianist. A panel discussion was held with "Recreation in Our Community and In Our School" as the topic.

Moderator was Calvin James. Mrs. Audrel Garlitz talked on the Jackson Parent-Teacher Association acquiring it's playground; Mrs. Ethel Pase told what the Teenagers are doing now. Mrs. Katherine Freeman related "What They Would Like to Do at Central Elementary School."

Melvin Sloan talked on the "Little League" organization. Edward McPartland talked on the Dans Mountain Recreation Area. The group expressed interest in getting a playground at Central.

Mrs. Audrel Garlitz was appointed chairman of the playground for the Central Elementary School to look into the possibilities.

Former County Woman Is Found Dead At Pontiac

WESTERNPORT—The body of a former resident of Westernport, Mrs. Viola (Howe) Peters, was found hanging from the rafters of the basement of her home in Pontiac, Mich., Tuesday, after her husband, Charles F. Peters Jr., returned home from work.

Mrs. Peters, 49, was a native of Borden Shaft but had resided in Westernport most of her life. She and her husband had only moved into their home last Saturday. He is a former Celanese worker who has been employed at an automobile plant in Pontiac.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a son, Frederick "Junior" Peters, Pontiac; a daughter, Phyllis Ann Peters, at home; a brother, Ralph Howe, Bay City, Mich., and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Estell, Lorain, Ohio.

The body will arrive in Westernport this evening and be taken to the Boal Funeral Home for services at 11 a. m. Saturday. Interment will be in Philos Cemetery.

Keyser To Enlarge No. End Playground

KEYSER—The City of Keyser purchased a parcel of land facing on North Main Street, from the Western Maryland Railway Company at the meeting of the mayor and council Tuesday. The land will become a part of the North End Playgrounds, which adjoins the railway company property. The price paid for the .609 acres was $600, and was taken from the funds held by the Keyser Recreation Board.

The meeting of council was a short routine session, during which four gas masks were purchased by the council for use of the Keyser Volunteer Fire Company.

Adult Study Group Will Meet Tonight

FROSTBURG — The third meeting of the adult study course will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at Beall Elementary School.

Miss Esther Carter, of the board of education, will conduct the discussion. All teachers and members of the Beall Elementary PTA are invited to attend.

Ike Grins As He Becomes Adopted Son Of The Irish

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower became an adopted son of the Irish tonight and observed with his broad German grin:

"What could be more zany than to take into the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick a man by the name of Eisenhower."

The President was the honored guest of the Washington Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, and he touched off round after round of laughter with his quips.

He also spoke in a serious way:

"If we only could exploit this word 'friendly.' How much it would mean to all of us.

"Think of all the things we would gain if we could say we were friendly. No word means so much as 'friends.' That's all the United States wants in the world — just friends."

Eisenhower was introduced at the society's annual dinner at the Mayflower Hotel by Howard W. Kacy, president of the organization.

Speaking against a backdrop showing Killarney castle in Ireland, Kacy noted that the society was established more than 200 years ago. He told Eisenhower that only two presidents of the United States before him have held honorary membership in the society. The first, Kacy weent on, was George Washington, who "like yourself believed in the power of prayer."

Kacy made no mention of the second president to become an honorary member — Harry S. Truman.

Responding, Eisenhower said he could think of no greater honor than to be "placed in the same category with the immortal Washington."

H. Fryer, a member of Ridgeley's flood control committee, expressed the opinion that both cities should send delegations to attend the appropriations committee meetings and that both Maryland and West Virginia represenatives should be contacted and urged to fight for additional flood control funds.

Much of the time was spent of the explanation of various technical terms used by the Corps of Engineers and in explaining the advantages of some parts of the over-all project on which work has already begun.

Wadsworth said all the phases have been thoroughly investigated so that any work started has been with a goal of protecting a definite area in mind. The work is being done on a definite gamble—that high water will not occur until the project is completed, it was explained.

The schedule of work has not advanced to the point where the Corps of Engineers knows what it definitely wants to complete, Wadsworth noted. That is why, he stressed, when the two cities agree on the phase to begin in November no change should be requested by either city.

Complete protection, Wadsworth continued, will not result until the final phases—construction of pumping stations—are completed.

Wadsworth also outlined the immediate and long-range projects the Corps of Engineers had in mind at a meeting Tuesday night at Ridgeley High School. The meeting had been called when residents of that town became concerned as to whether Ridgeley would be accorded the same amount of protection from high water as Cumberland is expected to have when the project is completed.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of streets and public properties, was complimented on the arrangements which the Street Department had set up to maintain the sewers constructed under the flood program. Wadsworth said he would send representatives to confer with officials of that department in order that the methods used here could be incorporated into a manual the Corps of Engineers is making for use in other cities where similar projects have been constructed.

Cumberland officials at the meeting were Mayor Eves, Commissioners Roeder, William V. Keegan and William J. Edwards, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

Ridgeley was represented by Mayor William D. Bidinger, Commissioners Charles Coffman, Harry F. Kelso and W. L. Preaskorn, J. H. Simmons, town advisor, and Fryer, C. E. Shapherd, F. V. Carpenter and J. W. Aldridge, members of the Ridgeley flood control committee.

William Williams, assistant engineer, attended as a representative of the Western Maryland Railway.

The Corps of Engineers was also represented by Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer.

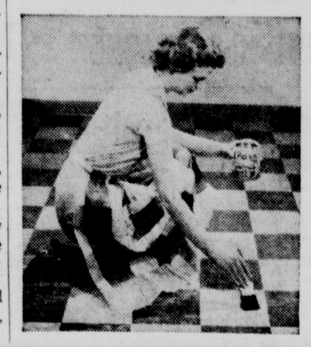
New Floor Care Ends Waxing



One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Rosenbaum's—Fourth Floor.

NEW YORK'S STEVE KRALY

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The Philadelphia Athletics found that "good things come in small packages" when wee Bobby Shantz took the stage to become their ace pitcher.

The Yankees are going along with that, too, and of all the young pitchers in camp the best could be the pint-sized Stephen Charles Kraly, who reported this spring weighing a mere 144 pounds even when reading the scales to advantage.

Kraly, called "Cro" because he is Croatian, is fighting a double battle this spring, one to gain back the weight he has lost and the other to make the Yankee ball club, which would be quite a feat although he was brought up last July 31 and did get in a few games with the Bombers.

Strangely, the weight loss started during the World Series and it had nothing to do with the progress of the Yanks toward another pennant and championship.

IT WAS a tragedy back home that gave the young Whiting, Ind., hurler enough worry where he couldn't eat properly. A fire broke out in the Kraly home in Whiting at 2 a. m. while Steve was with the Yanks in New York.

His parents escaped but damage to the Kraly home was estimated at $7,000. Since Steve is the big breadwinner in the family it was quite a blow.

At the time of the Series Steve weighed 160 pounds. As mentioned above he reported here at 144 but now is up to 150.

A southpaw, the Whiting youth, 23 years old, is rated one of the finest of the Yankee prospects. His record is spectacular all the way through.

He played high school ball at Whiting and his record there was 30 victories and only two defeats, including two no-hitters. He also played semi-pro ball and in his first start he twirled a no-hitter.

A Yankee scout, Lou Mongillo, spotted him and signed him to a contract for which he was paid a bonus of $800. He decided to attend college and, having a scholarship at Indiana university, he went there but dropped out of school to play pro ball and help support his parents.

His first season in pro ball was with Independence, Mo., where he won 15 and lost 10. This was in 1949. The following year he went to Joplin where his record was 18-6.

THE ARMY called then and he spent the next two years in the service, being stationed at Fort Custer, Mich. He pitched while in the service, winning 32 games and losing but 3. When he came out he was sent to Binghamton and he compiled such a fancy record that the Yanks called him up last July 31. At Binghamton he won 19 games while losing only two. He had 139 strikeouts and an earned-run average of 2.08.

Manager Casey Stengel is extremely high on this little guy. "He's small, but he knows how to pitch," he says.

YoungGolfers Might Upset Winter Tour

Littler And Holscher Have Surprised Pros

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—With the virtual retirement of golf's fabulous 40-year-olds, a couple of kids from California who decided to turn pro while they were in the Navy have started a youth movement that is threatening to turn the winter tour upside down.

The leaders are Gene Littler, who used up some of his Navy leave last September winning the National Amateur championship, and his pal Bud Holscher. So far they haven't gotten rich at their new trade, nor have they made the fans forget the Ben Hogans, Sammy Sneads and Jimmy Demarets. But the time may not be far away when they'll do both.

It was over a year ago that Holscher revealed that he and Littler had decided the only square way they could play tournament golf after leaving the Navy would be to play for cash.

Budd got his discharge first and had served his six months probationary period before the 1954 winter tour began. Gene took the big step in January, when the fans had begun to hail him as the first amateur since Bobby Jones who could beat the pros at their own game.

While still wearing Uncle Sam's uniform, Littler teamed up with Art Wall to tie for first in the Bing Crosby Pro-Amateur Tournament—a triumph worth $650 to Wall. A week later he shot four rounds over Rancho Santa Fe, his pet course, in 67-66-69-72—274 to win the San Diego Open. Dutch Harrison, who finished four strokes behind, took the top money of $2,400.

Meanwhile Holscher has been doing very well financially for a newcomer. He collected his first tournament prize, $1,075, for a fourth place tie at Los Angeles, picked up a couple of hundred in unofficial winnings, then won $1,050 in Mexico and $520 in last week's Baton Rouge open, placing seventh in each. His scoring average of 71.7 strokes a round isn't to be overlooked, either.

Redlegs Defeat Detroit, 4 To 1

TAMPA, Fla., March 17 (AP) — Good clutch pitching, plus timely hitting enabled the Cincinnati Redlegs to rack up their third straight Grapefruit League victory today as they downed the Detroit Tigers 4-1.

The Tigers, limited to eight hits by Art Fowler, the winner, Jim Melton and Jack Crimian, were shut out until the ninth, when an error by Johnny Temple together with a pair of singles accounted for the Tigers' lone marker.

Bob Borkowski of the Redlegs scored three runs, leading the Redleg attack with a homer and a double.

Nuggets, Legion Score Opening Round Triumphs

WOW, Hi Dee Women Shufflers Trailing

The Frostburg Golden Nuggets, first place champions, and the Frostburg Legion took the lead in opening round matches in the semi-final playoffs of the Women's Allegany County Shuffleboard League last night.

The Nuggets took a 44 point lead at the end of the first three games with Cumberland Woodmen of the World, winning the match played on neutral Cas Taylor boards, 89 to 45, while copping all three games.

The Legion shufflers, who finished second in the league race, also won all three games from the fourth-place Hi Dee Club, taking a 42 point lead with a 100 to 58 victory on the Legion alleys.

Total points will be used to determine the semi-final and final victors, based on nine games played on a home and home basis and a neutral court match.

Phyllis Geis topped the Legion scorers with 21 points while Alvena Gibson had 15 tallies for Hi Dee Club. The Nuggets top point-getter was Pat Green with 19 markers. Ruth Spera had 10 points for WOW.

Second round matches in the semi-finals will be played next Wednesday when the Woodmen will host the Nuggets and the Legion will play on the Hi Dee boards. Final games will be played when the Legion-Hi Dee match will be shot on neutral boards at Clingerman's Wednesday, March 31. The Nuggets will host the WOW team in their final three games Friday, April 2.

The finals between the victors will begin the following week, Mrs. Vi Gibson, president of the circuit said, with home and home games plus three games on neutral alleys at Pocahontas. A consolation round between the losers also is scheduled.

Johnson Gains Nod Over Paul Andrews

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP)—Harold Johnson, No. 1 light heavyweight contender, bounced up from a first round knockdown to gain a split 10 round decision over ninth-ranked Paul Andrews at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Johnson, aiming for a summer shot at Archie Moore's 175-pound crown, had to turn on the pressure with righthand blasts to gain his 12th straight victory and his 48th victory against five defeats.

Referee Frank Gilmer voted for Johnson 94-90 and Judge John Bray called it for Philadelphia Harold 95-88, while Judge Franklin McAdams saw it a 93-93 draw.

Brooklyn Scores 8th Win In Row

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers made it eight in a row with a 5-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox today.

Shut out by Sandy Consuegra for five innings, the National League champs scored twice in the sixth and then rocked Al Zillian for three runs in the seventh. Don Hoak's homer, the first here this spring, and a triple by Junior Gilliam featured the attack.

All-State Loop To Meet Sunday, Seeks 6th Team

The All-State Baseball League will meet Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Frostburg American Legion hall to make final plans for the coming season for the newly-organized circuit.

Franchise fees for all teams interested in joining the loop will be posted at this meeting, Frank Patrone, secretary-treasurer of the loop, explained. Five teams have expressed their willingness to enter the circuit but a sixth team is being sought to round out the league.

The final schedule will also be drawn up at this important meeting.

John J. Long is commissioner of the new league and Frank J. Davis is president.

Necciai Appears Done As Hurler

Sore Arm Plaguing Pirates' Twirler

FORT PIERCE, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Ron Necciai, 21-year-old minor league sensation who once pitched a no-hit game and struck out all 27 men, asked the Pittsburgh Pirates today to put him on the voluntary retired list.

Necciai, plagued by a sore arm, was one of five players the Pirates ordered sent to their minor league camp at Huntsville, Texas

Instead, Necciai flew to Pittsburgh. He lives at Monongahela near the steel city.

Necciai said his arm is so sore he can hardly sleep nights. Broken hearted, he said he didn't believe he will return to baseball.

Rocket Ron had pitched only twice in the exhibition series. He went four innings the first time and looked good. Then, against Detroit on March 10, he walked off the mound with a sore arm after pitching to but two batters.

It was in 1952 that Necciai startled the baseball world by striking out every batter while hurling his no-hitter against Welch (W. Va.) in the Appalachian League.

Shuffle Teams Battle For Runner-Up Spot

The battle for the runner-up spot in the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League continues tonight with the Cumberland K. of C. at the Goodfellowship Club, Fisher and Robinette at the Frostburg K. of C. and the Amvets playing host to the Cumberland V.F.W.

Cumberland's Knights of Columbus hold second place eight games back of the front-running Frostburg Stadium Inn. Fisher and Robinette trails the Knights by three full games and the Amvets are in fourth place only two games in the rear of the F.&R. shufflers.

Other matches on tap for tonight are Frostburg Golden Nugget at Mt. Savage V.F.W., Purple Heart Club at Frostburg American Legion, Hann's Tavern and Stadium Inn and Mike Miller's, Frostburg, at Cas Taylor's.

The Hi Dee Club at the Woodmen of the World match is set for Friday night.

Hearing Today On Busch's Ban From Baseball

Johnson Seeks To Oust Beer Baron From Game

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — The drive to oust August Busch, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, from organized baseball gets a public airing tomorrow before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), so far a one-man task force against Busch, is the leadoff witness at the hearing before a subcommittee headed by Sen. Langer (R-ND).

The hearing was called to look into a bill introduced by Johnson that would make a baseball club owned by a beer or liquor business subject to the nation's anti-trust laws.

Busch is head of Anheuser-Busch Co., St. Louis brewery. And it is at Busch that the Johnson bill is directed. The Colorado senator, president of the Class A Western League, made this clear in a Senate speech when he said Busch was using baseball as "a cold-blooded, beer-peddling business."

Johnson said his bill "is aimed specifically at the beer-baseball combination in St. Louis where Mr. August A. Busch . . . has been permitted to gain control of the Cardinals."

Capitol Hill sources said it was too early to say just how seriously Johnson's bill might be considered. "It all depends on what Johnson tells the committee tomorrow," one source said.

Also pending is a bill by Rep. Celler (D-NY) to place all of organized baseball under the anti-trust laws. This bill probably would have the effect of outlawing such baseball provisions as the celebebrated reserve clause, which ties a player to his parent club as long as the club wants to keep him.

The Supreme Court last year ruled that if baseball is to be made subject to the anti-trust laws, Congress will have to pass specific legislation setting up the rules.

Busch and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, were invited to testify before the subcommittee tomorrow, but have been excused until a later date, not yet fixed.

50th In Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Ben Hogan finished in a tie for 50th place among 69 competing pros today as Freddie Haas Jr. of New Orleans and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis tied for low in a pro-amateur prelude to the $15,000 International Four Ball Golf Tournament.

Hogan was two over par for the Normandy Shores course with 74. Only 11 of the pros reported higher scores than Hogan.

Phillies Blanked By Braves, 2-0

Joe Adcock Bats In Both Milwaukee Runs

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Joe Adcock batted home two runs while pitchers Bob Buhl and rookie Ray Crone limited the Philadelphia Phillies to five hits today to give the Milwaukee Braves a 2-0 victory in a Grapefruit League game.

Adcock smashed a single off losing pitcher Jim Konstanty in the first inning to score Danny O'Connell. He singled home Andy Pafko with the Braves' other run in the eighth inning.

Buhl, who worked the first six innings and gave up four hits, was the winner. Crone allowed only one hit in his three inning chore.

Syracuse Wins, 96-95

BOSTON, March 17 (AP)—Syracuse's possessive big Dolph Schayes scored nine points in the first three minutes of a 5-minute overtime period tonight and the Nationals hung on to whip Boston Celtics 96-95 to take the lead in the round robin playoffs of the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

Spot Tops Dennison's 62-60 In 135-Pound Class Thriller

Sports Shoppe Victor; Stoop's Swamps Electric Quintet By 76-26 Score

Ridgeley Legion and Stoop's Restaurant cagers advanced with easy victories in opening round games in the Senior and Junior Unlimited Classes of the Central YMCA and Cumberland Jaycees ninth annual basketball tournament last night at the "Y".

The Legionnaires, easily victorious over Grantsville Legion by a 57-37 count, advanced to the semi-finals of the Senior Unlimited Class in last night's final game of four played on the third day of the tournament.

Paul Fisher was the top gunner for the Ridgeleyites who join Beightol's, Sisk's and Valley Cheese Company as first round winners. The latter drew a first round bye. Fisher hit the nets for 19 points in pacing Ridgeley's win over Grantsville.

Closely following Fisher's lead were Bill Bratt and Harry Hartman, each of whom scored 14 tallies for Ridgeley. High man for Grantsville was Charles Ringer with 15. Mark Fruehan had 14 tallies for the losers who trailed throughout the game 24-14, 28-21 and 41-29 at the quarters.

Stoop's In Easy Win

One of the most lopsided scores of the young tourney was registered in the Junior Unlimited division when Stoop's Restaurant of Frostburg, composed of players from Bruce High and Beall High varsity basketball teams, recorded a whopping 76 to 26 decision over the Cumberland Electric Company's cagers in the third game of the evening.

Managed by Cliff Fearer the Stoop's team almost tripled the score in the first quarter against the Electricians and went on to register the easiest triumph of the session to date. Leading 23-8 at the quarter, Stoop's increased the margin to 42-18 at halftime and led 57-20 at the close of the third stanza.

Stoop's poured home 32 field goals while limiting the Electric Company team to nine. Four Stoop's players registered in the double figures in scoring, Jim Smith and Fred Wolford tallying 15 apiece, Ronnie Brenneman collecting 14 and Ronnie Coleman 12. Jim Cave of Bruce had nine tallies for the winners.

High man for the losers was Bill Steppe with eight points.

Stoop's victory advanced the Frostburg cagers into Monday night's 8:30 engagement with Cut Rate Shoe Store which drew a first round bye.

Spot Victorious, 62-60

In a continuance of the closely-fought games which have marked the tournament's first three days Spot Confectionery edged Dennison's Painting five 62 to 60 in the 135-pound second tilt of the evening. Lowell Loy is manager of the Spot team.

Fred Barbe hit the nets for 27 points to pave the way for the Spot victory, but despite his high total was second to Don Rapson of Dennison's who caged 29 markers in a losing cause.

The battle was close throughout with Dennison's trailing 19-16, 30-26 and 45-43 at the quarters. The Spot quintet now draws a bye into the semi final round of the 135-pound division and will play its next contest Tuesday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m. The eliminated Dennison's team was managed by George E. Dennison.

In the opener of the four-game schedule last evening Manager Pete Elliott's Sport Shoppe downed Calvary Methodist quint, 50 to 41, in a 115-pound division clash.

The triumph moved the Sports Shoppe into the semi-final round Monday at 6:30 p.m. when the Elliottmen will meet Guy Mallow's Sweitzer's Restaurant five which drew a first round bye in the smaller division of the tournament.

YoungGolfers Might Upset Winter Tour

Littler And Holscher Have Surprised Pros

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—With the virtual retirement of golf's fabulous 40-year-olds, a couple of kids from California who decided to turn pro while they were in the Navy have started a youth movement that is threatening to turn the winter tour upside down.

The leaders are Gene Littler, who used up some of his Navy leave last September winning the National Amateur championship, and his pal Bud Holscher. So far they haven't gotten rich at their new trade, nor have they made the fans forget the Ben Hogans, Sammy Sneads and Jimmy Demarets. But the time may not be far away when they'll do both.

It was over a year ago that Holscher revealed that he and Littler had decided the only square way they could play tournament golf after leaving the Navy would be to play for cash.

Budd got his discharge first and had served his six months probationary period before the 1954 winter tour began. Gene took the big step in January, when the fans had begun to hail him as the first amateur since Bobby Jones who could beat the pros at their own game.

While still wearing Uncle Sam's uniform, Littler teamed up with Art Wall to tie for first in the Bing Crosby Pro-Amateur Tournament—a triumph worth $650 to Wall. A week later he shot four rounds over Rancho Santa Fe, his pet course, in 67-66-69-72—274 to win the San Diego Open. Dutch Harrison, who finished four strokes behind, took the top money of $2,400.

Meanwhile Holscher has been doing very well financially for a newcomer. He collected his first tournament prize, $1,075, for a fourth place tie at Los Angeles, picked up a couple of hundred in unofficial winnings, then won $1,050 in Mexico and $520 in last week's Baton Rouge open, placing seventh in each. His scoring average of 71.7 strokes a round isn't to be overlooked, either.

Redlegs Defeat Detroit, 4 To 1

TAMPA, Fla., March 17 (AP) — Good clutch pitching, plus timely hitting enabled the Cincinnati Redlegs to rack up their third straight Grapefruit League victory today as they downed the Detroit Tigers 4-1.

The Tigers, limited to eight hits by Art Fowler, the winner, Jim Melton and Jack Crimian, were shut out until the ninth, when an error by Johnny Temple together with a pair of singles accounted for the Tigers' lone marker.

Bob Borkowski of the Redlegs scored three runs, leading the Redleg attack with a homer and a double.

Hornets Lose Opener

WINTER GARDEN, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Charlotte Hornets, beaten 9-3 by Chattanooga in their exhibition opener, hope for better luck against Hagerstown, Md., tomorrow.

The Hornets tackle Chattanooga Friday and Hagerstown again Saturday.

Nuggets, Legion Score Opening Round Triumphs

WOW, Hi Dee Women Shufflers Trailing

The Frostburg Golden Nuggets, first place champions, and the Frostburg Legion took the lead in opening round matches in the semi-final playoffs of the Women's Allegany County Shuffleboard League last night.

The Nuggets took a 44 point lead at the end of the first three games with Cumberland Woodmen of the World, winning the match played on neutral Cas Taylor boards, 89 to 45, while copping all three games.

The Legion shufflers, who finished second in the league race, also won all three games from the fourth-place Hi Dee Club, taking a 42 point lead with a 100 to 58 victory on the Legion alleys.

Total points will be used to determine the semi-final and final victors, based on nine games played on a home and home basis and a neutral court match.

Phyllis Geis topped the Legion scorers with 21 points while Alvena Gibson had 15 tallies for Hi Dee Club. The Nuggets top point-getter was Pat Green with 19 markers. Ruth Spera had 10 points for WOW.

Second round matches in the semi-finals will be played next Wednesday when the Woodmen will host the Nuggets and the Legion will play on the Hi Dee boards. Final games will be played when the Legion-Hi Dee match will be shot on neutral boards at Clingerman's Wednesday, March 31. The Nuggets will host the WOW team in their final three games Friday, April 2.

The finals between the victors will begin the following week, Mrs. Vi Gibson, president of the circuit said, with home and home games plus three games on neutral alleys at Pocahontas. A consolation round between the losers also is scheduled.

Johnson Gains Nod Over Paul Andrews

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP)—Harold Johnson, No. 1 light heavyweight contender, bounced up from a first round knockdown to gain a split 10 round decision over ninth-ranked Paul Andrews at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Johnson, aiming for a summer shot at Archie Moore's 175-pound crown, had to turn on the pressure with righthand blasts to gain his 12th straight victory and his 48th victory against five defeats.

Referee Frank Gilmer voted for Johnson 94-90 and Judge John Bray called it for Philadelphia Harold 95-88, while Judge Franklin McAdams saw it a 93-93 draw.

Brooklyn Scores 8th Win In Row

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers made it eight in a row with a 5-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox today.

Shut out by Sandy Consuegra for five innings, the National League champs scored twice in the sixth and then rocked Al Zillian for three runs in the seventh. Don Hoak's homer, the first here this spring, and a triple by Junior Gilliam featured the attack.

League To Meet

The Tri-State Pony League will meet tonight at Midland Fire Hall beginning at 7:30 to make plans for the coming season. All team representatives are urged to attend.

Dust Storm Cancels Orioles-Giants Tilt

YUMA, Ariz., March 17 (AP)—Wind and dust brought a cancellation today of the exhibition game scheduled between the Baltimore Orioles and New York Giants.

All-State Loop To Meet Sunday, Seeks 6th Team

The All-State Baseball League will meet Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Frostburg American Legion hall to make final plans for the coming season for the newly-organized circuit.

Franchise fees for all teams interested in joining the loop will be posted at this meeting, Frank Patrone, secretary-treasurer of the loop, explained. Five teams have expressed their willingness to enter the circuit but a sixth team is being sought to round out the league.

The final schedule will also be drawn up at this important meeting.

John J. Long is commissioner of the new league and Frank J. Davis is president.

Necciai Appears Done As Hurler

Sore Arm Plaguing Pirates' Twirler

FORT PIERCE, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Ron Necciai, 21-year-old minor league sensation who once pitched a no-hit game and struck out all 27 men, asked the Pittsburgh Pirates today to put him on the voluntary retired list.

Necciai, plagued by a sore arm, was one of five players the Pirates ordered sent to their minor league camp at Huntsville, Texas

Instead, Necciai flew to Pittsburgh. He lives at Monongahela near the steel city.

Necciai said his arm is so sore he can hardly sleep nights. Broken hearted, he said he didn't believe he will return to baseball.

Rocket Ron had pitched only twice in the exhibition series. He went four innings the first time and looked good. Then, against Detroit on March 10, he walked off the mound with a sore arm after pitching to but two batters.

It was in 1952 that Necciai startled the baseball world by striking out every batter while hurling his no-hitter against Welch (W. Va.) in the Appalachian League.

Shuffle Teams Battle For Runner-Up Spot

The battle for the runner-up spot in the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League continues tonight with the Cumberland K. of C. at the Goodfellowship Club, Fisher and Robinette at the Frostburg K. of C. and the Amvets playing host to the Cumberland V.F.W.

Cumberland's Knights of Columbus hold second place eight games back of the front-running Frostburg Stadium Inn. Fisher and Robinette trails the Knights by three full games and the Amvets are in fourth place only two games in the rear of the F.&R. shufflers.

Other matches on tap for tonight are Frostburg Golden Nugget at Mt. Savage V.F.W., Purple Heart Club at Frostburg American Legion, Hann's Tavern and Stadium Inn and Mike Miller's, Frostburg, at Cas Taylor's.

The Hi Dee Club at the Woodmen of the World match is set for Friday night.

Hearing Today On Busch's Ban From Baseball

Johnson Seeks To Oust Beer Baron From Game

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — The drive to oust August Busch, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, from organized baseball gets a public airing tomorrow before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), so far a one-man task force against Busch, is the leadoff witness at the hearing before a subcommittee headed by Sen. Langer (R-ND).

The hearing was called to look into a bill introduced by Johnson that would make a baseball club owned by a beer or liquor business subject to the nation's anti-trust laws.

Busch is head of Anheuser-Busch Co., St. Louis brewery. And it is at Busch that the Johnson bill is directed. The Colorado senator, president of the Class A Western League, made this clear in a Senate speech when he said Busch was using baseball as "a cold-blooded, beer-peddling business."

Johnson said his bill "is aimed specifically at the beer-baseball combination in St. Louis where Mr. August A. Busch . . . has been permitted to gain control of the Cardinals."

Capitol Hill sources said it was too early to say just how seriously Johnson's bill might be considered. "It all depends on what Johnson tells the committee tomorrow," one source said.

Also pending is a bill by Rep. Celler (D-NY) to place all of organized baseball under the anti-trust laws. This bill probably would have the effect of outlawing such baseball provisions as the celebrated reserve clause, which ties a player to his parent club as long as the club wants to keep him.

The Supreme Court last year ruled that if baseball is to be made subject to the anti-trust laws, Congress will have to pass specific legislation setting up the rules.

Busch and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, were invited to testify before the subcommittee tomorrow, but have been excused until a later date, not yet fixed.

50th In Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Ben Hogan finished in a tie for 50th place among 69 competing pros today as Freddie Haas Jr. of New Orleans and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis tied for low in a pro-amateur prelude to the $15,000 International Four Ball Golf Tournament.

Hogan was two over par for the Normandy Shores course with 74. Only 11 of the pros reported higher scores than Hogan.

Phillies Blanked By Braves, 2-0

Joe Adcock Bats In Both Milwaukee Runs

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Joe Adcock batted home two runs while pitchers Bob Buhl and rookie Ray Crone limited the Philadelphia Phillies to five hits today to give the Milwaukee Braves a 2-0 victory in a Grapefruit League game.

Adcock smashed a single off losing pitcher Jim Konstanty in the first inning to score Danny O'Connell. He singled home Andy Pafko with the Braves' other run in the eighth inning.

Buhl, who worked the first six innings and gave up four hits, was the winner. Crone allowed only one hit in his three inning chore.

BOSTON, March 17 (AP)—Syracuse's possessive big Dolph Schayes scored nine points in the first three minutes of a 5-minute overtime period tonight and the Nationals hung on to whip Boston Celtics 96-95 to take the lead in the round robin playoffs of the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

Spot Tops Dennison's 62-60 In 135-Pound Class Thriller

Sports Shoppe Victor; Stoop's Swamps Electric Quintet By 76-26 Score

Ridgeley Legion and Stoop's Restaurant cagers advanced with easy victories in opening round games in the Senior and Junior Unlimited Classes of the Central YMCA and Cumberland Jaycees ninth annual basketball tournament last night at the "Y".

The Legionnaires, easily victorious over Grantsville Legion by a 57-37 count, advanced to the semi-finals of the Senior Unlimited Class in last night's final game of four played on the third day of the tournament.

Paul Fisher was the top gunner for the Ridgeleyites who join Beightol's, Sisk's and Valley Cheese Company as first round winners. The latter drew a first round bye. Fisher hit the nets for 19 points in pacing Ridgeley's win over Grantsville.

Closely following Fisher's lead were Bill Bratt and Harry Hartman, each of whom scored 14 tallies for Ridgeley. High man for Grantsville was Charles Ringer with 15. Mark Fruehan had 14 tallies for the losers who trailed throughout the game 24-14, 28-21 and 41-29 at the quarters.

Stoop's In Easy Win

One of the most lopsided scores of the young tourney was registered in the Junior Unlimited division when Stoop's Restaurant of Frostburg, composed of players from Bruce High and Beall High varsity basketball teams, recorded a whopping 76 to 26 decision over the Cumberland Electric Company's cagers in the third game of the evening.

Managed by Cliff Fearer the Stoop's team almost tripled the score in the first quarter against the Electricians and went on to register the easiest triumph of the session to date. Leading 23-8 at the quarter, Stoop's increased the margin to 42-18 at halftime and led 57-20 at the close of the third stanza.

Stoop's poured home 32 field goals while limiting the Electric Company team to nine. Four Stoop's players registered in the double figures in scoring, Jim Smith and Fred Wolford tallying 15 apiece, Ronnie Brenneman collecting 14 and Ronnie Coleman 12. Jim Cave of Bruce had nine tallies for the winners.

High man for the losers was Bill Steppe with eight points.

Stoop's victory advanced the Frostburg cagers into Monday night's 8:30 engagement with Cut Rate Shoe Store which drew a first round bye.

Spot Victorious, 62-60

In a continuance of the closely-fought games which have marked the tournament's first three days Spot Confectionery edged Dennison's Painting five 62 to 60 in the 135-pound second tilt of the evening. Lowell Loy is manager of the Spot team.

Fred Barbe hit the nets for 27 points to pave the way for the Spot victory, but despite his high total was second to Don Rapson of Dennison's who caged 29 markers in a losing cause.

The battle was close throughout with Dennison's trailing 19-16, 30-26 and 45-43 at the quarters. The Spot quintet now draws a bye into the semi final round of the 135-pound division and will play its next contest Tuesday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m. The eliminated Dennison's team was managed by George E. Dennison.

In the opener of the four-game schedule last evening Manager Pete Elliott's Sport Shoppe downed Calvary Methodist quint, 50 to 41, in a 115-pound division clash.

The triumph moved the Sports Shoppe into the semi-final round Monday at 6:30 p.m. when the Elliottmen will meet Guy Mallow's Sweitzer's Restaurant five which drew a first round bye in the smaller division of the tournament.

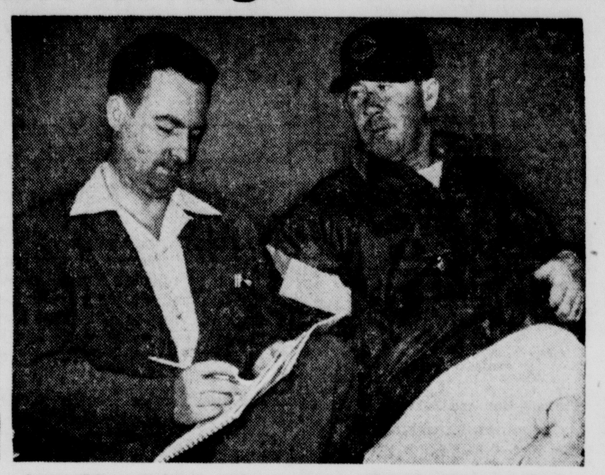
New-Found Power At Plate May Not Be Enough For Reds

Pitcher Fred Baczewski



Sports Editor Walter L. Johns interviews Manager Birdie Tebbetts.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

TAMPA, FLA.—George (Birdie) Tebbetts, the chirpin' character of baseball who is beginning his 20th season in the pro game with his first shot at being a major league manager, studied philosophy at Providence college those many years ago and he takes a philosophical approach to his new job as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

"I don't feel like I'm in any position to say much about this ball club," Birdie chirps, "for at this stage I'm still trying to acquaint myself with the players in this league and learning how to pronounce Kluszewski and Baczewski."

Birdie, who becomes the third Redleg manager in the last three years and who turned in a fine job as boss at Indianapolis last season after he had given up the pads and the glove, says that "there are a lot of jobs open on this club and all I know is that Ted Kluszewski, Gus Bell and Roy McMillan have a great chance."

The new Redleg manager, who says that "I've joined the National league now that the teams are better in this loop," is faced with many problems, particularly on the pitching line, for he has so many ball players or alleged ball players in camp that it will take weeks to sort them out.

THERE ARE 50 men and boys working out here, including 29 pitchers and it will take the combined efforts of Birdie and his two new coaches, the talkative Dick Bartell and Tom Ferrick, to sift the class from the big hill corps.

The Reds finished sixth last year, mainly because of a new-found power of the long-ball hitters, First Sacker Ted Kluszewski, who smashed 40 home runs; Outfielder Gus Bell, who had 30, and Outfielder Jim Greengrass, who belted 20. However, the pitching failed to come through and that appears to be the big problem again.

For front-line hurlers, unless a trade is effected, Birdie may have to go with Fred Baczewski, southpaw, who won 11 and lost four for the Redlegs after he was acquired from the Cubs; Southpaw Harry Perkowski, who won 12 and lost 11; the veteran Kenny Raffensberger, who finished with 7-14 and Bud Podbielan, who had 6-16.

Other holdover twirlers are Joe Nuxhall and Herm Wehmeier and the reliefer, Frank Smith. Wehmeier, of whom great things were expected, failed miserably last year, winding up with a 1-6 mark.

Howie Judson, ex-Redleg and White Sox, who won 11 in a row for Tulsa after being sent down, could figure as could Saul Rogovin, procured from the White Sox.

AMONG the many new pitchers being looked at are Jack Crimian, 13-5 with Rochester; Maurice Fisher, 16-7 with Columbia; Art Fowler, 18-10 with Atlanta; Bill Powell, 14-9 with Charleston; Moe Savransky, a returning serviceman who had 11-11 with Buffalo in 1951, and George Zuverink, big righthander formerly with the Indians who had 13-8 for Birdie's Indianapolis club last season.

There are five catchers in camp and Birdie is working with the youngsters day after day. Andy Seminick, the veteran, and Hobie Landrith are holdovers with the most promise shown by Ed Bailey, up from Tulsa.

Kluszewski is at first and the slick-fielding Roy McMillan at short. Bobby Adams is the third sacker but at second there could be some competition. Leading candidate is Johnny Temple, who got in 64 games for the Redlegs last year.

AMONG the surprises in camp here is Jackie Simpson, an 18-year-old shortstop from Van Nuys, Calif., who was signed out of high school but is expected to be sent out. Infield insurance will come from Rocky Krsnich, from the White Sox; Connie Ryan, from the Phils and White Sox, and Rocky Bridges, who played in 122 games for the Redlegs last year and is a fine competitor.

Two of the three outfield posts should be set with Bell and Greengrass. Wally Post, who hit 33 home runs and batted in 120 runs for Indianapolis, is being ticketed for the third spot. Seven other outfielders are bidding for spots, including the former Stanford football star, Lloyd Merriman, who failed to hit well for the Redlegs before he went into the service.

Tebbetts is not using pitching machines for, as he puts it, "We've 29 mechanical pitchers in camp and I don't have to use any others." He plans to give them all a chance in camp games. He also has scheduled extra batting instruction besides his two squad workouts for hitters, taking half a dozen at a time.

RECKONING THE REDLEGS

CINCINNATI—New-found power at plate, pitching staff appears weak, may have problem at second base. Must be considered second-division club despite fact have another new manager.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 17—(INS)—It was 31 years ago tomorrow that Mike McTigue, a native of County Clare, Ireland, won the light heavyweight championship of the world in Dublin.

He lifted the title from Battling Siki, a fighter from Senegal, South Africa, after 20 rounds of furious battling.

We recall the sneers of the Broadway wise guys as if it were yesterday. "What," they asked, "could you expect with an Irishman fighting in Ireland on St. Patrick's Day?"

The assumption, of course, was that Siki must have been robbed.

But over the years we have talked to a few men who saw that fight and all of them insisted it was a tough battle between a beautiful boxer who also could hit and take it an a carousing wild-swinging ignorant fighter who rarely was in condition to fight.

The result was inevitable.

You must remember that McTigue was no cheese champion. He had been fighting about 15 years when he won the title and in that time he had met all the best fighters in the world.

Here are a few of his opponents you will recall: Harry Greb, Jeff Smith, Panama Joe Gans and Tommy Loughran. After beating Siki, Mike fought two no-decision fights of eight and twelve rounds with Loughran.

We cite these facts of record merely to show any Johnny-Come-Lately that Mike McTigue really was a great fighter and that he didn't have to pick his spots or his opponents.

Mike was a shrewd hombre. He had gone to Ireland for a vacation in 1923 and while there he learned that Siki, who had knocked out George Carpentier in Paris the previous September was painting the French capital red.

So Mike went to Dublin and arranged a fight with Siki who, at that time was unable to get any fights, because the French were sore at him. There were stories at the time that Siki was supposed to go in the tank for Gorgeous George but instead the untutored savage belted out the French idol in six rounds.

Siki came over to Ireland, continued his wild carousing, trained little, if any, fought the superbly conditioned McTigue and lost, as he figured to lose.

Siki was murdered in a brawl in New York in 1925 and the last we heard of McTigue a few months ago he was very ill in a New York hospital.

Bradley Fans Clamoring For NCAA Tickets

Semi-Finals To Begin Friday At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, March 17 (AP)—Fired up Bradley fans took the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee off the hook today and guaranteed a complete sellout for the four-team finals starting here Friday night.

Back in Peoria, Ill., the Bradley supporters gobbled up their allotted 250 tickets in 7 minutes and stood in line for an hour to sign up for any additional ones that might become available.

Tournament officials had held back 1,000 tickets for the competing teams and were a little worried when they came up with a final field of Bradley, LaSalle, Penn State and Southern California—all a long way from Kansas City.

But Reeves Peters, tournament manager, said the nuge demand in Peoria would take care of the entire 1,000 if the other three schools didn't sell a ticket.

The Municipal Auditorium will seat 9,800 and the ticket sellers usually jam in another 700 before the fire marshal calls a halt. The final game Saturday will be televised nationally (NBC) starting at 11 p.m. (EST).

Bradley plays the first game Friday night (9 p.m. EST) against Southern California followed by LaSalle against Penn State.

Red Sox Snap String, 10-6

ORLANDO, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox snapped their five-game losing streak at the expense of winless Washington today dealing the Senators an eighth straight defeat, 10-6.

The Red Sox splurged for five runs in the seventh inning against Jerry Lane and added two more in the eighth off Raul Sanchez to overcome the Senators' early 6-3 lead.

Billy Goodman and Karl Olson led Boston's 12-hit attack with three safeties each, while Joe Tipton sparked Washington's 10-hit assault with a two-run homer and a single.

Rudy's Booming Bat Impresses Manager Lopez

Regalado May Remain With Cleveland Club

TUCSON, Ariz., March 16 (INS)—A young California rookie whose name sounds like an opera but isn't listed on the Cleveland Indians' roster is giving some of the regular tribe infielders some anxious moments with his booming bat.

Rudolph Valentino Regalado, 23-year-old infielder, was never listed on the 1954 roster but is making an impression on Tribe officials, who granted his request for a tryout.

In four games, while playing mostly at second base in place of the ailing Bobby Avila, Regalado thumped the ball at a better than .500 clip, including four home runs in two consecutive games.

Manager Al Lopez says that in all probability a place will be made for Regalado if his hitting continues. But the problem of placing the rookie is a vexing one for Lopez. Three of the four infield positions are now occupied by proven big leaguers—Al Rosen at third base, George Strickland at shortstop, and Avila at second.

Lopez said that he may give Regalado a shot at first, which is now being fought over by three candidates. He also mentioned the possibility of switching Rosen to first and placing Regalado at third.

Regalado has played every infield position during his brief baseball career. The six-foot one-inch slugger is in his second year of pro ball and many of the Tribe's top men think his hitting is no fluke.

The slugging West Coaster divided last season with two clubs, Reading, Pa., and Indianapolis. His average was over .320 with each team. In fact, his lifetime batting average is well over the cherished .300 level.

In high school, he racked up averages of .390, .425 and .561. He proved that his hitting was no flash-in-the-pan performance by continuing to pile up impressive averages while playing with the University of Southern California, where he hit .411 as a sophomore and .375 as a junior.

The Korean War, however, interrupted his education and baseball career. He returned to USC after being discharged in May, 1952, and was signed to a Cleveland contract.

Game Is Cancelled

A's Defeat Yanks, 5-3

Win 7th Straight, Finigan Gets Homer

ST. PETERSBURG, March 17 (AP)—The unbeaten Philadelphia Athletics won their seventh straight exhibition game this afternoon, drubbing the New York Yankees, 5-3, before a crowd of 3,513. It was the Yankees' fourth straight setback.

The A's lashed ten hits, including a homer by rookie Jim Finigan, a natural on St. Patrick's Day.

The Yankees, who have lost eight of eleven games, were defeated largely by former members of the New York organization. Four of the players traded to Philadelphia last December drove in runs.

Finigan was joined by Vic Power, Bill Renna and Don Bollweg. Power put the Macks ahead in the opening inning and Renna and Bollweg helped in the three-run third inning.

Whitey Ford and Steve Kraly, a pair of fast-balling lefties, pitched for the Yankees. Ford was hit hard and early, the A's getting nine hits and four runs in three innings. He steadied after that and then retired to let Kraly take over in the sixth.

Kraly was hit only once, Finigan's 400-foot homer over the center field fence.

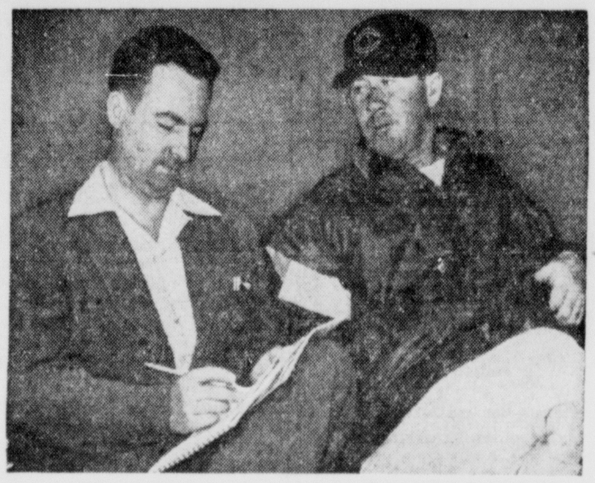
New-Found Power At Plate May Not Be Enough For Reds

Pitcher Fred Baczewski



Sports Editor Walter L. Johns interviews Manager Birdie Tebbetts.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

TAMPA, FLA.—George (Birdie) Tebbetts, the chirpin' character of baseball who is beginning his 20th season in the pro game with his first shot at being a major league manager, studied philosophy at Providence college those many years ago and he takes a philosophical approach to his new job as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

"I don't feel like I'm in any position to say much about this ball club," Birdie chirps, "for at this stage I'm still trying to acquaint myself with the players in this league and learning how to pronounce Kluszewski and Baczewski."

Birdie, who becomes the third Redleg manager in the last three years and who turned in a fine job as boss at Indianapolis last season after he had given up the pads and the glove, says that "there are a lot of jobs open on this club and all I know is that Ted Kluszewski, Gus Bell and Roy McMillan have a great chance."

The new Redleg manager, who says that "I've joined the National league now that the teams are better in this loop," is faced with many problems, particularly on the pitching line, for he has so many ball players or alleged ball players in camp that it will take weeks to sort them out.

THERE ARE 50 men and boys working out here, including 29 pitchers and it will take the combined efforts of Birdie and his two new coaches, the talkative Dick Bartell and Tom Ferrick, to sift the class from the big hill corps.

The Reds finished sixth last year, mainly because of a new-found power of the long-ball hitters, First Sacker Ted Kluszewski, who smashed 40 home runs; Outfielder Gus Bell, who had 30, and Outfielder Jim Greengrass, who belted 20. However, the pitching failed to come through and that appears to be the big problem again.

For front-line hurlers, unless a trade is effected, Birdie may have to go with Fred Baczewski, southpaw, who won 11 and lost four for the Redlegs after he was acquired from the Cubs; Southpaw Harry Perkowski, who won 12 and lost 11; the veteran Kenny Raffensberger, who finished with 7-14 and Bud Podbielan, who had 6-16.

Other holdover twirlers are Joe Nuxhall and Herm Wehmeier and the reliefer, Frank Smith. Wehmeier, of whom great things were expected, failed miserably last year, winding up with a 1-6 mark.

Howie Judson, ex-Redleg and White Sox, who won 11 in a row for Tulsa after being sent down, could figure as could Saul Rogovin, procured from the White Sox.

AMONG the many new pitchers being looked at are Jack Crimian, 13-5 with Rochester; Maurice Fisher, 16-7 with Columbia; Art Fowler, 18-10 with Atlanta; Bill Powell, 14-9 with Charleston; Moe Savransky, a returning serviceman who had 11-11 with Buffalo in 1951, and George Zuverink, big righthander formerly with the Indians who had 13-8 for Birdie's Indianapolis club last season.

There are five catchers in camp and Birdie is working with the youngsters day after day. Andy Seminick, the veteran, and Hobie Landrith are holdovers with the most promise shown by Ed Bailey, up from Tulsa.

Kluszewski is at first and the slick-fielding Roy McMillan at short. Bobby Adams is the third sacker but at second there could be some competition. Leading candidate is Johnny Temple, who got in 64 games for the Redlegs last year.

AMONG the surprises in camp here is Jackie Simpson, an 18-year-old shortstop from Van Nuys, Calif., who was signed out of high school but is expected to be sent out. Infield insurance will come from Rocky Krsnich, from the White Sox; Connie Ryan, from the Phils and White Sox, and Rocky Bridges, who played in 122 games for the Redlegs last year and is a fine competitor.

Two of the three outfield posts should be set with Bell and Greengrass. Wally Post, who hit 33 home runs and batted in 120 runs for Indianapolis, is being ticketed for the third spot. Seven other outfielders are bidding for spots, including the former Stanford football star, Lloyd Merriman, who failed to hit well for the Redlegs before he went into the service.

Tebbetts is not using pitching machines for, as he puts it, "We've 29 mechanical pitchers in camp and I don't have to use any others." He plans to give them all a chance in camp games. He also has scheduled extra batting instruction besides his two squad workouts for hitters, taking half a dozen at a time.

RECKONING THE REDLEGS

CINCINNATI—New-found power at plate, pitching staff appears weak, may have problem at second base. Must be considered second-division club despite fact have another new manager.

NEW YORK, March 17—(INS)—It was 31 years ago tomorrow that Mike McTigue, a native of County Clare, Ireland, won the light heavyweight championship of the world in Dublin.

He lifted the title from Battling Siki, a fighter from Senegal, South Africa, after 20 rounds of furious battling.

We recall the sneers of the Broadway wise guys as if it were yesterday. "What," they asked, "could you expect with an Irishman fighting in Ireland on St. Patrick's Day?"

The assumption, of course, was that Siki must have been robbed.

But over the years we have talked to a few men who saw that fight and all of them insisted it was a tough battle between a beautiful boxer who also could hit and take it an a carousing wild-swinging ignorant fighter who rarely was in condition to fight.

The result was inevitable.

You must remember that McTigue was no cheese champion. He had been fighting about 15 years when he won the title and in that time he had met all the best fighters in the world.

Here are a few of his opponents you will recall: Harry Greb, Jeff Smith, Panama Joe Gans and Tommy Loughran. After beating Siki, Mike fought two no-decision fights of eight and twelve rounds with Loughran.

We cite these facts of record merely to show any Johnny-Come-Lately that Mike McTigue really was a great fighter and that he didn't have to pick his spots or his opponents.

Mike was a shrewd hombre. He had gone to Ireland for a vacation in 1923 and while there he learned that Siki, who had knocked out George Carpentier in Paris the previous September was painting the French capital red.

So Mike went to Dublin and arranged a fight with Siki who, at that time was unable to get any fights, because the French were sore at him. There were stories at the time that Siki was supposed to go in the tank for Gorgeous George but instead the untutored savage belted out the French idol in six rounds.

Siki came over to Ireland, continued his wild carousing, trained little, if any, fought the superbly conditioned McTigue and lost, as he figured to lose.

Siki was murdered in a brawl in New York in 1925 and the last we heard of McTigue a few months ago he was very ill in a New York hospital.

Bradley Fans Clamoring For NCAA Tickets

Semi-Finals To Begin Friday At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, March 17 (AP)—Fired up Bradley fans took the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee off the hook today and guaranteed a complete sellout for the four-team finals starting here Friday night.

Back in Peoria, Ill., the Bradley supporters gobbled up their allotted 250 tickets in 7 minutes and stood in line for an hour to sign up for any additional ones that might become available.

Tournament officials had held back 1,000 tickets for the competing teams and were a little worried when they came up with a final field of Bradley, LaSalle, Penn State and Southern California—all a long way from Kansas City.

But Reeves Peters, tournament manager, said the nuge demand in Peoria would take care of the entire 1,000 if the other three schools didn't sell a ticket.

The Municipal Auditorium will seat 9,800 and the ticket sellers usually jam in another 700 before the fire marshal calls a halt. The final game Saturday will be televised nationally (NBC) starting at 11 p.m. (EST).

Bradley plays the first game Friday night (9 p.m. EST) against Southern California followed by LaSalle against Penn State.

Red Sox Snap String, 10-6

ORLANDO, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox snapped their five-game losing streak at the expense of winless Washington today dealing the Senators an eighth straight defeat, 10-6.

The Red Sox splurged for five runs in the seventh inning against Jerry Lane and added two more in the eighth off Raul Sanchez to overcome the Senators' early 6-3 lead.

Billy Goodman and Karl Olson led Boston's 12-hit attack with three safeties each, while Joe Tipton sparked Washington's 10-hit assault with a two-run homer and a single.

Boston	100 020 520—10 12 0
Washington	122 010 000— 6 10 3

Kemmerer, Norwood (3), Flowers (5), Werle (7) and Daley, White (7); Marrero, Ross (4), Lane (7), Sanchez (7) and Tipton, Oldis (8).

Rudy's Booming Bat Impresses Manager Lopez

Regalado May Remain With Cleveland Club

TUCSON, Ariz., March 16 (INS)—A young California rookie whose name sounds like an opera but isn't listed on the Cleveland Indians' roster is giving some of the regular tribe infielders some anxious moments with his booming bat.

Rudolph Valentino Regalado, 23-year-old infielder, was never listed on the 1954 roster but is making an impression on Tribe officials, who granted his request for a tryout.

In four games, while playing mostly at second base in place of the ailing Bobby Avila, Regalado thumped the ball at a better than .500 clip, including four home runs in two consecutive games.

Manager Al Lopez says that in all probability a place will be made for Regalado if his hitting continues. But the problem of placing the rookie is a vexing one for Lopez. Three of the four infield positions are now occupied by proven big leaguers—Al Rosen at third base, George Strickland at shortstop, and Avila at second.

Lopez said that he may give Regalado a shot at first, which is now being fought over by three candidates. He also mentioned the possibility of switching Rosen to first and placing Regalado at third.

Regalado has played every infield position during his brief baseball career. The six-foot one-inch slugger is in his second year of pro ball and many of the Tribe's top men think his hitting is no fluke.

The slugging West Coaster divided last season with two clubs, Reading, Pa., and Indianapolis. His average was over .320 with each team. In fact, his lifetime batting average is well over the cherished .300 level.

In high school, he racked up averages of .390, .425 and .561. He proved that his hitting was no flash-in-the-pan performance by continuing to pile up impressive averages while playing with the University of Southern California, where he hit .411 as a sophomore and .375 as a junior.

The Korean War, however, interrupted his education and baseball career. He returned to USC after being discharged in May, 1952, and was signed to a Cleveland contract.

Game Is Cancelled

A's Defeat Yanks, 5-3

Win 7th Straight, Finigan Gets Homer

ST. PETERSBURG, March 17 (AP)—The unbeaten Philadelphia Athletics won their seventh straight exhibition game this afternoon, drubbing the New York Yankees, 5-3, before a crowd of 3,513. It was the Yankees' fourth straight setback.

The A's lashed ten hits, including a homer by rookie Jim Finigan, a natural on St. Patrick's Day.

The Yankees, who have lost eight of eleven games, were defeated largely by former members of the New York organization. Four of the players traded to Philadelphia last December drove in runs.

Finigan was joined by Vic Power, Bill Renna and Don Bollweg. Power put the Macks ahead in the opening inning and Renna and Bollweg helped in the three-run third inning.

Whitey Ford and Steve Kraly, a pair of fast-balling lefties, pitched for the Yankees. Ford was hit hard and early, the A's getting nine hits and four runs in three innings. He steadied after that and then retired to let Kraly take over in the sixth.

Kraly was hit only once, Finigan's 400-foot homer over the center field fence.

Pollack Trial May Be Heard In April Term

The trial of James H. "Jack" Pollack, Baltimore Fourth District Democratic leader, on a charge of trying to influence witnesses in the Franklin D. D'Alesandro morals trial, will probably be held in Allegany County Circuit Court here in April.

Associate Judge George Henderson said a conference of Anselm Sodaro, state's attorney of Baltimore City, and G. C. A. Anderson, attorney for Pollack, will be held soon to set the time.

The April petit jury will probably get Pollack case, the judge observed, as Anderson is pressing for an early trial.

One or more judges of the Fourth Judicial Circuit will be in the case, it was reported.

The case was removed to Cumberland from Baltimore after Anderson claimed he could not get a fair trial there because of "unfavorable newspaper" publicity in the case. Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, father of the accused youth, is a political associate of Pollack.

The last part of May will be the earliest possible trial date for young D'Alesandro on perjury charges, associate judges of the First Circuit said yesterday in Salisbury.

Trial of the Baltimore mayor's 20-year-old son was ordered removed here Tuesday.

After reviewing their docket, Associate Judges Rex A. Taylor and E. McMaster Duer estimated it would be the end of May before the trial could be set. They said they would confer with the state's attorney of Baltimore and D'Alesandro's lawyer before setting a date.

D'Alesandro's perjury indictment grew out of his trial on a charge of statutory rape involving a young girl. He was acquitted.

Local Students Plan Trip To New York

Sixteen students of Allegany High School will journey to New York next week to observe business methods in large department stores as part of their studies in the distributive education and retail selling classes at the school.

Places scheduled to be visited include Macy's, Gimbel's, New York Stock Exchange and the offices of the Celanese Corporation, according to Mrs. Freda Bowers, distributive education instructor.

The students, who will leave Wednesday and return on the following Sunday, include Margaret Abbott, Patricia Baird, Shirley Davis, George Campbell, James Eisentrout, Thomas Galliher, Dale Heavner, Lane Heavner, Etta Heinrich, Constance Jewell, Delores Mulligan, Patricia Rotruck, Patricia Scarlett, John Weatherholt, Louis Wilson and Shirley Keating.

Money that the students have saved from their salaries during the year is being used to finance the trip. While in New York, the students plan to visit sites of interest and to attend several stage shows and radio and television programs.

If the trip proves successful, Mrs. Bowers said it will become an annual event.

Child Is Injured In Auto Accident

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 17 (INS—Greer Garson has always felt Mervyn Leroy is a lucky director for her. "Random Harvest," "Madame Curie" and "Blossoms in the Dust," three of Greer's top MGM pictures were all directed by Mervyn.

So it's not surprising that Greer has been talking with Mervin about going to Warners for his first picture there. He believes that all Greer needs to put her back among the first ten is a dramatic story on the order of "Mrs. Miniver," which won her an Academy Award, or "Random Harvest," which was also up for an Oscar.

The friends of Dorothy Kirsten, who was so completely crushed at the time of the death of Dr. Gene Chapman, are happy that Dorothy is finally in the frame of mind to start thinking of her career again.

The blonde opera star will sing at the Hollywood Bowl in July. In the fall, she goes to San Francisco to sing "Manon" with the San Francisco Opera Company. It will be the first time Dorothy has ever sung the opera made famous by Geraldine Farrar.

I'm personally very happy that Dorothy is coming back to us. She will find solace for her grief in hard work.

Socially speaking:

Red Skleton was never funnier than at the Edwin Pauley dinner dance. Red went around getting jokes for his TV show and then tried them out on the guests. He said L. B. Mayer gave him several of his best gags. John Wayne tried to explain Red's nonsense to Pilar Palette, but she continued to be a bit bewildered.

Another witty speechmaker was Enrique Schondube, of Mexico City, who is Dolly Walkers' house guest, and our host, who introduced the "foreigners visiting our city," was in great form himself. He paid tribute to Governor and Mrs. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin, even though Pauley is a Democrat.

He introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. Bob Considine, but Millie wouldn't make a speech. Then he asked Mrs. Rex Gambel and William McCarthy to take a bow. Attractive Mrs. Pauley, who is of Irish ancestry, introduced the Honorable Aileen Plunket of Dublin, who is also Dolly Walker's house guest.

Esther Williams did a fake swim for laughs. Mrs. Gladys Knapp was wearing fake jewelry since, she says, she hasn't a clue to her jewelry which was stolen. Lorena Mayor, who has a birthday soon, was getting advance birthday greetings. One of the women who looked the prettiest was Mrs. Carmen Considine in red. Nice to see Queen Nazli out again after her illness. She said how thoughtful her son-in-law Riad Ghali is to her. The Ghalis expect their second child in May.

The cutest pair at the Pauleys was the 9-year-old Pauley son in a tuxedo, and attractive 15-year-old sub-deb Susan, who made a brief appearance because she was doing her homework.

Diana Lynn really loves the stage. And it's understandable after her big hit in London in "The Moon Is Blue."

On March 29, Diana and Wendell Corey will co-star in "Sabrina Fair" at the Sombrero Playhouse in Phoenix. Many of our stars take flings at the popular little theatre in Arizona.

But Diana and Wendell won't stop there. They'll also play in Los Angeles, San Francisco, then Portland and Seattle.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Footage of Hugh Marlowe that was on the cutting room floor after "Garden of Evil" was edited, has been put back by Boss Darryl Zanuck.

These dresses get more and more expensive. Marianne Reynolds, ex-wife of tobacco heir Richard Reynolds, telephoned Don Loper and gave him her measurements. She said she read about Joan Benny's wedding dress and she wanted a dress for a party. Don not only made it, but flew it to Florida. Yes, it was expensive—$5,000.

Victor Mature was asked to leave his boxer dog, Genius, at home when he reports for work on "The Egyptian." Bella Darvi, in the same picture, is testing with cats.

Every time Bob Wagner goes on location we hear that he's fallen for one of the girls in the cast. This time it's Jean Peters who's in "Broken Lance" with him.

Laurel and Hardy, in England, are meeting with their Los Angeles attorney, Ben Shipman, to discuss a TV offer from Hal Roach Sr.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Police Probing Theft Of Flour

Police are probing the report that seven 100-pound bags of flour valued at $45 were stolen from a railroad boxcar parked on the siding west of Knox Street.

In a letter dated March 15, Capt. H. D. Schmidt of the B&O Police Force advised Chief R. Emmett Flynn the theft occurred "on or about March 6 or 7."

Schmidt said "it is felt the flour will be offered for sale" in Cumberland.

Is your footfall silent as a kitten's? It can be! Just take the tips given here today!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

If you want to take a major step toward the improvement of your appearance put a fine polish on your walk. More women fail to recognize the importance of a smooth walk in creating a good impression than in any other factor of personality presentation.

Take just the matter of the step itself. What is the sound of your footfall? Is it a clump-clump, a clickety-clack or a scuff? No matter what your size may be, whether you are walking fast or slow, your step should be kitten-soft. It's all a matter of muscular control—the degree of control you have over the setting down of your foot.

Lesson IV

When starting work on improving their step, most women ask, should the heel or the ball of the foot touch the floor first?

Here's the answer: The foot should be kept relaxed as the heel touches the floor first, then the weight is rolled through the outer edge of the foot and onto the ball.

The trick lies in transferring and rolling the weight through to the ball of the foot so quickly that it appears that your whole foot was placed on the floor at once! The clodhopper walk is the result of not mastering this movement with rhythmic speed.

To aid you in getting your weight quickly onto the ball of your foot, put your toes to work. They should "grip" the floor, pulling your weight over to the ball as they go into action. This is an action worth practicing about ten minutes per day until it becomes second nature. Practice first with the shoes off and then with them on.

The Light Touch

Another great football improver is this: Hold on to the back of a chair. Keeping your ankle and foot relaxed, pick up your right foot and set it down as though pedalling a bicycle. Quickly set your foot down twenty-five times, letting your heel touch the floor so lightly it makes scarcely a sound, then roll to the outside of the foot and pull the ball of the foot down through the gripping toe action. Switch to your left foot and give it twenty-five of the same soft, good taps!

In no time at all you'll be able to put your heels down on a marble floor with a kitten tread—and look as though you are setting your whole foot down in one motion! The lilt this accomplishment will put into your step will make you lovely to see as well as to hear!

Delegates To Attend Church Meeting

Fifty delegates from the Cumberland Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend the semi-annual circuit assembly tomorrow through Sunday at East Fairmont (W. Va.) High School.

Paul C. Nicewarner, presiding minister of the local congregation, said approximately 500 delegates are expected to attend from Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania congregation.

The principal lecture will be presented Sunday at 3 p. m. by L. L. Roper, official representative from the New York headquarters of the sect. Bible instruction sessions will be held each day during the assembly, Nicewarner stated.

In no time at all you'll be able to put your heels down on a marble floor with a kitten tread—and look as though you are setting your whole foot down in one motion! The lilt this accomplishment will put into your step will make you lovely to see as well as to hear!

Adonis Is Convicted Of Income Tax Evasion

NEWARK, N. J., March 17 (AP)—Harold John Adonis, 45, who earned $4,000 in 1948 as former Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll's clerk, was convicted yesterday of having evaded the payment of $11,869 in income taxes that year.

The conviction carries a possible maximum sentence of five years and a $10,000 fine. No sentencing date has been set.

Adonis is also scheduled to go on trial May 17 in Bergen County on bribery charges in connection with alleged $228,000 protection payoff by gamblers.

Daily Bridge Lesson — by Barclay

HAVE SPECIFIC TARGET

YOU naturally want to take all the tricks you can at any time, regardless of whether you are the declarer or on the defense. Most declarers in contract bridge seem to realize pretty clearly that they are striving for some particular number of tricks, extras beyond that being more or less incidental. Defenders do not seem so well versed in the need for aiming at a specific number of tricks and frequently get a bad result because they are playing just for general results.

	♠ 8 7 5 ♥ K 7 6 ♦ 9 4 3 ♣ Q 5 4 2
♠ A K 6 2 ♥ A Q J 4 ♦ A K 5 2 ♣ 9	N W E S	♠ Q J 10 4 ♥ 8 5 3 ♦ 8 7 ♣ 10 7 6 3

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	2 ♣
3 ♣	Dbl.

Most tables in the duplicate game produced contracts on this deal of 4-Spades for East, which were made in every case, sometimes with an extra trick. It therefore was incumbent on East and West at this table to beat South's 3-Clubs three tricks in order to get a better score. Beating it only two would produce a worse one.

The bidding was interesting, but normal enough, with South's opener natural, West's 2-Clubs a gigantic informatory or takeout double to indicate enough strength for a game by his side, whereas North's 3-Clubs was a barrier bid intended to make East's response to West's big bid difficult.

West began by scoring his spade K and A. When East gave him the discouraging 4 and 10, he shifted to the two diamond tops, which drew the same kind of signal with the 7 first and then the 8. Deciding that East did not want a heart return, he then made the only other possible shift, to his singleton club, which the A won. The K also was scored by South to prove what he already suspected as West discarded his spade 2, and next South led the heart 10.

West came in with his A, and again obeyed East's discouraging signals in spades and diamonds. He led the heart Q. The K took that, the 7 went to the 9 and J, and South easily got the rest to be down only two. If East had used a high-low on the diamonds, with the 8-7, a repeat of the suit would have beaten South three.

If South bids 1-Spade, North 2-Clubs, South 2-Spades and North 4-Spades, what factor should restrain South from jumping too high?

HAVE SPECIFIC TARGET

YOU naturally want to take all the tricks you can at any time, regardless of whether you are the declarer or on the defense. Most declarers in contract bridge seem to realize pretty clearly that they are striving for some particular number of tricks, extras beyond that being more or less incidental. Defenders do not seem so well versed in the need for aiming at a specific number of tricks and frequently get a bad result because they are playing just for general results.

	♠ 8 7 5 ♥ K 7 6 ♦ 9 4 3 ♣ Q 5 4 2
♠ A K 6 2 ♥ A Q J 4 ♦ A K 5 2 ♣ 9	N W E S	♠ Q J 10 4 ♥ 8 5 3 ♦ 8 7 ♣ 10 7 6 3
	♠ 9 3 ♥ 10 9 2 ♦ Q J 10 6 ♣ A K J 8

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	2 ♣
3 ♣	Dbl.

Most tables in the duplicate game produced contracts on this deal of 4-Spades for East, which were made in every case, sometimes with an extra trick. It therefore was incumbent on East and West at this table to beat South's 3-Clubs three tricks in order to get a better score. Beating it only two would produce a worse one.

The bidding was interesting, but normal enough, with South's opener natural, West's 2-Clubs a gigantic informatory or takeout double to indicate enough strength for a game by his side, whereas North's 3-Clubs was a barrier bid intended to make East's response to West's big bid difficult.

West began by scoring his spade K and A. When East gave him the discouraging 4 and 10, he shifted to the two diamond tops, which drew the same kind of signal with the 7 first and then the 8. Deciding that East did not want a heart return, he then made the only other possible shift, to his singleton club, which the A won. The K also was scored by South to prove what he already suspected as West discarded his spade 2, and next South led the heart 10.

West came in with his A, and again obeyed East's discouraging signals in spades and diamonds. He led the heart Q. The K took that, the 7 went to the 9 and J, and South easily got the rest to be down only two. If East had used a high-low on the diamonds, with the 8-7, a repeat of the suit would have beaten South three.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A 10 7 ♥ A 5 ♦ 9 6 3 ♣ K Q 8 6 5
♠ 8 2 ♥ K Q 9 4 ♦ A K J 2 ♣ J 9 2	N W E S	♠ 9 4 ♥ J 8 6 3 ♦ Q 10 7 4 ♣ 10 7 3
	♠ K Q J 6 5 3 ♥ 10 7 2 ♦ 8 5 ♣ A 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

If South bids 1-Spade, North 2-Clubs, South 2-Spades and North 4-Spades, what factor should restrain South from jumping too high?

Market Rallies Vigorously After Three Declines In Row

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—The Stock Market rallied vigorously today on expanded volume and turned a recession into a good net gain at the finish.

The turn ahead followed three straight declines, a performance that many brokers regarded as a consolidation and prelude to an advance.

Motors with Chrysler in the lead started the ball rolling. Steels with Bethlehem out in front joined the procession. When the railroads joined the rally, it really got going, and at the close the rails had chalked up the best group showing.

Gains went to between 1 and 2 points while losses were restrained.

Many oils were behind the market as were chemicals, distillers, and a long list of miscellaneous issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 40 cents at $115.80. It was down 30 cents yesterday.

The part played by the carrier shares was shown by the increase of 80 cents in the railroad component of the average while the industrials gained 30 cents and the utilities advanced 10 cents.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF ALLEGANY COUNTY

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR SALE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS LOCATED IN ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND

Pursuant to the authority granted by Section 53 (d) of Article 77 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 Edition), The County Commissioners of Allegany County hereby give notice that sealed proposals will be received until the 9th day of April, 1954, by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for the sale of the following described school buildings and the grounds appurtenant thereto:

ELLERSLIE

1. All those three parcels of land lying and being in the Village of Ellerslie, Allegany County, Maryland, improved by what is known as the "Ellerslie School Building"; being the same property which was conveyed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, by the Board of Education of Allegany County by deed dated February 2, 1954, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 279, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

DUTCH HOLLOW

2. All that piece or parcel of ground situated in Election District No. 13, about three-fourths of a mile northwestward from Mt. Savage, Allegany County, Maryland, lying and being on the northerly side of Dutch Hollow Run, near the bridge where said run is crossed by the County Road (Blank Road) and improved by what is known as the "Dutch Hollow School"; being the same property which was conveyed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County by the Board of Education of Allegany County by deed dated October 29, 1953, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 149, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

ROCKVILLE

3. All that lot or parcel of land situated near the Village of Lonaconing, in Allegany County, Maryland, improved by a building commonly known as the "Rockville School"; being the same property which was conveyed by the Board of Education of Allegany County to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, by deed dated October 6, 1953, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 151, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

DETMOLD

4. All that part of a tract of land called "Commonwealth" lying and being near the Town of Lonaconing, Maryland, and improved by a building known as "Detmold School"; being the same property which was conveyed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County by deed dated October 6, 1953, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 152, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

Specific reference is hereby made to each of the above mentioned deeds for a more particular description of the property to be conveyed and to the covenants and restrictions relating thereto set forth therein and in prior deeds in the chain of title to each of said properties.

Proposals must be enclosed in sealed envelopes and marked "Bid for ..... School Building and Grounds".

Terms of Sale: Full cash price must be made available within 30 days of notice of acceptance of bid.

Requests for opportunity to inspect said properties or for additional information may be addressed to the undersigned Clerk.

The County Commissioners of Allegany County reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to accept any.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF ALLEGANY COUNTY,

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR SALE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS LOCATED IN ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND

Pursuant to the authority granted by Section 53 (d) of Article 77 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 Edition), The County Commissioners of Allegany County hereby give notice that sealed proposals will be received until the 9th day of April, 1954, by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for the sale of the following described school buildings and the grounds appurtenant thereto:

ELLERSLIE

1. All those three parcels of land lying and being in the Village of Ellerslie, Allegany County, Maryland, improved by what is known as the "Ellerslie School Building"; being the same property which was conveyed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, by the Board of Education of Allegany County by deed dated February 2, 1954, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 279, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

DUTCH HOLLOW

2. All that piece or parcel of ground situated in Election District No. 13, about three-fourths of a mile northwestward from Mt. Savage, Allegany County, Maryland, lying and being on the northerly side of Dutch Hollow Run, near the bridge where said run is crossed by the County Road (Blank Road) and improved by what is known as the "Dutch Hollow School"; being the same property which was conveyed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County by the Board of Education of Allegany County by deed dated October 29, 1953, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 149, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

ROCKVILLE

3. All that lot or parcel of land situated near the Village of Lonaconing, in Allegany County, Maryland, improved by a building commonly known as the "Rockville School"; being the same property which was conveyed by the Board of Education of Allegany County to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, by deed dated October 6, 1953, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 151, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

DETMOLD

4. All that part of a tract of land called "Commonwealth" lying and being near the Town of Lonaconing, Maryland, and improved by a building known as "Detmold School"; being the same property which was conveyed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County by deed dated October 6, 1953, and recorded in Liber 256, folio 152, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

Specific reference is hereby made to each of the above mentioned deeds for a more particular description of the property to be conveyed and to the covenants and restrictions relating thereto set forth therein and in prior deeds in the chain of title to each of said properties.

Proposals must be enclosed in sealed envelopes and marked "Bid for _____ School Building and Grounds".

Terms of Sale: Full cash price must be made available within 30 days of notice of acceptance of bid.

Requests for opportunity to inspect said properties or for additional information may be addressed to the undersigned Clerk.

The County Commissioners of Allegany County reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to accept any.

Ridgeley Citizens To Air Plans For Bringing Industry

Public Meeting Is Scheduled Tonight

Residents of Ridgeley and surrounding area will be given an opportunity to discuss the possibilities of acquiring new industries at a meeting today at 8 p.m. in the home of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion.

Raymond Hershberger and Roland Tabler, officers of the Legion post, have formed an Industrial Committee and set tonight for the public meeting.

Small Plants Needed

Small industries will be sought for the area and various matters will be discussed during the meeting, Hershberger added.

Invitations have been sent to the Ridgeley Lions Club, Rod and Gun Club and volunteer fire company as well as the VFW of Fort Ashby, its volunteer fire company, and firemen from Short Gap, Patterson Creek, and Wiley Ford.

Cumberland residents are invited to attend the meeting as well as any other interested persons.

Advantages Exist

Advantages for small industries to locate in the area will be aired, Hershberger pointed out.

One of the main sources of employment for residents of Ridgeley is the Western Maryland Railway Company, while others are employed at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, Amcelle Plant and other smaller industries of the Cumberland area.

Campaign To Aid Md. Handicapped Will Open Today

Maryland's 21st annual Easter Seal Campaign opens for 10 days today to assist physically handicapped children and adults throughout the state.

Some 325,000 Easter Seal letters began going out yesterday in an appeal for funds to help Maryland's 75,000 handicapped persons.

Maryland's quota in the national campaign is $125,000.

Murray T. Donoho, state chairman, said it is largely through the purchase of Easter Seals that the handicapped—especially children—are given "the opportunity to become independent, useful citizens rather than burdens upon the public."

Thanks to the work of volunteer agencies offering care and treatment in order to rehabilitate the handicapped, Donoho said, the attitude of the American public has undergone an almost complete reversal.

Donoho pointed out that the crippled have become a useful part of our world, making their contributions to the professions, to business and to industry.

They have been discovered, he said, "as a tremendous national resource, waiting only for the magic touch of scientific rehabiliation and human understanding to make them productive human beings."

The Maryland Society is an affiliate of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Barrick Talks At DeMolay Meet

Ralph Barrick, son of a missionary to India, gave a talk on his experiences in that country, during a meeting of Sanford H. Buley Chapter, DeMolay Alumni, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, last night.

Barrick spent 14 years in India. Paul May, local manager of Allegheny Airlines, showed two interesting movies during the meeting.

"Flight To Ceylon," shown in connection with Barrick's talk, was followed by "A Letter To a Pilot." Guests included Charles W. Treiber and Ralph Frantz.

The next dinner meeting of the group will be held at 6:30 p. m. April 21 with James W. Bishop, Allegany County Treasurer, as guest speaker.

Total Of 7,625 License Tags Have Been Issued

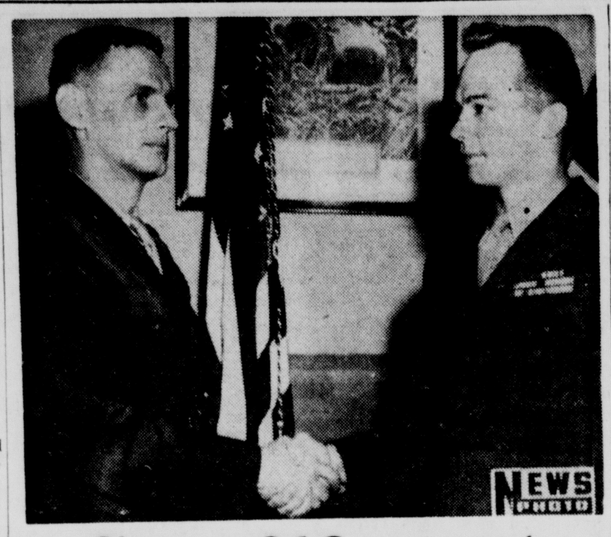
With the issuance of 420 additional automobile license tags yesterday at the office of Tax Collector Ernest B. Treat at the Court House, the total number issued thus far stands at 7,625.

This was a slight decrease from the number issued on Tuesday, which was 491. Monday's total was 506. Allegany County motorists still have about two weeks in which to purchase the 1954 tags. Deadline for use of the old tags is midnight, Wednesday, March 31.

City Registration Is Picking Up

The City Registration Office reported yesterday that 49 more persons have been added to the city's voting books this month.

Officials expect the pre-election registration rush to get under way soon and to continue until May 11, the deadline for participation in the primary June 1 and the municipal election June 15.



Change Of Command

Captain John E. Rich (left), inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, welcomes Captain H. W. Tubbs Jr., who will replace him March 26 as Regular officer assigned to the local Reserve unit.

Capt. H. W. Tubbs Jr. Gets USMCR Assignment Here

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

Captain Henry W. Tubbs Jr., 28, veteran of World War II and of the Korean conflict, has been named inspector-instructor of the 6th Special Infantry Company, USMCR, and assumes duties March 26 at the U. S. Naval and Marine Corps Training Center, McKaig's Hill.

He replaces Captain John E. Rich, who served in the same capacity here for over two years. Captain Rich will report to Quantico, Va., for assignment.

Captain Tubbs, a native of Monmouth, Ill., is residing at 110 Utah Avenue (rear), with his wife and two children, Margo Ann, 4 and Henry W. Tubbs III, age 2.

He has been in the United States Marine Corps for over ten years, having enlisted in St. Louis, Mo., March 11, 1943. After undergoing basic training at Parris Island, S. C., he spent some time "stateside," then went overseas in 1945 and was with occupation forces in North China following the end of World War II.

Captain Tubbs returned to the United States in July of 1946 and later attended Monmouth College where he received a B.A. degree in pre-law in 1949, while a member of the Reserve.

Upon graduation he accepted a second lieutenancy in the Marine Corps and reported to Quantico and from there went to Camp LeJeune, N. C., where he was a member of the Second Marine Division from August 1950 to December of 1952.

During that time he participated in training cruises in the Mediterranean, Labrador and Puerto Rican areas. He was then sent to Korea where he saw action in the front lines of several major battles.

Captain Tubbs' assignment here is his first since returning from overseas in January of this year. One of the accomplishments at the Armory while Captain Rich was here was the establishment of a pistol and rifle range used by the Marines, Navy personnel and local civilian organizations.

C Of C Group May Survey Trading Area

Six members of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce returned yesterday from Washington, following a conference with officials of the Domestic Distribution Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The men are Stuart Rosenbaum, vice president and treasurer of Rosenbaum Brothers, Inc.; Robert Little Ebert, treasurer of the S. T. Little Jewelry Company; Carroll B. Pollock, manager of Wolf Furniture Company; W. D. Timmons, manager of Peoples Service Drug Store; John H. Stitely, vice president of the Cumberland Brewing Company, and Arch M. Hutcheson, secretary of Queen City Brewing Company.

All are members of the Trade Expansion Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, of which Rosenbaum is chairman. Ebert is also chairman of the Mercantile Bureau of the local Chamber, and Stitely is a member of the Chamber's board of directors.

The group, accompanied by Anthony Saeli, local Chamber manager, conferred at length with Philip W. Clark, marketing administrator of the U. S. Chamber.

Saeli said the delegation received much useful information and advice which can be used to good advantage locally. This information, he said, may form the basis of a study to evaluate the Cumberland retail trading area.

Underwriters To Hear Social Security Talk

James Robertson, field director of the local Social Security office, will address the Cumberland Life Underwriters Association tomorrow noon at Central YMCA.

His subject will be "Present Social Security Program."

Reports are to be given at the session on the joint meeting with Cumberland, Hagerstown and Frederick Underwriters held last month. L. M. Roberson, treasurer, will also discuss action taken at a recent state association meeting in Baltimore.

The Weather

Slightly cloudy and milder weather is on the program for today, the U. S. Weather Bureau said last night after two days of moderate and clear weather. Yesterday's highest official temperature was 48 degrees, the low, 30, and humidity at 6 p. m. was 42 per cent.

Progress Noted On Pumping Unit

City officials yesterday reported good progress on the installation of a temporary pumping station at the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

The pumping station will be used, if necessary, to tap a 50-day supply of water in Lake Gordon which cannot flow by gravity into the plant after the water drops 15 feet below the spillway.

The installation is expected to be completed within a few days.

The city's water supply has been improving each week, and it is unlikely that the emergency pumping station will be needed, but the work has been rushed as an additional precaution.

Long-range plans for the improvement of the water system call for the installation of a standby pumping station, capable of pumping 18 million gallons of water daily.

VA Representative To Visit Ridgeley

A Veterans Administration representative from the West Virginia field office at Martinsburg will be at the home of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, from noon until 1:30 p. m. today.

Veterans will be advised on benefits they deserve from the government.

Students Taking Thorough Test In Auto Course

Seven Schools Are Included In Program

As part of their program to make them safer drivers, the 292 boys and girls enrolled in driver education classes in Allegany County public schools have been taking a 50-question objective test on the motor vehicle laws on Maryland.

Driver education classes are conducted in seven schools, Fort Hill, Allegany, Beall, Bruce, Carver, Mt. Savage and Valley, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer.

Similar tests have been prepared for driver education classes in other public school systems throughout Maryland. With the tests, each driver education teacher has received an answer sheet and key which facilitates prompt grading of the papers.

The questions involve a wide variety of laws, such as speed limits in various areas, and actions that should be taken after an accident. For each question the student has a choice of four answers, only one of which is correct.

Following are several of the typical questions and answer choices:

(1.) The speed limit on ordinary highways in the business section of cities, towns and villages is: (A) 35 M.P.H., (B) 20 M.P.H., (C) 15 M. P.H., (D) 25 M.P.H.

(8.) If a person collides with an unattended vehicle: (A) He must stop, look for the owner of the vehicle; if he cannot locate the owner, he may then proceed on his way. (B) He must stop, if unable to locate the owner, he must leave a written message on the car containing his name, address and license number. (C) He need not stop, but must report the accident to his insurance company within 48 hours. (D) If no one witnessed the accident, he should proceed on his way.

50.) The Maryland Financial Responsibility Law means: (A) An automobile driver must be a wage earner. (B) Drivers must carry automobile insurance. (C) Drivers must be able to post sufficient amounts of cash, security, or insurance or else forfeit their license to drive. (D) You must pay for any damage done to another's car.

(For readers who may be wondering about the answers to these three questions, they are D, B, and C, respectively).

Robb Will Head Elks Lodge 63

John M. Robb, Cumberland attorney, last night was elected exalted ruler of Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks. He succeeds Joseph F. Stakem.

Other officers elected include William J. Aumiller, esteemed leading knight; Bruce M. Mackey, esteemed lecturing knight; William E. Hixenbaugh, esteemed loyal knight; James E. Yarnall, secretary (elected for his 21st term); E. A. Dashiell, treasurer; W. M. Fricker, tiler.

John J. Blough was elected trustee for five years and George R. Lyming was named alternate to the grand lodge.

The new officers will be installed at a ceremony April 7.

Three Marine Corps Reservists Promoted

Three members of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR, at McKaig's Hill, have been promoted to Private First Class.

They are Michael A. Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Beckman; Frank S. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Snyder and Theodore R. Nines, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Nines.

The promotions were presented by Major Patsy Algieri, commanding officer of the company.

Hitchcock To Talk

Legion Marks Birthday

George F. Buskey, commander of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, cuts the post birthday cake last night as the Legion observed the 35th anniversary of its founding in 1919, just after the end of World War I. Looking on are (left to right) Frank T. Powers, national executive committeeman; J. Edward Walter, commander of the Department of Maryland American Legion, and Daniel H. Burkhardt, department adjutant.

Senator Beall To Seek Boost In Flood Funds

Area Officials Asked To Agree On Plans

Cumberland and Ridgeley officials were told yesterday that United States Senator J. Glenn Beall will try to secure an additional half million dollars for the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection project.

The information was presented yesterday by Robert L. Wadsworth chief of the Planning and Reports Branch, Corps of Engineers.

Wadsworth told the officials that Senator Beall, during a telephone conversation on the flood project, had informed him he would try to get $500,000 added to the 1954-55 appropriation.

On Tuesday, the House passed and sent to the Senate a $430,383,700 Army civil functions bill which included $600,000 for the local flood project in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Agreement Needed

Officials of Ridgeley and Cumberland yesterday were informed they must agree on a plan under which the Corps of Engineers will continue its work on the project.

Wadsworth explained the problems at a meeting in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves. He stated the corps does not care whether levee building, scheduled to begin in November, starts on the Maryland or West Virginia side but that both cities must agree on a definite plan.

Pointing out that $600,000 will be available for project work at the start of the government's next fiscal year—July 1—Wadsworth explained that a third of this money is earmarked for completion of the industrial dam, another third for a flood wall and the remainder for the levee program.

May Get Wet

Emphasizing that sufficent funds are not available for the completion of any major degree of the two-city flood project, Wadsworth said that no matter what plan is finally decided on by the two cities "it will not keep you from getting wet in the event of high water."

Should levee work start on the Maryland side of the Potomac River, high water such as in the 1936 flood—18 years ago today—would cause water to rise two and-a-half feet higher in Ridgeley, Wadsworth estimated. In comparison, Wadsworth said a levee wall on the Ridgeley side would cause the same amount of water to be approximately six inches to a foot deeper in Cumberland, only over a larger area than in 1936.

Although no definite plan was agreed on, most of the principals present seemed to favor an alternate plan that the Corps of Engineers has prepared. Nothing will be done, however, until agreement is made with the two city governments. Generally speaking, Wadsworth said the engineers favored starting work upstream.

More Interest Urged

Both Ridgeley and Cumberland representatives seemed to think that more public interest must be shown in the flood control program if the necessary funds are to be appropriated by Congress. Charles

Former Hungarian Official To Speak At Keyser College

Nicholas Nyaradi, former Minister of Finance in Hungary, will speak at a convocation Thursday, April 1, at 11 a. m. in the auditorium at Potomac State College at Keyser, W. Va.

Dr. Nyaradi is expected to present his views on some aspects of the Russian government. The topic of his talk will be "My Ringside Seat in Moscow."

This is also the title of a book he has written on his experiences while in Russia in an official capacity for his government. In addition to his speech, he will conduct seminars in the social science department throughout the day.

The visitor was formerly an active leader of the anti-communistic Small Farmers Party in postwar Hungary. He represented that party for about four years as Under-secretary of the Treasury and later Minister of Finance in the Hungarian cabinet.

Dr. Nyaradi was sent to Moscow by his government to negotiate with the Politburo on a Soviet claim of $200,000,000 against Hungary. He was there for seven months and got first-hand personal experience with three of Russia's most important leaders.

However, Dr. Nyaradi had some unpleasant and frequent contacts with Field Marshal Voroshilov, now chairman of the Presidium; Deputy Prime Minister Molotov, and Deputy Prime Minister Mikeyan, now head of economic affairs in the Russian government.

Dr. and Mrs. Nyaradi fled to America after making a desperate effort to prevent the encroachment of communism in Hungary. Since his arrival here, he has tried to "awaken American citizens to the danger and threat of Soviet imperialism and Communist infiltration" by writing for Saturday Evening Post, Fortune, The Reporter, Liberty, United Nations World, Chicago Tribune and syndicated Scripps-Howard newspapers.

In his first article, published in Saturday Evening Post, July 2, 1949, he told the American people that Russia had the atomic bomb then, months before the official announcement. He also predicted the war in Korea and other events.

CSMC Unit Will Hold Next Meeting May 9

Lurana Veteran Unit, Catholic Students Mission Crusade, has cancelled all meetings until May 12, it was announced last night by John G. Burke, corresponding secretary.

Brother G. Nicholas, F.S.C., of LaSalle High School, spoke on what he termed a flood of objectionable literature which he said has reached local newsstands.

Declaring such reading a danger to the morals of youngsters who are exposed to it, Brother Nicholas declared, "It is our duty as citizens of Cumberland and as Catholics to have this literature taken off the market and suppressed as soon as possible."

Returns To Work

Charles F. Owens, deputy smoke inspector, has returned from McGuire Veterans Hospital, Richmond, Va., to resume charge of the city's Air Pollution Department.

Later Bond Sale May Save Money

The City of Cumberland is deferring the date of sale of an upcoming $650,000 bond issue one day after the regular council meeting in hopes of getting a better break on prices.

Bids on the issues will be opened by the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, March 30, at 10 a. m. — instead of the traditional Monday morning — on the advice of the legal firm which is in charge of the bond sale.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said city officials were advised that by Tuesday the bond market has stabilized, but that conditions are often unsettled on Monday, due to uncertainties which develop over the weekend.

He said the city hopes to get a better price on the bonds through the delay, and added that other days of the week may be tried in the future.

The issues include a $150,000 Cumberland Playground bond issue authorized by a 1947 referendum, a $350,000 issue of Cumberland Urban Development Bonds of 1953 to finance the Frederick Street and other traffic projects, and a $150,000 Water Improvement bond issue authorized in 1949.

Gibson said it will be about three months before the funds are available.

The ordinance for the bond sale was prepared last August, but has been held up for some time due to an unfavorable market for tax free securities. The market improved recently, and such issues are currently selling at from 2.33 to three per cent.

Emmanuel Men Will Attend Communion

Men of Emmanuel Episcopal Church will attend a regularly quarterly corporate Communion at 8 a. m. Sunday.

Lester J. Auker, a member of the Vestry, who prepared charts on church attendance three years ago, has brought his charts up to date. He will discuss his new findings at a breakfast of the men following the Communion. Auker also will explain some of the findings of the recent diocesan survey.

County Residents Give $13,866.66 In TB Seal Sale

Statewide Figure Given In Report

Allegany County's contribution to the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale toward tuberculosis control work amounted to $13,866.66, an increase of 10.6 per cent or $1,334.40 over 1952.

The statewide amount raised by public subscription was $450,711.21, according to William B. Matthews Jr., director of the sale.

His report to the Board of Directors of the Maryland TB Association shows the amount was an increase of nine per cent over the funds raised last year.

Garrett Donations Increase

Garrett County residents contributed a total of $2,026.54 which was a 30.7 per cent increase over 1952's amount of $476.38. Of the total received during the 1953 Seal Sale, $289,064.77 was contributed in the counties of the state to the local associations and $161,646.44 in Baltimore City.

Expressing gratification over the generous public response to the 1953 sale, Dr. Russell A. Nelson, president of the Maryland TB Association, pledged a continuing vigorous tuberculosis control program, directed toward accelerating the progress made in recent decades against tuberculosis until the ultimate goal of complete eradication of the disease is achieved in Maryland.

Defining the present tuberculosis problem, Dr. Nelson expressed the concern of the Association over the growing misconception that TB is "licked" in this country and in the state.

TB Still Serious Threat

Recognizing the progress that has been made against this disease in recent decades, both nationally and locally, Dr. Nelson cited figures to show how erroneous is the conception that TB is no longer a serious threat to the health of the community.

While the deaths from TB are declining at an accelerated and gratifying rate, he said, the number of new cases reported annually to the health department are declining much more slowly. In Maryland there are about 6,500 known active cases of TB, with approximately 2,500 new cases reported annually.

More significant are the estimated 5,000 to 7,000 persons in the state who have TB and do not know they have it. These are the cases that are unknown to health authorities, and who perhaps are unknowingly spreading the disease to others.

Turkey Growers Are Urged To Cut Production

Agriculture leaders in the Tri-State area are beginning to warn turkey growers that unless they cut their production well below the numbers that now seem likely they can expect much lower prices this year.

"Now is the time to adjust turkey production to probable demand," Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has warned. "Growers, as well as feed and processing companies . . . should recognize the risks of possible overproduction and be prepared to accept the market prices for the birds which they grow this year. Turkey producers had a relatively good year in 1953 and I hope they can have another good season this year by stabilizing production."

Indications are that this year's turkey crop may be larger than last year's, and cold storage holdings of turkeys are also relatively heavy.

"Last season growers were saved from ruinous prices by a reduction in the number of turkeys raised, relatively large buying early in the season by the armed forces, good storage movement during the entire season and substantially above-normal export of turkeys to Canada," Benson emphasized.

"At the same time consumer income was at the highest on record. Lower feed prices also were responsible for a large part of producers' profit in 1953.

"Leaders of the turkey industry repeatedly have told us they do not want overproduction and price supports again."

Two years ago the Federal Government bought six per cent of the crop through a surplus removal program costing about $27 million.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Buying Plant Site Here

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company today announced that net sales during 1953 totaled $451,964,697, an all-time high, and that the company is exercising its options on 603 acres of ground in the Mexico Farms area on which it might erect a large glass plant.

The purchase price for the plant site south of Cumberland was reported to exceed $150,000, according to a statement authorized by the company and released through the Industrial Promotion department of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The annual report of the company showed that 1953 sales increased 12 per cent over 1952's $402,055,085.

Net earnings for the year were $36,864,785, equivalent to $4.07 per share, as compared with $36,771,925, or $4.07 per share reported for 1952.

Harry B. Higgins, president, stated that net earnings were affected particularly in the fourth quarter—by a substantial maintenance, repair and rehabilitation program.

According to Higgins, all divisions of the company made important contributions to the record sales year. An expanding market for both paint and glass sales through the firm's Merchandising Division was created by high volume of construction in commercial buildings and residences.

The automobile industry, the largest user of glass, produced more cars than in any year except 1950. Higgins pointed out that 1953 automobiles have more glass area per car and Pittsburgh Plate's Paint Division also supplied increased quantities of automotive finishes to the automobile manufacturing industry.

"Though the Glass, Paint and Merchandising Divisions experienced an excellent year, sales during the last quarter tended towards a somewhat lower level of activity," Higgins reported.

Sales of Columbia-Southern Chemical Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary, were higher than in any previous year. However, in common with other units of the chemical industry, sales of some products were below Columbia-Southern's manufacturing capacity.

In 1953 tax provisions amounted to $45,780,361 as compared with $46,070,828 in 1952. The combined Excess Profits Tax base for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and for Columbia-Southern Chemical Corporation in 1953 was $63,900,000 as compared with $60,500,000 in 1952. Computed on a per share basis, taxes in 1953 were equivalent to $5.05 per share, compared to payrolls of $16.06 per share and dividends of $2.25 per share.

The local statement on the Mexico Farms land acquisition continued:

"Notices of exercise of option are in process of delivery to owners of the parcels of land involved in the real estate transaction.

"Harry B. Higgins, president of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, reports that the firm's engineering department is continuing work on plans for the plant that might be constructed here. He said that actual construction of a plant as yet has not been authorized by the firm's Board of Directors."

This information means that the firm has advanced another step toward the possible location of the new plant here.

On October 29, Albert H. Hargreaves, director of industrial development for the Chamber of Commerce, reported options had been taken on the land.

It was on December 21 that Higgins announced definitely that Cumberland was one of the cities being considered as location for a plant by Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Options for the ten parcels of land comprising the plant site were good until this month, according to information contained in the eight separate papers filed in the land records office of the clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The options recorded in October are as follows:

William A. and Pauline Sowers, 13,392 square feet of land containing a five-room, two story brick dwelling, at North Branch, $8,000.

Irene M. Valentine, 259-acre farm at Mexico Farms, $60,000.

Lewis W. Bloss and Paul L. Bloss, two or three acres, District 16, $20,000.

Frank C. and Gladys May Bloss, 156 acre farm known as Old Bloss Property, Mexico Farms, $19,000.

James W. Stickley, Charity May Stickley, and Samuel S. Stickley, 99¾ acres, $10,000.

Rachel Bloss, widow of George W. Bloss, and Della Bloss and Jeremiah Bloss, 22 acres of land, $6,000.

Ronald W. Loar Sr. and Marion B. Loar, four parcels of land containing 2¼ acres, $16,000.

Stanley Junkins, Elizabeth Junkins and Lester E. Courtney, lot 75 feet by 180 feet, $12,000.

Hargreaves pointed out that he has been working with the company's officials since January 1953 and looks upon his latest development as the next logical step.

He explained that companies contemplating plant expansion must examine every facet of its economy and the relationship that the new community would have to this economy.

A complete analysis is made of all costs affecting raw material or distribution, as well as anything that could affect production costs.

South End Fire Truck To Be Delivered Soon

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long reported yesterday that the Ahrens-Fox Company has listed April 1 as the tentative date for the delivery of Cumberland's new fire truck.

The 750-gallon pumper will be assigned to South Cumberland Fire Company.

Ridgeley Citizens To Air Plans For Bringing Industry

Public Meeting Is Scheduled Tonight

Residents of Ridgeley and surrounding area will be given an opportunity to discuss the possibilities of acquiring new industries at a meeting today at 8 p.m. in the home of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion.

Raymond Hershberger and Roland Tabler, officers of the Legion post, have formed an Industrial Committee and set tonight for the public meeting.

Small Plants Needed

Small industries will be sought for the area and various matters will be discussed during the meeting, Hershberger added.

Invitations have been sent to the Ridgeley Lions Club, Rod and Gun Club and volunteer fire company as well as the VFW of Fort Ashby, its volunteer fire company, and firemen from Short Gap, Patterson Creek, and Wiley Ford.

Cumberland residents are invited to attend the meeting as well as any other interested persons.

Advantages Exist

Advantages for small industries to locate in the area will be aired, Hershberger pointed out.

One of the main sources of employment for residents of Ridgeley is the Western Maryland Railway Company, while others are employed at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, Amcelle Plant and other smaller industries of the Cumberland area.

Campaign To Aid Md. Handicapped Will Open Today

Maryland's 21st annual Easter Seal Campaign opens for 10 days today to assist physically handicapped children and adults throughout the state.

Some 325,000 Easter Seal letters began going out yesterday in an appeal for funds to help Maryland's 75,000 handicapped persons.

Maryland's quota in the national campaign is $125,000.

Murray T. Donoho, state chairman, said it is largely through the purchase of Easter Seals that the handicapped—especially children—are given "the opportunity to become independent, useful citizens rather than burdens upon the public."

Thanks to the work of volunteer agencies offering care and treatment in order to rehabilitate the handicapped, Donoho said, the attitude of the American public has undergone an almost complete reversal.

Donoho pointed out that the crippled have become a useful part of our world, making their contributions to the professions, to business and to industry.

They have been discovered, he said, "as a tremendous national resource, waiting only for the magic touch of scientific rehabiliation and human understanding to make them productive human beings."

The Maryland Society is an affiliate of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Barrick Talks At DeMolay Meet

Ralph Barrick, son of a missionary to India, gave a talk on his experiences in that country, during a meeting of Sanford H. Buley Chapter, DeMolay Alumni, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, last night.

Barrick spent 14 years in India. Paul May, local manager of Allegheny Airlines, showed two interesting movies during the meeting.

"Flight To Ceylon," shown in connection with Barrick's talk, was followed by "A Letter To a Pilot." Guests included Charles W. Treiber and Ralph Frantz.

The next dinner meeting of the group will be held at 6:30 p. m. April 21 with James W. Bishop, Allegany County Treasurer, as guest speaker.

Total Of 7,625 License Tags Have Been Issued

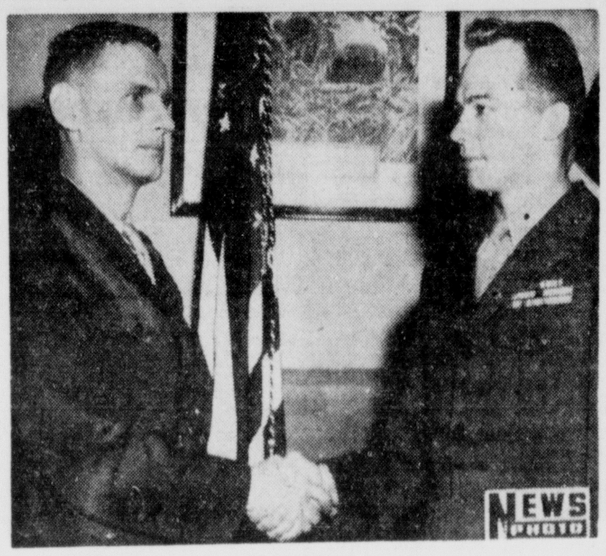
With the issuance of 420 additional automobile license tags yesterday at the office of Tax Collector Ernest B. Treat at the Court House, the total number issued thus far stands at 7,625.

This was a slight decrease from the number issued on Tuesday, which was 491. Monday's total was 506. Allegany County motorists still have about two weeks in which to purchase the 1954 tags. Deadline for use of the old tags is midnight, Wednesday, March 31.

City Registration Is Picking Up

The City Registration Office reported yesterday that 49 more persons have been added to the city's voting books this month.

Officials expect the pre-election registration rush to get under way soon and to continue until May 11, the deadline for participation in the primary June 1 and the municipal election June 15.



Change Of Command

Captain John E. Rich (left), inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, welcomes Captain H. W. Tubbs Jr., who will replace him March 26 as Regular officer assigned to the local Reserve unit.

Capt. H. W. Tubbs Jr. Gets USMCR Assignment Here

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

Captain Henry W. Tubbs Jr., 28, veteran of World War II and of the Korean conflict, has been named inspector-instructor of the 6th Special Infantry Company, USMCR, and assumes duties March 26 at the U. S. Naval and Marine Corps Training Center, McKaig's Hill.

He replaces Captain John E. Rich, who served in the same capacity here for over two years. Captain Rich will report to Quantico, Va., for assignment.

Captain Tubbs, a native of Monmouth, Ill., is residing at 110 Utah Avenue (rear), with his wife and two children, Margo Ann, 4 and Henry W. Tubbs III, age 2.

He has been in the United States Marine Corps for over ten years, having enlisted in St. Louis, Mo., March 11, 1943. After undergoing basic training at Parris Island, S. C., he spent some time "stateside," then went overseas in 1945 and was with occupation forces in North China following the end of World War II.

Captain Tubbs returned to the United States in July of 1946 and later attended Monmouth College where he received a B.A. degree in pre-law in 1949, while a member of the Reserve.

Upon graduation he accepted a second lieutenancy in the Marine Corps and reported to Quantico and from there went to Camp LeJeune, N. C., where he was a member of the Second Marine Division from August 1950 to December of 1952.

During that time he participated in training cruises in the Mediterranean, Labrador and Puerto Rican areas. He was then sent to Korea where he saw action in the front lines of several major battles.

Captain Tubbs' assignment here is his first since returning from overseas in January of this year. One of the accomplishments at the Armory while Captain Rich was here was the establishment of a pistol and rifle range used by the Marines, Navy personnel and local civilian organizations.

C Of C Group May Survey Trading Area

Six members of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce returned yesterday from Washington, following a conference with officials of the Domestic Distribution Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The men are Stuart Rosenbaum, vice president and treasurer of Rosenbaum Brothers, Inc.; Robert Little Ebert, treasurer of the S. T. Little Jewelry Company; Carroll B. Pollock, manager of Wolf Furniture Company; W. D. Timmons, manager of Peoples Service Drug Store; John H. Stitely, vice president of the Cumberland Brewing Company, and Arch M. Hutcheson, secretary of Queen City Brewing Company.

All are members of the Trade Expansion Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, of which Rosenbaum is chairman. Ebert is also chairman of the Mercantile Bureau of the local Chamber, and Stitely is a member of the Chamber's board of directors.

The group, accompanied by Anthony Saeli, local Chamber manager, conferred at length with Philip W. Clark, marketing administrator of the U. S. Chamber.

Saeli said the delegation received much useful information and advice which can be used to good advantage locally. This information, he said, may form the basis of a study to evaluate the Cumberland retail trading area.

Underwriters To Hear Social Security Talk

James Robertson, field director of the local Social Security office, will address the Cumberland Life Underwriters Association tomorrow noon at Central YMCA.

His subject will be "Present Social Security Program."

Reports are to be given at the session on the joint meeting with Cumberland, Hagerstown and Frederick Underwriters held last month. L. M. Roberson, treasurer, will also discuss action taken at a recent state association meeting in Baltimore.

The Weather

Slightly cloudy and milder weather is on the program for today, the U. S. Weather Bureau said last night after two days of moderate and clear weather. Yesterday's highest official temperature was 48 degrees, the low, 30, and humidity at 6 p. m. was 42 per cent.

Progress Noted On Pumping Unit

City officials yesterday reported good progress on the installation of a temporary pumping station at the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

The pumping station will be used, if necessary, to tap a 50-day supply of water in Lake Gordon which cannot flow by gravity into the plant after the water drops 15 feet below the spillway.

The installation is expected to be completed within a few days.

The city's water supply has been improving each week, and it is unlikely that the emergency pumping station will be needed, but the work has been rushed as an additional precaution.

Long-range plans for the improvement of the water system call for the installation of a standby pumping station, capable of pumping 18 million gallons of water daily.

VA Representative To Visit Ridgeley

A Veterans Administration representative from the West Virginia field office at Martinsburg will be at the home of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, from noon until 1:30 p. m. today.

Veterans will be advised on benefits they deserve from the government.

Students Taking Thorough Test In Auto Course

Seven Schools Are Included In Program

As part of their program to make them safer drivers, the 292 boys and girls enrolled in driver education classes in Allegany County public schools have been taking a 50-question objective test on the motor vehicle laws on Maryland.

Driver education classes are conducted in seven schools, Fort Hill, Allegany, Beall, Bruce, Carver, Mt. Savage and Valley, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer.

Similar tests have been prepared for driver education classes in other public school systems throughout Maryland. With the tests, each driver education teacher has received an answer sheet and key which facilitates prompt grading of the papers.

The questions involve a wide variety of laws, such as speed limits in various areas, and actions that should be taken after an accident. For each question the student has a choice of four answers, only one of which is correct.

Following are several of the typical questions and answer choices:

(1.) The speed limit on ordinary highways in the business section of cities, towns and villages is: (A) 35 M.P.H., (B) 20 M.P.H., (C) 15 M. P.H., (D) 25 M.P.H.

(8.) If a person collides with an unattended vehicle: (A) He must stop, look for the owner of the vehicle; if he cannot locate the owner, he may then proceed on his way. (B) He must stop, if unable to locate the owner, he must leave a written message on the car containing his name, address and license number. (C) He need not stop, but must report the accident to his insurance company within 48 hours. (D) If no one witnessed the accident, he should proceed on his way.

50.) The Maryland Financial Responsibility Law means: (A) An automobile driver must be a wage earner. (B) Drivers must carry automobile insurance. (C) Drivers must be able to post sufficient amounts of cash, security, or insurance or else forfeit their license to drive. (D) You must pay for any damage done to another's car.

(For readers who may be wondering about the answers to these three questions, they are D, B, and C, respectively).

Robb Will Head Elks Lodge 63

John M. Robb, Cumberland attorney, last night was elected exalted ruler of Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks. He succeeds Joseph F. Stakem.

Other officers elected include William J. Aumiller, esteemed leading knight; Bruce M. Mackey, esteemed lecturing knight; William E. Hixenbaugh, esteemed loyal knight; James E. Yarnall, secretary (elected for his 21st term); E. A. Dashiell, treasurer; W. M. Fricker, tiler.

John J. Blough was elected trustee for five years and George R. Lyming was named alternate to the grand lodge.

The new officers will be installed at a ceremony April 7.

Three Marine Corps Reservists Promoted

Three members of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR, at McKaig's Hill, have been promoted to Private First Class.

They are Michael A. Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Beckman; Frank S. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Snyder and Theodore R. Nines, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Nines.

The promotions were presented by Major Patsy Algieri, commanding officer of the company.

Hitchcock To Talk

Legion Marks Birthday

George F. Buskey, commander of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, cuts the post birthday cake last night as the Legion observed the 35th anniversary of its founding in 1919, just after the end of World War I. Looking on are (left to right) Frank T. Powers, national executive committeeman; J. Edward Walter, commander of the Department of Maryland American Legion, and Daniel H. Burkhardt, department adjutant.

Senator Beall To Seek Boost In Flood Funds

Area Officials Asked To Agree On Plans

Cumberland and Ridgeley officials were told yesterday that United States Senator J. Glenn Beall will try to secure an additional half million dollars for the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection project.

The information was presented yesterday by Robert L. Wadsworth chief of the Planning and Reports Branch, Corps of Engineers.

Wadsworth told the officials that Senator Beall, during a telephone conversation on the flood project, had informed him he would try to get $500,000 added to the 1954-55 appropriation.

On Tuesday, the House passed and sent to the Senate a $430,983,700 Army civil functions bill which included $600,000 for the local flood project in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Agreement Needed

Officials of Ridgeley and Cumberland yesterday were informed they must agree on a plan under which the Corps of Engineers will continue its work on the project.

Wadsworth explained the problems at a meeting in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves. He stated the corps does not care whether levee building, scheduled to begin in November, starts on the Maryland or West Virginia side but that both cities must agree on a definite plan.

Pointing out that $600,000 will be available for project work at the start of the government's next fiscal year—July 1—Wadsworth explained that a third of this money is earmarked for completion of the industrial dam, another third for a flood wall and the remainder for the levee program.

May Get Wet

Emphasizing that sufficent funds are not available for the completion of any major degree of the two-city flood project, Wadsworth said that no matter what plan is finally decided on by the two cities "it will not keep you from getting wet in the event of high water."

Should levee work start on the Maryland side of the Potomac River, high water such as in the 1936 flood—18 years ago today—would cause water to rise two and-a-half feet higher in Ridgeley, Wadsworth estimated. In comparison, Wadsworth said a levee wall on the Ridgeley side would cause the same amount of water to be approximately six inches to a foot deeper in Cumberland, only over a larger area than in 1936.

Although no definite plan was agreed on, most of the principals present seemed to favor an alternate plan that the Corps of Engineers has prepared. Nothing will be done, however, until agreement is made with the two city governments. Generally speaking, Wadsworth said the engineers favored starting work upstream.

More Interest Urged

Both Ridgeley and Cumberland representatives seemed to think that more public interest must be shown in the flood control program if the necessary funds are to be appropriated by Congress. Charles

Former Hungarian Official To Speak At Keyser College

Nicholas Nyaradi, former Minister of Finance in Hungary, will speak at a convocation Thursday, April 1, at 11 a. m. in the auditorium at Potomac State College at Keyser, W. Va.

Dr. Nyaradi is expected to present his views on some aspects of the Russian government. The topic of his talk will be "My Ringside Seat in Moscow."

This is also the title of a book he has written on his experiences while in Russia in an official capacity for his government. In addition to his speech, he will conduct seminars in the social science department throughout the day.

The visitor was formerly an active leader of the anti-communistic Small Farmers Party in postwar Hungary. He represented that party for about four years as Under-secretary of the Treasury and later Minister of Finance in the Hungarian cabinet.

Dr. Nyaradi was sent to Moscow by his government to negotiate with the Politburo on a Soviet claim of $200,000,000 against Hungary. He was there for seven months and got first-hand personal experience with three of Russia's most important leaders.

However, Dr. Nyaradi had some unpleasant and frequent contacts with Field Marshal Voroshilov, now chairman of the Presidium; Deputy Prime Minister Molotov, and Deputy Prime Minister Mikeyan, now head of economic affairs in the Russian government.

Dr. and Mrs. Nyaradi fled to America after making a desperate effort to prevent the encroachment of communism in Hungary. Since his arrival here, he has tried to "awaken American citizens to the danger and threat of Soviet imperialism and Communist infiltration" by writing for Saturday Evening Post, Fortune, The Reporter, Liberty, United Nations World, Chicago Tribune and syndicated Scripps-Howard newspapers.

In his first article, published in Saturday Evening Post, July 2, 1949, he told the American people that Russia had the atomic bomb then, months before the official announcement. He also predicted the war in Korea and other events.

CSMC Unit Will Hold Next Meeting May 9

Lurana Veteran Unit, Catholic Students Mission Crusade, has cancelled all meetings until May 12, it was announced last night by John G. Burke, corresponding secretary.

Brother G. Nicholas, F.S.C., of LaSalle High School, spoke on what he termed a flood of objectionable literature which he said has reached local newsstands.

Declaring such reading a danger to the morals of youngsters who are exposed to it, Brother Nicholas declared, "It is our duty as citizens of Cumberland and as Catholics to have this literature taken off the market and suppressed as soon as possible."

Returns To Work

Charles F. Owens, deputy smoke inspector, has returned from McGuire Veterans Hospital, Richmond, Va., to resume charge of the city's Air Pollution Department.

Later Bond Sale May Save Money

The City of Cumberland is deferring the date of sale of an upcoming $650,000 bond issue one day after the regular council meeting in hopes of getting a better break on prices.

Bids on the issues will be opened by the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, March 30, at 10 a. m. — instead of the traditional Monday morning — on the advice of the legal firm which is in charge of the bond sale.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said city officials were advised that by Tuesday the bond market has stabilized, but that conditions are often unsettled on Monday, due to uncertainties which develop over the weekend.

He said the city hopes to get a better price on the bonds through the delay, and added that other days of the week may be tried in the future.

The issues include a $150,000 Cumberland Playground bond issue authorized by a 1947 referendum, a $350,000 issue of Cumberland Urban Development Bonds of 1953 to finance the Frederick Street and other traffic projects, and a $150,000 Water Improvement bond issue authorized in 1949.

Gibson said it will be about three months before the funds are available.

The ordinance for the bond sale was prepared last August, but has been held up for some time due to an unfavorable market for tax free securities. The market improved recently, and such issues are currently selling at from 2.33 to three per cent.

Emmanuel Men Will Attend Communion

Men of Emmanuel Episcopal Church will attend a regularly quarterly corporate Communion at 8 a. m. Sunday.

Lester J. Auker, a member of the Vestry, who prepared charts on church attendance three years ago, has brought his charts up to date. He will discuss his new findings at a breakfast of the men following the Communion. Auker also will explain some of the findings of the recent diocesan survey.

County Residents Give $13,866.66 In TB Seal Sale

Statewide Figure Given In Report

Allegany County's contribution to the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale toward tuberculosis control work amounted to $13,866.66, an increase of 10.6 per cent or $1,334.40 over 1952.

The statewide amount raised by public subscription was $450,711.21, according to William B. Matthews Jr., director of the sale.

His report to the Board of Directors of the Maryland TB Association shows the amount was an increase of nine per cent over the funds raised last year.

Garrett Donations Increase

Garrett County residents contributed a total of $2,026.54 which was a 30.7 per cent increase over 1952's amount of $476.38. Of the total received during the 1953 Seal Sale, $289,064.77 was contributed in the counties of the state to the local associations and $161,646.44 in Baltimore City.

Expressing gratification over the generous public response to the 1953 sale, Dr. Russell A. Nelson, president of the Maryland TB Association, pledged a continuing vigorous tuberculosis control program, directed toward accelerating the progress made in recent decades against tuberculosis until the ultimate goal of complete eradication of the disease is achieved in Maryland.

Defining the present tuberculosis problem, Dr. Nelson expressed the concern of the Association over the growing misconception that TB is "licked" in this country and in the state.

TB Still Serious Threat

Recognizing the progress that has been made against this disease in recent decades, both nationally and locally, Dr. Nelson cited figures to show how erroneous is the conception that TB is no longer a serious threat to the health of the community.

While the deaths from TB are declining at an accelerated and gratifying rate, he said, the number of new cases reported annually to the health department are declining much more slowly. In Maryland there are about 6,500 known active cases of TB, with approximately 2,500 new cases reported annually.

More significant are the estimated 5,000 to 7,000 persons in the state who have TB and do not know they have it. These are the cases that are unknown to health authorities, and who perhaps are unknowingly spreading the disease to others.

Turkey Growers Are Urged To Cut Production

Agriculture leaders in the Tri-State area are beginning to warn turkey growers that unless they cut their production well below the numbers that now seem likely they can expect much lower prices this year.

"Now is the time to adjust turkey production to probable demand," Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has warned. "Growers, as well as feed and processing companies . . . should recognize the risks of possible overproduction and be prepared to accept the market prices for the birds which they grow this year. Turkey producers had a relatively good year in 1953 and I hope they can have another good season this year by stabilizing production."

Indications are that this year's turkey crop may be larger than last year's, and cold storage holdings of turkeys are also relatively heavy.

"Last season growers were saved from ruinous prices by a reduction in the number of turkeys raised, relatively large buying early in the season by the armed forces, good storage movement during the entire season and substantially above-normal export of turkeys to Canada," Benson emphasized.

"At the same time consumer income was at the highest on record. Lower feed prices also were responsible for a large part of producers' profit in 1953.

"Leaders of the turkey industry repeatedly have told us they do not want overproduction and price supports again."

Two years ago the Federal Government bought six per cent of the crop through a surplus removal program costing about $27 million.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Buying Plant Site Here

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company today announced that net sales during 1953 totaled $451,964,697, an all-time high, and that the company is exercising its options on 603 acres of ground in the Mexico Farms area on which it might erect a large glass plant.

The purchase price for the plant site south of Cumberland was reported to exceed $150,000, according to a statement authorized by the company and released through the Industrial Promotion department of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The annual report of the company showed that 1953 sales increased 12 per cent over 1952's $402,055,085.

Net earnings for the year were $36,864,785, equivalent to $4.07 per share, as compared with $36,771,925, or $4.07 per share reported for 1952.

Harry B. Higgins, president, stated that net earnings were affected particularly in the fourth quarter—by a substantial maintenance, repair and rehabilitation program.

According to Higgins, all divisions of the company made important contributions to the record sales year. An expanding market for both paint and glass sales through the firm's Merchandising Division was created by high volume of construction in commercial buildings and residences.

The automobile industry, the largest user of glass, produced more cars than in any year except 1950. Higgins pointed out that 1953 automobiles have more glass area per car and Pittsburgh Plate's Paint Division also supplied increased quantities of automotive finishes to the automobile manufacturing industry.

"Though the Glass, Paint and Merchandising Divisions experienced an excellent year, sales during the last quarter tended towards a somewhat lower level of activity," Higgins reported.

Sales of Columbia-Southern Chemical Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary, were higher than in any previous year. However, in common with other units of the chemical industry, sales of some products were below Columbia-Southern's manufacturing capacity.

In 1953 tax provisions amounted to $45,780,361 as compared with $46,070,828 in 1952. The combined Excess Profits Tax base for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and for Columbia-Southern Chemical Corporation in 1953 was $63,900,000 as compared with $60,500,000 in 1952. Computed on a per share basis, taxes in 1953 were equivalent to $5.05 per share, compared to payrolls of $16.06 per share and dividends of $2.25 per share.

The local statement on the Mexico Farms land acquisition continued:

"Notices of exercise of option are in process of delivery to owners of the parcels of land involved in the real estate transaction.

"Harry B. Higgins, president of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, reports that the firm's engineering department is continuing work on plans for the plant that might be constructed here. He said that actual construction of a plant as yet has not been authorized by the firm's Board of Directors."

This information means that the firm has advanced another step toward the possible location of the new plant here.

On October 29, Albert H. Hargreaves, director of industrial development for the Chamber of Commerce, reported options had been taken on the land.

It was on December 21 that Higgins announced definitely that Cumberland was one of the cities being considered as location for a plant by Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Options for the ten parcels of land comprising the plant site were good until this month, according to information contained in the eight separate papers filed in the land records office of the clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The options recorded in October are as follows:

William A. and Pauline Sowers, 13,392 square feet of land containing a five-room, two story brick dwelling, at North Branch, $8,000.

Irene M. Valentine, 259-acre farm at Mexico Farms, $60,000.

Lewis W. Bloss and Paul L. Bloss, two or three acres, District 16, $20,000.

Frank C. and Gladys May Bloss, 156 acre farm known as Old Bloss Property, Mexico Farms, $19,000.

James W. Stickley, Charity May Stickley, and Samuel S. Stickley, 99¾ acres, $10,000.

Rachel Bloss, widow of George W. Bloss, and Della Bloss and Jeremiah Bloss, 22 acres of land, $6,000.

Ronald W. Loar Sr. and Marion B. Loar, four parcels of land containing 2¼ acres, $16,000.

Stanley Junkins, Elizabeth Junkins and Lester E. Courtney, lot 75 feet by 180 feet, $12,000.

Hargreaves pointed out that he has been working with the company's officials since January 1953 and looks upon his latest development as the next logical step.

He explained that companies contemplating plant expansion must examine every facet of its economy and the relationship that the new community would have to this economy.

A complete analysis is made of all costs affecting raw material or distribution, as well as anything that could affect production costs.

South End Fire Truck To Be Delivered Soon

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long reported yesterday that the Ahrens-Fox Company has listed April 1 as the tentative date for the delivery of Cumberland's new fire truck.

The 750-gallon pumper will be assigned to South Cumberland Fire Company.
